Dick Gentzkow Sold; Burgher Makes Debut

By Al Lightner Tacoma's league leading Tigers caught the town Senators with the lower portion of their pitching staff showing last night at Waters field, got a pair of well-pitched games themselves and downed the locals in both ends of the doubleheader, 6-3 and 5-3. Thus the big ninegame week at home with the top two WIL clubs started out on the wrong foot. The double loss dropped the Solons into a fourth place tie with Victoria and the wins hiked the Tigers' leading margin to three games over second place Bremerton.

Two more of these important struggles tonight, starting at 6:30 | o'clock, and it will be Lefty Kenny Wyatt and Big Jim Olson with Manager Jack Wilson's hill assignments. Wyatt, in making his home debut of the season, will be after Jim Brillheart wall offer Kon Con y

Although their pitching and plate punch sagged, the Salems did give the wee gathering of 946 an example of their league-leading defensive ability, Both Al Spacter and Mel Nunes, who seem bent on proving they're tops at their trade with the leather in the WIL, turned in some dandy plays. So did Danny Perlmutter, Tiger center-fielder, who covered his pasture almost as completely as did the green grass. He hauled down three terrific liners by Eddie Barr in the first game alone.

The deal is not yet closed but is certain to go through-meaning that Bob (Tex) Keel and Wainer Rosten are set to sell the Capitol Alleys to a group of local pin enthusiasts. The Capitol operators have been the recipient of several offers for their popular pin layout and considered the latest just too good to turn down. Both Tex and Wainer think highly of Salem as a town and also are enthusiastic over the bowling future here, but as soon as the transaction is completed both plan to head south into climes which are less conducive to physical miseries during the wintertime. Needless to say, a large block of local citizens are going to be mighty sorry to see the pair take leave for Keel and Rosten had the necessary savvy for operating a bowling set-up and also were instrumental in building the alley game into a mighty popular sport hereabouts . . . Incidentally Tex and Wainer will be bringing Joe Wilman to town June 26th, strictly for the benefit of local wheelers. As Keel says, "It'll be a little gesture of appreciation for the support given us by the bowlers" . . . Might mention, too, that among the accomplishments credited to the Keel-Rosten partnership is the biggest and richest state meet on record.

More Midgets Due Saturday

Barring additional road washouts in the Vancouver and southern Washington area the remainder of this week, there should be from five to a dozen more buzz buggies on hand for Jimmy Ryan's fourth midget auto racing program of the season Saturday night at Hollywood bowl. Now that roads across the Columbia river are again passable, cars and drivers from Seattle, Tacoma and other Washington points can be expected to enter the Salem races on Saturday nights, Flood waters have kept most of these operators away, and have been responsible for the appearance of from 13 to 17 cars only in each of the first three programs.

There are a number of top-rate drivers and cars in the Tacoma-Seattle area who will race here as soon as practical. At any rate, the "big four" of the local season thus far-Bob Gregg, Gordy Youngstrom, Howard Osborne and Lou Shermanwith Salem's Max Humm a close fifth, will be back for Saturday's whirl. Gregg is out in front of the individual point race with 106, following his main event win last week. Youngstrom, Osborne, Sherman and Humm follow the Camas, Wash., cyclone in that order. The addition of the new buggies from Washington will make the going much tougher on those who have been snatching the wins at Hollywood COAST LEAGUE bowl thus far.

Bomber Still Sucker For Right Hand Punch

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 15-(AP)-For a man who says he 'expects to win quick," Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis still is shockingly easy to hit with a straight right hand.

This chink in the Brown Bomber's armor was quite evident today as he went four rounds with assorted sparmates in preparation for his title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott at Yankee stadium June 23. Dick Hagan, an ex-Golden Glove heavyweight champ from Ray Robinson, knockout winner Chicago, scored consistently with a right shot to the head before over 58 of his 88 foes in an eight-Tiger Roy Taylor, a 180-pounder from New York, put on a cagy imitation of Walcott.
