Bible Conference To Conclude with Sunday Services
The Maranatha Bible conference, conducted this week on the Salem College and Academy campus, will conclude Sunday, it was announced Friday.

Public rallies have been held on the campus each night this week with Dr. Robert Belton of the Kansas City Bible school as the principal speaker.

Two sessions will be held Sunday. A missionary rally is slated to start at 8 p.m. with O. R. Zimmerman, African Inland Mission representative from Bellingham, Wash. speaking. Night services will begin at 7:45 o'clock with Dr. Belton delivering the address. A mass choir from the four Salem and Dallas churches participating in the conference will sing.

County to Vacate Portion of Street
A portion of Mill street lying between Emma street and the county road at Mehama will be vacated by Marion county, the county court ruled Friday after no protests were received in a public hearing.

A petition filed with the court by Mehama school district directors requested that the land be vacated for use as residential property and by school district 74 "as a benefit to the school property."

The directors, Ira Kirsch, Delbert Bailey and Harry Monroe, stated that the land involved is an unincorporated area and has never been used by the public for travel.

South River Road to Get Added Stretch of Oiling
County road crews will start oiling operations Monday on a two-mile section south of the paved part of South River road, Commissioner Roy Rice said Friday.

The crews Thursday finished oiling two miles of the highway between Turner and Battle Creek and will finish work on two miles of the Skyline road near Prospect Hill today.

Miller's Reveal New Sections

Departments, Cafeteria Show Modern Design
Featuring the latest in merchandising design and decorating, the Miller Mercantile Co. Friday opened its newly remodeled basement department, the first step in a long-range remodeling plan for the entire store.

A new cafeteria with smart lounge-like seating and decorated in the new solid colors under the management of Ralph Nohlgren will provide a resting and refreshment place for weary shoppers. The neoprene upholstered seats are backed by planters with colorful indoor plants and blooms. An infants' and children's wear department is done in traditional powder blue and pinks, enlivened by illustrations of circus and farm animals.

Other features of the $75,000 remodeling program include appropriate sections, knitting and art needlework department, housewares, linen and bedding shops, shoe repair shop, and gift wrapping counters.

Future plans call for remodeling the rest of the store, a floor at a time, over a period of several years, according to Manager B. E. Sisson.

Car Strippers Activity Noted
After a recent epidemic of house and store robberies, city police received five reports Friday of larcenies from autos parked in various parts of the city.

James Woodroff, 1665 N. 18th st., reported that fender skirts and a backup light were taken from his car parked in the 200 block on South Church street Thursday night. A snooper light was also torn loose but not taken, Woodroff, told police.

Robert Dunn, 163 E. Miller st., reported a rear view mirror missing from his car parked at home Friday night. Hub caps were taken from cars belonging to Lester Miller, 580 N. Liberty st., Harlen Miller, 1965 N. 5th st., and Helen Wilcox, 1496 Court st., parked near their homes over Thursday night, police reported.

Permits Issued For 4 Houses
Bresco, Inc. was authorized Friday by the city engineer's office to build three new houses on Biller avenue in the Tryon addition at the north edge of the city. The three houses are to cost $7,000, $6,700 and $6,000 and are to be located at 690, 610 and 419 Biller ave., respectively, the permits indicate.

A $15,000 home and garage was authorized Friday by the city engineer to Robert Knipe at 2590 Sunrise ave. Other permits went to L. W. Hann to alter an apartment house at 1491 N. Cottage st., $2,000; American Legion, 2590 S. Commercial st., to install a sprinkler system, $4,000; Mrs. M. Hoffman to alter a dwelling at 1251 Mission st., $1,000; Walter Blair to alter a house at 1225 N. 18th st., $1,200, and to N. F. Anderson to alter a house at 1424 Ferry st., $2,000.

Surprised Citizens Assured Delicate Pink Won't Stay
Many of Salem's residents blinked in mild surprise Thursday when painters began to apply a delicate shade of pink on the west side of the Livesley building at Liberty and State streets.

The new officer is married and the father of two boys, five and one years of age. Through the aid of the Salem Chamber of Commerce he was able to locate a house and has already moved his family to Salem. Morey said he expects to remain in Salem for at least one year.

One of Burgundy's most famous vineyards dates back to and is named after the Emperor Charlemagne who lived toward the end of the seventh century.

Dr. Niles Dies After Stroke In Courtroom

Dr. Gussie Annice Niles, late resident of 495 N. Winter st., died Friday night in a local hospital following a stroke suffered Wednesday in Polk county circuit court where she was testifying in an accident case.

Dr. Niles was born in York, Neb., the daughter of Gustavus F. and Ida L. Niles. The family came to Oregon in 1904 and Dr. Niles had resided in Salem since then.

She attended Salem public schools, Oregon State college and Willamette university, later obtaining her medical degree at the University of Oregon Medical School in 1925. Her period of internship was spent at the Women's and Children's hospital in San Francisco. Since then she had practiced in Salem when she was also connected with many civic and medical enterprises.

Dr. Niles served on the staffs of Salem General hospital and Salem Memorial hospital in various capacities during her practice here. She was president of Salem Memorial hospital group in 1946 and at the time of her death was serving her third term as secretary of the Marion-Polk county medical society.

She held memberships in the First Presbyterian church and Chadwick chapter, Order of Eastern Star, of which she was past worthy matron.

Survivors are her mothers, Mrs. Ida L. Niles; a sister, Mrs. Belle N. Brown; a brother, Glenn C. Niles; and also two nieces, all of Salem.

Funeral services are to be held Monday, at 3 p.m. at the Clough-Barrick chapel with Dr. Chester Hamblin officiating.

Some of the famed wineries of Europe produce as much in an entire year as a small California winery bottles in a day.

Winner

Mrs. Margaret Simmons (above), Salem, division manager of Sears Roebuck corsetry department, won the Pacific Coast Charmade corset merchandising contest and will have a two-weeks' free trip to Chicago. Mrs. May Morgan, Sears nationally-known corsetiere, flew to Salem to congratulate her.

Berry Workers Still Needed in Silverton Area
Strawberry pickers are still needed in the Silverton Hills area where the harvest will not be finished for more than a week, William H. Baillie, Oregon state employment service manager in Salem, announced Friday.

Baillie said the need for pickers in the hills area is so great that labor is being hauled in from Portland. Baillie also stated that cherry pickers are still wanted as the harvest hit the half-way mark Friday.

Farmers will continue to send trucks to pick up labor at the employment office each morning between 6 and 7:30 o'clock.

Weed Cutters Show Gains In Campaign

The city's annual weed clearing program is well under way, with approximately 100 properties in all sections of Salem cleared as a result of city action.

Thomas Churchill, employed by the city engineer's department this summer to head the weed clearing project, said Thursday the department already has notified about 150 property owners that their property is in need of weed cutting. Most of these notices followed city inspection upon complaint of neighbors.

If property owners so notified do not respond within five days, city crews cut the weeds and the engineer's office bills the owner of the property where work was done.

Churchill said city crews have cut weeds in about 50 places and property owners who were notified have cut weeds in another 50 locations. On the weed detail are two crews, one a burning crew and the other with a power mower.
