COLUMBIA FLOOD CREST PASSES PORTLAND

Weather

Portland 77
San Francisco 60
Chicago 81
New York 78
Willamette river 2.5 feet.

FORECAST (from U.S. weather bu-reau, MuNary field, Salem); Morning fog and low cloudiness with a few late afternoon showers. High today 75, low tonight 48. Moderate winds in afternoon will hinder crop dusting oper-ations.

NINETY-EIGHTH YEAR

The Oregon Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Wednesday, June 2, 1948

Levees

Weaken,

Crumble

By James H. Ferguse

pushed in from the Pacific ocean. More dikes began crumbling before nightfall last night and army engineers listed the entire lower valley protective works as critical ley as the Pacific northwest reeled under blows of its greatest dis-

Red Cross officials announced late today that it has not accounted for about half of the 5,328 families whose homes were destroyed in the Memorial day tragedy that smashed Vanport within minutes.

day afternoon flash flood is still a

Some 50,000 are homeless in four states and property damage has soared to multi-millions of dollars.

The army corps of engineers says it is "hopeless at this time" to attempt a probable loss to property

The destruction stretches for 1,000 miles from the headwaters of the great river in the Canadian Rockies to the ocean. The river is due to remain above flood level

Officials believe the crest has moved downstream from the Portland-Vancouver, Wash., metropolitan area. The river rose to 29,9 feet in Portland at noon yesterday and held for over four hours. Then dropped to 29.3 and an hour later

Elmer Fisher, the weather bureau river forecaster, said, however, that the river stage will remain at about 29.7 feet for the next two days and not be two feet under today's peak until Saturday.

The surging river, which has flooded farm lands and towns the length of its 1,000-mile course from Canada, northern Idaho and Montana, now will throw its full weight

If they hold, the worst will be An estimated 15,000 fled to higher ground as the army ordered evacuation of districts behind weakened dikes on the last 100-

One of these dikes gave way last night, a 12-ft. breach flooding a small area near Westport, Ore.

Army engineers said only a few farms were in the area, and all persons had been evacuated before

In the entire Columbia basin there were an estimated 50,000 homeless. At least 23 were dead, mile stretch of the river.

was down to 29.7 feet.

To Remain Stationary

15,000 Evacuated

the dike broke.

How many perished in the Sun-

All now threatened areas have been evacuated since Monday The peril came to the lower val-

-but still holding.

Damages Soar

for several weeks.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2-(Wednesday) - (AP)-Cresting waters of the Columbia river's worst flood battered at dikes of the lower valley early this morning as high tide

55 Vanport Waifs Hint of Death Toll

PORTLAND, Ore., June 1 -(P)- The first indications of the possible number of dead in the Vanport disaster came tonight in a Red Cross announcement that 55 children were unclaimed after two days yet would turn up among the thousands of refugees scattered through strom and expressed her vigorous opposition to instituting daylight saving time. She thought it would be interfering with divine law and might invite such calamities as drouth or flood. One ready answer comes for that: We have measure time. One rotation of the up in succeeding days. o its axis makes up a day. and for convenience this is divided into 24 equal parts we call hours. Jews, Arabs all the world, but it has seemed more convenient to divide the globe into time zones. Since the sun travels (as we say) 15 degrees in one hour clock-time is moved back one hour for each 15 degrees of latitude flexibility in the boundary of time zones. Changes are made at the country quite wayy.

Actually we could accomplish day if only we would start the living is geared to the clock, so when the clock is moved forward or backward an hour we still regulate our day by the conven-Time, and space, have been great mysteries which (Continued on editorial page)

Senate Passes Bill to Dispose

State officials here expressed satisfaction Tuesday afternoon when Representative Harris Ells- dition the Arabs took the same worth telegraphed from Wash- step. ington, D.C., that the house had approved a bill placing the Camp White hospital facility under the federal veterans administration. The senate previously passed the Officials added that this action by congress probably would defeat the initiative bill, sponsored by State Sen. Lew Wallace of Multnomah county, democratic nominee for governor, directing the state to take over the hospital for use as a state institution.

A bill at the 1947 legislature providing that the state should take over the hospital for use as a mental institution was vetoed by the late Governor Earl Snell. Snell said he based his veto on a report of a committee which inspected the hospital and found it inadequate for institutional needs.

Animal Crackers By WARREN GOODRICH

"No! This is not a literary

Unclaimed; Gives

The Red Cross held out hope, however, that many of the parents

- Portland and as far away as Salem, 50 miles south. Richard F. Gordon, director of Pacific area disaster service, said 2,500 of the 5.328 Vanport families were accounted for through registrations at the Red Cross. Others United

Some of the other families undoubtedly have become united without Red Cross help, Gordon

The Red Cross still had no list of missing. Gordon said efforts to trace all not registered would coninue, but definite results might not be obtained for days.

Survivors said they expected the heaviest loss of life to be among children, many of whom were caught at play by water that swept in from a breached dike. Loss of Life Feared

The fact that 55 children still had all manner of disasters under were unclaimed two days after standard time, so DST would the disaster led to speculation that augment the number or loss of lives among adults might

The Red Cross cautioned, howabout clock-tampening as inter- ever, that registration was far ference with God's law. The clock from complete, and said additional 45 is merely a manmade device to hundreds undoubtedly would sign

Accept Month Palestine Truce

LAKE SUCCESS, June 1 -(AP) railroad division points nearest to The Jews and Arabs today anthe correct latitude, which makes nounced acceptance of a United the line north and south across Nations plea for a four-weeks armistice in Palestine

However their replies to the U. the same result in having the N. left unanswered such questions "extra" hour for the end of the as when the shooting would stop. Israel's acceptance was handed

> TEL AVIV, Israel, June 2 Israeli military headquarters said Egyptian troops and artillery attacked at two places this morning in violation of a cease fire order.

> The announcement said the Egyptians attacked the Jewish settlement of Negba in the south and that planes bombed the village of Hulda on the central the security council's 6 p. m. Of Camp White the security council's 6 p. m. (EST) deadline for reply. The Jews followed this up by issuing Jews followed this up by issuing consessive orders to their troops, effective at the hour (3 a. m. Wednesday, Israeli time), on con-

> The 7-nation Arab league's decision to accept the U. N. plan was given to Lie two hours ahead of the deadline but it made no mention of a cease-fire hour. The council had asked the two parties to agree to the proposals by the appointed hour. The Arab reply left open the actual time of laying down arms.

Also unanswered were the diplomatic and political questions as to whether the acceptances were unconditional. The Arabs said a detailed reply would be sent to the security council.

An Israeli spokesman insisted that his government's acceptance was unconditional. However, the Jews stipulated that they were making five assumptions about would be opened.

17 Escape as Plane Burns

OMAK, Wash., June 1-(AP)-A national guard plane wih 17 aboard crash-landed and burned flaming craft.

p.m. (PST) to fly a group of national guardsmen back to Spokane from flood duty here.

Just after the takeoff guardsman noted an engine was attempted to return to the field, fire destroyed the plane.

SALEM PRECIPITATION

To the south, the haze of Port-

Matchsticks Dikes crumpled like matchsticks as the Columbia river went on its greatest rampage in modern history this week. The above aerial photo, taken exclusively for The Oregon Statesman shortly after noon yesshows the focal flood points in the Portland area. The pictures looks to the northwest. Shown are (1) the Interstate bridge across the Columbia's regular channel; (2) Jantzen beach, its roller-coaster barely visible to the right of the numeral; (3) what was Vanport, once Oregon's second - largest city (the original breakthrough was just out of the picture above the numeral) and also showing the submerged stockyards to the right in the same area: (4) Monday night's break-through land in the 100 miles from Portof Denver avenue which let the enslaught into plush Portland Meadows race track land to the sea. and environs and where a car of the Portland General Electric company was swept away when it hit the gap; (5) the Portland Meadows grandstand, and (6) the however, the river will be a threat. Tuesday break-through of Union avenue which cut the final approach to the Interstate bridge and let the water complete its great semi-circle sweep back to the slough paralleling its regular channel. (Statesman aerial pictures also on page 3).

Panoramic Portrayal of 28 Marines, day's work an hour earlier. But it is easier to change the clock than to change he described than to change he may be seed to the second than to change he may be seed to secretary-General Trygve Lie approximately four hours ahead of the second to the sec

SMALL FLOOD VICTIM

W. Luntsford.

scene Tuesday.

flood area

REPUBLIC, Wash., June 1-(AP)

An 18 - month - old baby boy

McMINNVILLE TO SWITCH

By Conrad Prange

Staff Writer, The Statesman

Salem was high and dry, but still

Red Cross here changed its em-

Salem's airport was a hub of activity, with all Portland airline centering here. (Story on page 12) agencies were in the thick of relief activity or standing by in readiness. At the statehouse messages arrived from distant points offer-Several truckloads of food and clothing were dispatched from here to the flood area Monday and Tuesday. Clothing collection at the veterans housing colony alone was Salem Red Cross officials learned in Portland Red Cross heading aid. (Story on page 7).

valued at $100,000.

Salvation army and other local phasis from food and clothing to cash contirbutions and volunteer

By Wendell Webb Managing Editor, The Statesman

ABOVE THE COLUMBIA, June 1 at 1 p. m. - Photographers have done a valiant job to portray the mighty tragedy of flood but only a first-hand view can bring full realization of its awfulness. And then it can't be adequately described.

Right now we are flying westward in bright sunshine above the Columbia. To the inexpert eye, its actual channel is hard to locate. Water spreads through clumps of homes and barns looks like rafts. Looming to the left is Portland's deserted airport, water lapping at its bordering road. Dark, widening fingers on the clay soil show the field's northwest corner slowly succumbing to the flood. Across the massive river two rusty destroyers are moored helplessly at a dock, now well out into the trees for miles. Roof tops of farm

Further on to the left we spot the Portland Meadows race track or, rather, the grandstand. The track is under several feet of water. The huge wall of an amphitheatre sticks up from the muddy mass nearby.

Jantzen Beach Then comes Jantzen Beach, the play spot of the northwest. The gray roller-coaster points gauntly toward the sky. Its base is wellburied and only a submarine could negotiate its once-thrilling dips.

Behind Jantzen beach to the south is the flood's most grotesque victim and the once-large city of victim - - the once-large city of Vanport. A few water tanks rear their heads from the murky lake. Contributions from Food, Clothing to Money Clumps of huge barracks are scat-Clumps of huge barracks are scattered here and there, their roofs the plan, including one that the at crazy angles and debris clinging food supply route to Jerusalem all around like hair on great float> dows barely are visible, looking very much in the Oregon flood like the half-opened eyes of a floundering sea-monster. Breaks Plainly Visible

The breaks in the dikes are plainly visible. First to the west drivers for relief in the Vanport is the one which let the swirling waters drown Vanport late Sunday. A mile or so to the east a today without loss of life. One man huge gap in Denver avenue shows passenger and airmail operations was trampled in the rush from the how Portland Meadows succumbed to catastrophe late last night, The plane, A C-47 out of Mc- and then through Union avenue Chord field, took off about 5:30 another break, apparently still crumbling, tells all too well what happened in the wee hours today to complete the destruction on the one river's south side. These three muddy-watered areas from the air afire. The pilot was notified and look much like half a pumpkin pie, marked into three parts with two miles away. He pancaked the strips of chocolate frosting for burning craft to the landing strip roads, and liberally sprinkled with and the men got safely out. The pepper, sugar and every other shade of grainy spice which once were homes and industries.

> land settles peacefully and the ent, but began receiving cash do- assist for a few days in Portland Willamette ribbons its way through nations for aid direct to the flood to register immediately. the city apparently without furore area. National Red Cross head-

Launch Sinks

NORFOLK, Va., June 1-(AP)-The navy announced tonight that 28 sailors and marines were believed lost in the swamping of a launch in Hampton Roads.

marines, the navy said, were un-- albeit backed up and much too accounted for. The men were attached to a 12-ship task force and high for the comfort of the waterwere among an estimated 90 men swept into the choppy seas last A last glimpse of the worst stricken area shows an incongru- night when their lanuch swamped while they were returning from ous sign. High above a waterflanked shipyard, it reads: "Safe- liberty to the force flagship, the aircraft carrier Kearsarge. The 50-foot open launch was swamped only several hundred yards from the flattop which was anchored in Hampton Roads two miles off the Norfolk naval sta-was drowned today in the floodwaters of a creek near the home The disaster delayed sailing of of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. the task force from 5 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. (EST). The force is going to the Mediterranean to relieve a similar squadron.

McMINNVILLE, Ore., June 1 Several other launches and pick-(AP)- The city council voted to- et boats sped to the scene of the

Susan Faherty, Salem thapter manager, and Charles Huggins, local executive board member, conferred Tuesday with Portland Red Cross officials supervising the Due to the generosity of Port-nurses to stand by if needed. Local nurses are asked to register with Mrs. Bernice Yeary at the county

Because cars and drivers are Cities all over the county con- and two children

Vanport city flood disester.

the Portland officials stated.

Marion county.

health office.

City Council to Vote On Daylight Saving

yesterday by Mayor R. L. Elfstrom who called a special city council meeting at which he will recommend the time change.

The aldermen will meet at 8 o'clock tonight, just prior to an earlier scheduled city budget meeting for the budget committee which Eighteen navy personnel and 10 includes the mayor, seven aldermen and eight other citizens. The meeting will be at Salem Chamber of Commerce hall.

Friday

Would Cut Confusion

Only 4 Oppose

River Nears 1894 Record

PORTLAND, June 1 -(AP)- The indicates general favor for such a Columbia river flood today neared change. the record of the famed 57-day

At its height the 1894 flood sent 1,170,000 cubic feet of water rolling downriver each second.

The flow at Bonneville dam fusion resulting from the new reached 1,030,000 feet a second to- time in Portland and other parts gest immediate problem. day. Engineers said the normal of the state. Telephone calls for flow is 200,000 feet a second.

They added the damage would night to switch McMinnville to accident, which was witnessed far out - strip the 1894 record, time reading in daylight saving daylight saving time at midnight from the carrier, and rescued 65 because of the tremendous downriver growth since then.

Elfstrom to Recommend Plan Tonight

Possibility of daylight saving time for Salem by Friday was seen apart from Vanport. So precarious was the condition of the dikes that engineers feared the wake of a ship might collapse them. The army ordered all craft off the river from Portland to the ocean-100 miles away. The river will remain closed to shipping at Several of the aidermen were least three days, Col. O. E. Walsh, reported Tuesday to favor the district engineer said switch to daylight saving time, and Truman Orders Aid the mayor himself said the flood

President Truman ordered full of inquiries at the Salem Chamber federal aid for the stricken area. of Commerce and local businesses He asked recommendations for additional legislation to meet the emergency.

Elfstrom will request that the The Red Cross directed relief change in time be made at 1 a. m. work. Food and clothing poured in from volunteers. Thousands took refuge in churches and schools. Conferences were expect-The time change for Salem ed shortly between state and fedwould eliminate considerable coneral agencies on housing-the big-

Another dike break Monday added to the complications of the the correct time, for example, search. The water at Vanport bring Salem telephone users the crashed through a fill into a large area to the east. Vanport apartments floated through the gap, Manager Harry V. Collins of some smashing to pieces. Bodiesthis district of Pacific Telephone if any-were scattered so widely it & Telegraph Co. said this happens was feared they might never be in Salem because the station an-landers for aid given refugees.

separate flood ripped through

British Columbia's Fraser River valley. Premier Byron Johnson declared a state of emergency there.

Property damage was listed at $20,000,000 in the valley. Conditions were improving, however, as recovered. swering time calls (at 2-8900) is Portlanders Praised The Red Cross praised Portgoing directly into the Portland

> Still to feel the brunt of the water downstream are Woodland,

An informal poll on daylight Kelso, Kalama, and Longview, saving at Salem Kiwanis club's Wash, and Rainier and Clatskanluncheon attended by more than ie, Ore. The water already was 100 Tuesday showed only four into Woodland, Kalama, South hands raised in opposition to a Kelso and Clatskanie. The towns were evacuated without loss of change to that time in Salem. life. No damage was expected in The state board of control, meanwhile, decided to keep hands the main part of Kelso or at Long-Three hundred miles to the north off time changing, and decreed that state offices would use the time system operating in communities where the offices are located. This indicated that the many state offices here would go on daylight saving immediately, if the city council ordered the change for municipal purposes. the Fraser river run-off began in Portland, the calls from Salem

WASHINGTON, June 1 - (AP) The United States made another attempt today to get talks going Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lott and renewed a demand that Trieste be given back to Italy.

Officials who helped draft the Trieste note-fourth on the subject-told a reporter it would test Russia's newly proclaimed desire poration in Spokane and Portland Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Norton to reach an understanding with its relief: funds were being increased from $250,000 to $1,000,-000. The federal housing authority said it was bringing in trailers from as far away as Arizona and with Russia over a trouble spot. It New Mexico to provide homes for the refugees. Plans were being drawn up for another housing project as a possible replacement for Vanport. The Reconstruction Finance Corsaid loans would be made to assist flood victims.

Relief Funds Boosted At Portland the Red Cross said

quarters authorized the cash aid tributed approximately $100,000 plan on a voluntary basis, but said worth of clothing after Housing no concerted drive for funds would Project Manager Joseph Hopkins be launched. Cash contributions issued an appeal. The Salem Salare accepted by the Red Cross vation Army, veterans and civic office here or by any bank in organizations, and local Red Cross officials combined forces.

Capt. Robert Lesher of the Salvation Army said that some clothing was retained here so that flood evacuees living with Salem relatives could secure clothing at the army headquarters at 241 State st. The Red Cross also reported that it had registered several more evacuee families in Salem Tues-100. Flood evacuees who have not are asked to do so immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Herons and two children.

quarters Tuesday that no more area the Salem chapter is asking food or clothing is needed at pres- any motor corps members who can hree children land residents, housing for evacuees is not longer a problem either, day. The number now totals nearly At present, Miss Faherty said, registered with the Red Cross here U.S. Note to Reds Renews nurses are not needed in Portland Those who registered Tuesday Trieste Issue Demands from outside areas. But the Marion county and other chapters are included: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deneka and asked to compile a list of volunteer Dennis Ernst.

needed in the Multnomah county Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Henderson. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fehler and