

Miss Riches, Mr. Lindbeck Married

Blue and white delphinium and pink snapdragons banked the altar and chancel of St. Paul's Episcopal church Friday night for the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Riches, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thomas Riches, and Albert Warner Lindbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindbeck. It was at 8 o'clock that the Rev. George H. Swift performed the nuptials. Mrs. Frances Allen was the soloist and Miss Ruth Bedford the organist. The aisle was lighted with candles by Jody Bush and Anne Woodmansee, who wore pink and blue frocks.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Mrs. Mervin Mickenham and Miss Artie Phillips, as bridesmaids, and Mrs. Raymond Bond, the matron of honor. They wore identically styled frocks of taffeta made with full skirts, long bodices, short sleeves and matching mitts. In their hair were braided coronets of taffeta with bows in back the color of their dresses. The honor attendant wore pink and the bridesmaids had mist blue gowns. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of blue and pink Esther Reed daisies.

Walking immediately before the bride was her niece, Susan Riches, who wore a floor length pink dimity frock with lace ruffling trim and a pink bonnet. She carried a small nosegay.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a handsome gown of white taffeta made en train. The fitted bodice was designed with a high neckline enhanced with iridescent beading and seed pearls and long sleeves. The full skirt was shirred up in front to reveal rows of pleated ruffling. Her fingertip length veil of French tulle cascaded from a coronet of iridescent beading. She carried a white prayer book marked with an orchid.

Brother Is Best Man

Lt. Comm. John Lindbeck of San Diego stood with his brother as best man and seated the several hundred guests in the rooms of the Riches, R. L. Riches, brothers of the bride, and William DeSouza.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Riches selected a powder blue shadow print gown and flowered hat of pink bouvardia and shattered carnations. Mrs. Lindbeck attended her son's marriage in a smoke blue crepe gown and sand-colored hat with beige ribbon trim.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the Riches home on North Summer street. At the door were Mrs. Russell Bonesteel and Mrs. Lynn Lambeth. Pouring were Mesdames Karl Heinlein, A. D. Woodmansee, Estes L. Morton and Joseph Chambers. Mrs. Frank Morgan cut her niece's cake. At the punch bowls were Mesdames Farley Morgan, Warren Pohle, Ralph Campbell and Harry Schenk. Assisting were Mesdames Raymond Bell, J. J. Morrell, William Porter, James T. Brand, L. M. Nickerson, Roswell L. Beach, Portland Misses Roberta Meyer, Jeanne Hoffman, Donna Whitely and Joyce Armstrong.

Mr. Lindbeck and his bride have gone to the coast on their honeymoon and for going away she donned a two-piece floral print in shades of blue and white on a black background, a white starched lace t-t with black ribbon trim, short white coat and white accessories. The couple will be at home in Salem at 893 Bellevue.

Table Contest Today

Event of today will be the Spinster table setting contest, with tables arranged in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel. The interested public is invited to view the tables between 2 and 9 o'clock. Judging will take place at noon. Additional entries have been made by Mrs. Jerald S. Backstrand, Mrs. Arthur Fisher, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. William McElhinny and the Salore club.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Schlesinger go congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Lynn, on June 14 at the Salem Memorial hospital. The little girl, who weighed eight pounds, one ounce, has an older brother, Miles. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Max D. Schlesinger of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ailinger of Los Angeles.

Girl Scouts will go to Pleasant Grove near Aumsville on their "Gallivant" next Tuesday. Girls are to meet at the First Presbyterian church at 10:30 a.m. They are to bring plate, cup and spoon and pocket knife, but no food. They will cook lunch out of doors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kelm are the parents of a son, Richard, born on Friday morning at the Salem General hospital. The little boy weighed eight pounds, six ounces.

Piano pupils of Pearl Osterman Jory, former Salem resident, were presented in a recital at her studio in Albany.

Travelers, Visitors Of Note

Travelers and visitors, their whereabouts and destinations, are the topic of conversation during the summer months.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Payne is Mrs. Laura Gerren of Fort Smith, Arkansas. Mrs. Gerren has been attending the National Credit Women's Breakfast club convention at Banff of which she is a past president, having served in 1944. Mrs. Gerren will be in the capital over the weekend and will leave for her home on Monday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague are their cousins, Mrs. Ralph Overholser of Iowa City, Iowa, and Mrs. Sam Walters of Ellensburg, Wash. The Spragues will entertain their guests this weekend at their summer place, Theford Lodge on the Little Fork of the North Santiam.

Arriving in the capital by plane today will be Mrs. Willard White and children, Susan, Barbara and Terry Ann, of Philadelphia. They will be met at McNary Field by Mrs. White's sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Pott. Mrs. White and the children will go on to Portland for a visit with her parents and her husband's mother, Mrs. Clarence White. They plan to be in the west a month and will also visit in Salem at the Potts home.

Visitors in Capital
Weekend guests at the home of Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., will be Mrs. Clyde Mount of Oregon City. Also visiting at the McGilchrist home is her nephew, Wallace Harding of Seattle. He will return north on Monday, where he is attending the summer session at the University of Washington.

David W. Eyre and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Johnson will have as their weekend guests the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Eyre, Jr., and children, Conrad and David Lawrence, of Portland. Conrad will remain for a week at the home of her grandfather and uncle and aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. James Linn are being welcomed home from a month's motor trip east which took them to Champaign, Ill., to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magnus, where Mr. Linn celebrated his 81st birthday. They returned home via the southern route.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ratcliff this week was Mrs. Gertrude Macomber of Burlingame, Calif., who was returning south from a trip to Alaska. Thursday Mrs. Ratcliff entertained Mrs. Macomber and Mrs. Vera Shattuck at luncheon at Silver Creek Falls lodge.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tschudy left Friday for Seattle following a 10-day stay in the capital as guests of Dean and Mrs. Melvin Geist. The Tschudys will visit in Belknap and Idaho with their parents, before leaving for New York, from where they will sail late in July for their home in Venezuela.

Louise Hill A Bride

Miss Louise Hill became Carl W. Ostrin's bride Friday night at the Calvary Baptist church with Dr. Charles Durden performing the 8:30 o'clock nuptials. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Hill and was given in marriage by her father. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ostrin. The altar was banked with baskets of pink peonies and white and blue delphinium. Miss Bernice Kleiheg was the soloist.

Of white satin was the bridal gown, designed with a court train, sweetheart neckline, lace yoke and long, pointed sleeves. Her tulle veil was arranged with a coronet and she carried a bouquet of staphenotis, pink sweetpeas and pink orchids.

Mrs. Tom Stevenson was the bride's only attendant and wore a blue net full skirted frock with cap sleeves. She carried a fan of pastel sweetpeas and wore a wreath of the flowers in her hair. Mr. Stevenson was best man and ushers were Roy Ostrin, Harold Hill and Lyman Sundin, Jr.

Mrs. Hill wore a black gown with white accessories for the wedding and Mrs. Ostrin's gown was of navy blue and white accessories. Their corsages were of pink rubrum lilies.

The couple greeted their guests at a reception in the church parlors. Mrs. Helen Goodenough presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Fred Hill cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Harold Hill, Mrs. David Tolle, Mrs. Norman Yagle and Mrs. Chester Ladd.

After a wedding trip to the beach the couple will be at home in Salem at 1652 S. 13th street. For going away the bride wore a grey tulle with navy and white accessories.

Mrs. Elmer Conn entertained the Fidelis class of the First Baptist church at her home at Brooks on Thursday. Mrs. Frank Correll led the devotions and a social hour followed the business session.

Rites Read At Church

At the First Congregational church Friday night Miss Eria Mae Davenport, daughter of Mrs. Olga E. Davenport and William R. Davenport, became the bride of John C. Eagleson of Eddyville, Ore., son of Mrs. Alice Swanner of Eddyville. The Rev. Dudley Strain performed the 8 o'clock nuptials. Reid Shelton sang and Jean Hobson Rich was the organist. Lighting the tapers were Dean Davenport and Frank Ransom. Pink and white gladioli and peonies decorated the altar.

Mr. Davenport gave his daughter in marriage and she wore a white marquisette gown designed with panel insertion of lace and long sleeves. The full skirt and train were enhanced with a wide marquisette ruffle and the square neckline of the dress was outlined with lace and ruffling of the marquisette. A lace Juliet cap held in place her fingertip veil and she carried a crescent bouquet of pink roses, gardenias and staphenotis. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Dean R. Davenport was the honor attendant and wore a pastel aqua marquisette dress with ruffled bodice and skirt. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of yellow roses, bouvardia and white snapdragons. She wore an open crown white straw hat and long white gloves. Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Davenport and Miss Esther Lenaburg, who wore pink and yellow marquisette frocks respectively, made similar to the honor attendant's. They had matching open crown hats and carried colonial nosegays of sweetpeas and roses.

Boyd Eagleson was his brother's best man and ushers were Frank Ransom, Dean Davenport and Ralph Eagleson.

Mrs. Davenport wore a pastel blue dress with black accessories and corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Swanner's ensemble was of maroon with black accessories. Her flowers were white roses.

A reception followed in the fireplace room. Mrs. Edith Spent cut the cake and Mrs. Lloyd Fleenor poured. Assisting were Mesdames Ralph Maddy, Alfred Henne and Richard Oran.

The couple have gone south to California, Nevada and Mexico on their honeymoon and for traveling the bride wore an aqua suit with short jacket, pink feathered hat and gloves and white accessories. To her short, white top coat she pinned a corsage of pink roses and gardenias. After July 1 the newlyweds will be at home in Corvallis at the Wilson Woods apartments.

Christening On Tuesday

Steven and Sally Schenk, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schenk, were christened on Tuesday night in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church with the Rev. George H. Swift officiating at the 7 o'clock services.

Senator and Mrs. Eugene Marsh of McMinnville are godparents for Steven and Mrs. Irvin A. McCoy of Portland will be godparents for their niece, Sally. A buffet supper at the Schenk home on North Summer street followed the christening.

Betrothal, Date Set

Engagement news today concerns the betrothal of Miss Ann Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Becker, to Edwin Cater, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cater, all of Salem. No date has been set for the wedding.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy. Her fiancé served in the navy during the war and is now in business in Salem.

To Wed in July
Wedding bells will ring on Sunday, July 11 for Miss Norma Schiske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Schiske of Lebanon, and William R. Habernicht, son of Mrs. W. L. Habernicht and the late Mr. Habernicht. The rites will take place at the Methodist church in Lebanon at 3 o'clock with a reception following. The couple's engagement was announced a year ago.
