West Salem Lions Install New Officers

New officers of the West Salem Lions club and auxiliary were installed Friday night in a joint ceremony at the West Salem city hall.

O. C. Brown was seated as president of the men's club, succeeding Charles Ramp, with Al Lamb, past district governor, presiding as installing officer.

Other new officers installed were Robert Covert, 1st vice-president; Ken Nen, 2nd vice-president; Chester Douglas, 3rd vice-president; Robert Langhoff, secretary - treasurer; Marvin Miller, lion tamer; Charles Unruh, tail twister, and Virgil Lamb, Kenneth Dodge and L. R. Tweedie, directors for one year.

Auxiliary officers installed were Neta Jacobsen, president; Ellen Douglas, vice - president; Mildred Eckley, secretary; Elsie Covert, treasurer, and Mrs. W. E. Knowler, retiring president, was unable to attend because of illness.

Elections Suit Hearing Date Set by Court

The state supreme court Friday set July 27 for hearing arguments in the suit brought by Charles C. Krauger contesting the nomination of John Steelhammer, Salem attorney for state representative from Marion county at the primary election.

Krauger contends that Steelhammer received credit for 100 votes in a Salem precinct when he should have received only 99 votes. The alleged error, according to Krauger, resulted in Steelhammer's nomination over H. R. Jones by one vote in Marion county.

As a result of this hearing the supreme court was compelled to defer its summer vacation recess, originally scheduled for this week.

In other court action Friday, a new trial was ordered in the Marion county lawsuit of Emil Balla vs. Florence Ireland, appellant, and E. C. Ireland, a suit over purchase of property. Judge George R. Duncan of Marion county was reversed.

Albers Infant Recovering From Second Story Fall

Returned Thursday from Salem General hospital was 14-month-old Eddie Albers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Albers, who suffered a broken arm and lacerated face when he fell Monday night from a second story window in the Albers' home at 487 1/2 N. Front st. The boy, who was apparently playing near the window, fell 14 feet to the sidewalk.
