Miss Lusk To Marry Today

A number of Salem people will motor to Portland this afternoon for the marriage of Miss Margaret Addison Lusk, daughter of Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Hall S. Lusk, and Edgar Framm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Framm of Auerbach, Germany.

The ceremony will take place at St. Thomas More chapel at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Joseph E. Vanderbeck officiating.

Judge Lusk will give his daughter in marriage and for her wedding she has chosen a traditional cream satin gown with fingertip veil and will carry a crescent bouquet of bouvardia and gardenias. The bride will be attended by her three sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Appleman (Polly Lusk) of Kendrick, Colo., as matron of honor, and Miss Mary and Miss Jeanne Lusk as bridesmaids. The honor attendant will wear yellow chiffon and the other two will be gowned in blue chiffon. They will all carry bouquets of gerbera daisies.

Suzanne Carson, the junior attendant, will wear a blue Empire dress and carry an old fashioned nosegay. Klans Rotberg will stand with the groom as best man.

A reception at the Lusk home on S. W. Riverside drive will follow the nuptials. Presiding at the urns and serving the ices will be Mrs. James T. Brand of Salem, Mrs. MacCormac Snow, Mrs. Roland Mersereau and Mrs. Eugene Rockey of Portland.

Mr. Framm and his bride will go north to British Columbia on their wedding trip, and after July 19 will be at home in San Francisco at 355 Tara street. Mr. Framm is with the Bank of America in the bay city. For traveling she will wear a beige suit with cocoa brown accessories.

Among those who will attend the Portland rites are Judge and Mrs. James T. Brand, Mr. Charles A. Sprague, Mrs. Percy R. Kelly, Miss Dorothy Cornelius, Miss Elise Schroeder and Judge and Mrs. George Rossman.
