Courthouse Courtroom Needs Planned

Definite recommendations for law court plans in the proposed new Marion county courthouse were made Saturday morning at the courthouse commission for making recommendations to the courthouse architects, outlined the need for four courtrooms to be used by the circuit court. Three are planned to be 25x40 feet in are planned to be 25x40 feet in dimensions and the fourth to be 40x60 feet, with seating for 200 spectators. Also planned is a 40x40 foot room to house the county law library Judges of imbers are planned to have accesses to the courtrooms as well as private entrances. Consultation rooms, lawyers' lobby, witness assembly rooms, jury rooms and dormitory.

Final County Budget Meet Set Wednesday

No changes in the Marion county budget levy for 1948-49 are p.m. and evening. Pay 50c per carrier. forseen in the final open meeting Wednesday of the county budget committee according to Marion County Judge Grant Murphy Sat-

Marion county's levy will fall in line with the 6 per cent levy increase limitation, as finally approved by a six-man county budget committee a month ago. This will be under the $963,328 ceiling.

The entire outlay for county purposes including the $200,000 special courthouse levy for the year and revenues other than tax levies will exceed $2,500,000. Judge Murphy said that deletions may be made upon consideration of any proposals made but that any additions could not be made unless some other portion of the budget were to be deleted. However, he added, he expects no changes.

Office-Residence For Stayton Man Being Built

STAYTON, June 26-Construcoffice of the most modern type is under way here by Dr. Theo Stuckart at 1035 Third street and is to be ready for occupancy by September 1.

The building will be 36 by 40 and built so that it may later be an office building while a separate residence is constructed. It will have reverse heat and cool temperature regulation, first of the kind in Stayton. The heat out take well has just been completed, the second to be dug. Rock was struck at 19 feet with the first well after having gone through sand and it will be used for the outgoing water.

A fire proof room for storage of filing cabinets and all records is another feature. It is to be built of pumic stone blocks and will have exterior venetian blinds, also an inovation here. The office
