

Madison Jones, 99-Year-Old Local Pioneer Farmer Dies

Madison L. Jones, 99, early Salem area pioneer legislator and farmer who developed the fertile Lake Labish district, died in Portland Wednesday afternoon at about 4 o'clock.

Jones, father of Ronald E. Jones of Brooks and Ellis H. Jones of Salem, would have been 100 next March 29. Funeral arrangements will be announced later but interment will take place in the Pioneer cemetery at Brooks.

Retired At 80
Last public appearance of Willamette university's oldest living graduate who crossed the plains in 1853 took place in 1947 at Brooks. He attended a birthday dinner given in his honor by the Masonic lodge there, of which he was a charter member.

Jones retired at the age of 80 from eastern Oregon wheat farming. He has been living with daughters in Portland and Arlington. A bronchial ailment, contracted last summer, hastened his death.

Indiana Native
The deceased was born March 29, 1849, in Kokomo, Ind. He came to Oregon and the Willamette valley in 1853 with his father S. W. R. Jones who died in Indiana in 1911 at the age of 97. The family pioneered the Brooks district.

He married Emma Jane Hovenden of Hubbard in 1880. Mrs. Jones died in 1939 at the age of 81. Jones graduated Willamette university in 1871. He also attended law school, passed his bar examination, but never practiced law.

Legislator
In 1882 he was elected to a term in the house of representatives of the state legislature. He served as a member of the state fair board from 1915 to 1921 and was president of the Oregon Hop Growers' association prior to 1910. He led the way to establishing the Lake Labish drainage district which cleared and drained the rich bottom-land north of Salem Jones moved to eastern Oregon to farm wheat in the early 1920's.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist church, Brooks A.F. and A.M. and of the Al-Kader shrine. In addition to the two sons, Ronald and Ellis, the deceased is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Anderson M. Cannon of Portland, Mrs. John Withycombe of Portland and Claire Jones Gray of Los Angeles, Calif., a sister, Mrs. Sarah Clark, 96, of Portland; nine grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Keizer District To Discuss Fire Control Tonight

KEIZER—An open business meeting in connection with the proposed Keizer fire patrol will be held Thursday, July 22, at 7 p.m. in the Keizer grange hall. Questions regarding the proposal will be answered.

Directors and supporters of the proposed district are currently canvassing the community for contributions to purchase fire fighting equipment.

Petitions requesting formation of the district are being canvassed by the Marion county assessor's office. If enough signatures are contained in the petitions, a hearing on the proposal will be set by Marion county court.

Keizer families are being asked to contribute $5 each and businesses as much as possible. Directors said a home for the equipment can be secured if adequate funds are raised.

An open meeting will be held Thursday, July 22, at 7 p.m. in the Keizer Grange hall. Any questions pertaining to the proposed district will be answered during the session.

Portland Youth Granted $1,000 Damages Bid

Judgement of $1,000 was awarded to Portland youth in Marion county circuit court Wednesday in a false imprisonment suit brought against Safeway Stores, Inc.

An additional request from plaintiff for $7,500 punitive damages was denied by Circuit Judge George Duncan on motion of defendant. The jury, in turn, pared down the general damage request from $1,500 to $1,000.

The suit was brought against the store and Joseph Wangler, store manager. It charged that Stone wall Jackson, 16, of Portland was taken into a back room of the Court street Safeway store and searched by Wangler April 5, 1947, when the Jacksons were in town from a nearby hop yard. Helen Jackson, mother of Stone wall, charged that the occurrence humiliated and embarrassed her son.

Both Wangler and young Jackson testified that the youth had no store merchandise in his pockets when searched.

Phone Hearing Airs Relations Of Companies

Relationship between the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. was the subject of testimony introduced Wednesday in the state public utilities commission hearing on P.T.&T. request for rate increases in Oregon.

Oregon General Manager F. D. Tellwright of P.T.&T. said his company operates under license contract with the American company, paying it 1 1/2 per cent of its revenue in order to take advantage of such services as are made available by Bell Telephone laboratories.

Harry C. Getz, assistant controller of A.T.&T., testified that in 1947 the Pacific telephone company's Oregon operations turned over $323,682 to A.T.&T. Of the total expense incurred by A.T.&T. during the year, $371,328 was charged against Oregon, he said.
