Capitols Open Play Tonight

Picked as one of the top teams entered in the first game in the 1948 Oregon Semipro tournament at Westmoreland park in Portland.

The Caps, about to snatch the State league pennant, will face the Beavers tonight at nine o'clock in a game which follows a 7:15 o'clock mix between the Portland Timber Structures and Sweet Home. Win or lose in their opener, the Caps are scheduled to go postwar again next Monday night, July 26. In the meantime Manager Johnny Lewis & Co. will go to Bend the coming weekend for a State league doubleheader.

Lewis will lead off with "Pittsburgh" Jones in tonight's starter. The wee righthander has won seven straight games. Fireballer Frankie Dierickx is slated for the hill job next Monday for Salem. The balance of the Caps lineup for tonight will be made up of Roy Harrington, Ted Kerr, Gale Smith, Earl Hampton, Harry Richards, Lee Shinn, Len Younce, Carl Gustafson, Charley Sauvain, Roger Dasch, Lou Scrivens, Al Lightner and Lewis himself.

Walling Club Still Winning

Walling's Sand & Gravel remained unbeaten in Junior C league play last night as they punched out a 9-5 victory over the Trux Oiler's of Keizer. The Master Breads noted their initial win as they edged the Midget Markets, 11-10.

Tonight in a loop action it's the unbeaten Mayflower Milks tangle with the Eagles at Olinger and Valley Motor vying with Shrooks at Leslie. Both tilts are set for 6 o'clock.

Carr and Whitaker combined to hold the Trux Oiler to four hits as the Wallings continued their winning ways. Boynton homered for the Oiler. The Master Bread stack was paced by Trux's two-run circuit blow, but 11 Midget errors decided the issue.

City Softball Play Resumes

The Mootry Druggist nine, still smarting from its initial defeat of the softball campaign last Friday, aims to get back in winning stride tonight in an American league mix with Salem Navigation. The tilt is set for 9 o'clock.

Opener of the doubleheader goes the 12th Street Markets clashing with the Marine Reserves in a National loop fracas.

Today's Pitchers

AMERICAN LEAGUE—Cleveland at New York (2) — Gromek (4-1) and Muncie (1-2) vs. Bearden (1-2) and Hiller (3-1). Chicago at Boston (2, day, night) — Gettel (2-2) and Pappis (1-2) vs. Dobson (1-6) and Ferriss (3-2). St. Louis at Philadelphia (night) — Fanning (5-8) vs. Coleman (4-6) and Schett (1-4). Detroit at Washington-Hutchinson (5-5) vs. Masterson (6-6).

Bill McGowan Gets Suspension

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—Umpire William McGowan of the American league was suspended today until an investigation can be made of his actions in the Cleveland-Washington game here last night.

The suspension was announced in Chicago by League President Will Harridge. It followed a complaint by Washington Manager Joe Kuhler that McGowan cursed and threw things at his players.

Rollin' Along

How fitting a time for the resumption of the Olympics in the Berlin arena the pall of gloom, the threat of war intensely with every hour. Across the channel on the outskirts of London preparations for battle are feverishly being pushed by a multitude of trim young men and women — but you'll find no veiled threats here, no "incidents," no steel-ringed boundaries. The only weapons to be which has deprived 'em of beloved Dixie Walker and Chipper Eddie Stanky. . . That tree which grows in wretched state, indeed, be in a wretched state right now. . .

Morning After

Is there anything more hauntingly quiet and lonely than a trapshoot layout the day after a big meet? That was the picture at the local gun grounds Monday and noting the piles of used cartridges it was easy to believe that quite a wad of dough has been fired at those spinning pigeons. When you sit in on one of the big shotgun circuses the bias from the battery of weapons tempt one to reach for the cotton (instead of a Lucky), but then that bang! bang! bang! is just another element which makes the Grand Pacific one of the most colorful of all sports meets. . . It's a tribute to the Salem trap club that they were able to land the Grand. Fact is that the local gang has a wide reputation as an enterprising and live-wire organization. . .

Bill Terry

found at Wembley (the Olympics site) will be the well-conditioned muscles of a host of athletes plus the paraphernalia of the sports in which they'll strive for international supremacy. May the Olympic torch continue to burn its message of friendly rivalry along after the disciples of the postwar are dust. . .

Brooklyn Blues

Remember when the New York Giants' Bill Terry carelessly piped: "Is Brooklyn still in the National league?" To that peculiar breed — the Brooklyn fans — Terry's remark has never been forgotten or forgiven. That was insult without parallel to followers of the Ebbetts field gang, who, of course, just love to shower insults on the other guy. And now their own Lee Durocher, a man molded to the Brooklyn pattern, goes to those same Giants.

"Da heights of betrayal," must chirp the Brooklynese who doubtless see this latest move as the sad climax to an awful year

Runts Return On Saturday

Promoter Jimmy Ryan announced early this morning that the midweek racing programs will resume at Salem's Hollywood ball Saturday night. And of particular importance to the fans hereabouts was the report from Ryan that he would have not only a number of "hot" Washington cars in the meet, but also some dandies from California.

Ryan returned last night from a trip to California, where he obtained contracts "from some of the better operators, including some who will give Bob Greig all the racing he wants." Saturday's program will open at 7:30 p.m. with time trials. Main races start at 8:30.

Two More Tilts Again Tonight

Mac Nabs First, 6-4; Club Holds 6th Spot

By Al Lightner

The Salem Senators found the first division Victoria Athletics not invulnerable in the first game of their duel last night at Waters park, and grabbed a 6-4 win for Lefty Cal McIrvin's 13th of the season. But in the nightcap the As returned the compliment, 8-5, and were no worse for the wear and tear in the doublebill. The split kept the Athletics in third place, and although the seventh place Wenatchee club racked up another nod last night the Chiefs failed by a single percentage point to overtake the sixth place Solons.

Another doubleheader tonight, at 6:30 o'clock and, reasonably enough, Manager Jack Wilson right now doesn't know who will start the pitching for Salem. His undermanned hurling corps already badly overworked, Mgr. Wilson likely will play coy, merely before nominating a starter tonight. Skipper Ted Norbert of the visitors is almost sure to toss Leroy Kasperovitch and Del Owen, a pair of whizzballers, for his talented troupe.

Although he was toiling with but two days of rest, McIrvin flipped a five-hitter at the A's in last night's opener. Lefty Cal was wild, walking seven, but caught a tough homer in the pinches and picked up two double plays from his mates to help him over the rough spots. Meanwhile Dick Sinovic and Mel Nunes were accounting for five Salem runs with timely RBIs, and Joe Gedzius lifted in the other. Three Salem runs in the first, off Joe Blankenship, usually a large thorn in the Salem side, started the Solons off to their win. Sinovic's two-run double was the big poke in this heat.

The Hollywood Stars outlugged the Portland Beavers last night at Portland, coming from behind with a three-run rally in the nightcap to win, 8-7, after snatching the opener, 8-5.

Mills, Clothiers Suffer Losses

Sparked by the three-hit hurling of Killinger, the Elmer Motors club came through with a 7-2 win over the Paper Mill No. 1's last night at Leslie in an industrial league softball clash. An earlier tilt saw Dan Fry's three-run homer in the seventh give the Stones an 8-6 victory over the S & N Clothiers nine.

Arm Still Ailing, Bev Hints At Future with Yankee Club

Although he has been under strict supervision by medics for over 60 days, and has cut his weight from 256 to a solid 205 pounds, Salem's Bill Bevs, world series pitching standard with the New York Yankees last fall still is plagued by the ailing arm that has kept him from working a single inning this season. Bevs' 60-day injury suspension is now up, but a letter from the Philadelphia Phillies, with the Blues Schanz won five and lost seven games.

WIL's Elite Take Beatings

By The Associated Press

First division clubs took beatings right and left in Western International league action last night. The Spokane Indians stopped the second-place Bremerton Tars, 9-3, as Bill Werbowksi set the Brems down with eight blows. The Wenatchee Chiefs pounded out a 12-10 triumph over the top-rung Tacoma Tigers, belting three Tiger hurlers for 16 blows including Dick Greco's homer. Last-place Yakima downed the Vancouver Capilans, 5-4, as Wally Kramer bested Bob Snyder, the loop's top pitcher, in a hill duel.

Barney Blanks Cubs, Braves Bow; Kramer Grabs Ninth Straight Win

The National league leading Boston Braves saw a bit more of their margin crumble away Tuesday as the Cincinnati Reds topped them, 9-6, with the aid of three homers. Johnny Wyrostek, Danny Litwhiler and Ted Kluszewski all rapped over-the-fence walls for the Red while Jeff Heath and Tommy Holmes dinked for the Braves. The runnerup Brooklyn Dodgers, continuing to sparkle under Burt Shotton, licked the Chicago Cubs, 5-0, to pull within 6 1/2 games of the Boston. Rex Barney set the Cubs down with seven hits. The Pittsburgh Pirates crushed the Philadelphia Phils, 11-2, behind the seven-hit hurling of Rookie Bob Chernes.
