

Summer Social Whirl . . .

By Jeryme English

The summer social whirl centers around informal au revoir parties for travelers, showers for brides-elect and garden suppers. A much feted traveler is Miss Mabel P. Robertson, who leaves by plane for New York City on August 17 and sails on August 24 for England and the European continent. On docking at South Hampton Miss Robertson will tour by car through the southern part of England before going up to London. From there she will cross the channel to Europe and will spend considerable time in France.

Au Revoir Parties

Mrs. Daniel J. Fry, jr. has invited a group of Miss Robertson's intimate friends to an informal tea on Thursday afternoon at her home on South High street.

For Friday afternoon Mrs. Frank H. Spears and Mrs. Prince W. Byrd have arranged a one o'clock luncheon at Silver Creek Falls lodge for the pleasure of Miss Robertson. Covers will be placed for 24 guests.

Miss Edith Schryver and Miss Elizabeth Lord will be hostesses for an informal at home on Sunday, August 8 in the garden of their Mission street residence in compliment to Miss Robertson. Guests have been invited to call after 5 o'clock.

For Brides-elect

Miss Edith Moxley, who recently announced her coming marriage to John Arthur Miller of Columbus, Ohio, which will be an event of September 5, will be the honor guest at a luncheon on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Donald A. Young entertains at the University club in Portland.

Miss Nancy Knight and her fiancé, Thomas A. Roberts, jr., will be complimented at a party on Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan entertain at their Silverton home. A buffet dinner will be served by the hosts with an informal evening following.

Bidden to honor the couple, who will be married on August 27 in Portland, are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Shinn, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton J. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, Thomas Kay, Daniel J. Fry, III, Roger Wagner and Robert Niemeyer.

To Fete A Visitor

Mrs. Carl Steelhammer has invited guests to a bridge party and late supper Wednesday night at her North 20th street home in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Wallace, who with her daughter, Joleen, is visiting here from Miami, Florida. The visitors will return south in mid-August.

Surprise Couple . . .

Miss Mary Ana Bollinger and her fiancé, Reed Vollstedt of Albany, were feted at a surprise party Saturday when the Misses Corinne Wade, Kathleen Hug and Barbara Crawford entertained at the Hillsboro home of Miss Wade's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gates.

A buffet supper was served at 7:30 o'clock and later in the evening the couple were dancing on the patio. The guests surprised Miss Bollinger with a miscellaneous shower and her fiancé with a kitchen gadget shower.

Honoring the engaged duo were the Misses Patricia Viesko, Phyllis MacGregor, Evangeline McKinley, Nancy Montgomery, Judy Ramsey, Virginia Palmer, Laura Ann Burgess, Edith Vollstedt, Barbara McDonald, Louise Lister, Mabel Pontius, Beverly Naubert, Messrs. Richard Gahlsdorf, Mark Crunnigan, William Hughes, Melvin Nielson, Harvey Scott, Jack Speare, Richard Kingsley, Ralph Palmer, Richard Wilson, Robert Elgin, Stanley Kinne, Robert Gohrke, Richard Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Schnell, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phillips and the hostesses.

Donna Lawrence a Bride . . .

Pink, with a touch of white and blue, were the colors Miss Donna Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Lawrence, selected for her wedding Saturday night when she became the bride of Dale Pence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pence. It was at 8 o'clock that the Rev. Seth Huntington performed the nuptials at the First Congregational church. Miss Carolyn Emerson was the soloist and Jean Hobson Rich the soloist.

Bouquets of pink and white gladioluses were arranged at the altar and gladioluses with white bows marked the pews. The white carpeted aisle was closed with white satin roping. Misses Virginia Huston and Juanita McCurdy, in powder blue marquisette frocks, lighted the tapers.

The bride was like a picture of a Godey print in her white satin gown designed with a hoop skirt embellished with tiny rows of lace which started just below the waistline and widened to the hemline. The skirt was entrained and the fitted bodice was enhanced with a net yoke edged with a lace ruffle. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a small moon shaped hat edged in pink Cecile Brunner roses. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of roses and bouvardia centered with an orchid and encircled with a wide net trim. Mr. Lawrence gave his daughter in marriage.

The feminine members of the bridal party were quaint in their pale pink dotted swiss frocks fashioned off shoulder with white lace berths, and a row of lace on the bottom of the full skirts which were over petticoats. Their old fashioned bonnets were pink and edged in lace with a row of flowers across the back. They carried pastel nosegays edged in lace to match their dresses. Mrs. William E. Hill was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Marianne Bonesteel, Miss Donna Jean Pence and Miss Patricia Lee Girod. David Lawrence, young brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Attend the Groom

Warren Bacon stood with the groom as best man and seating the guests were Jerry Kennedy, Darel Lawrence, William E. Hill and George Zurinden.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Lawrence selected a slate blue gown with tiered skirt, a pink hat and pink accessories. Mrs. Pence attended her son's marriage in a mustard yellow gown with draped skirt and black accessories. Their corsages were of baby orchids.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the garden of the Lawrence home on North 17th street. Pouring were the groom's two grandmothers, Mrs. Ora Pence and Mrs. Albert Hoevel, Mrs. Reed Carter and Mrs. Richard Renfro, Mrs. L. W. Carr of Centralia, Wash., cut her grandmother's cake assisted by Mrs. Emma Vesper, Mrs. Kenneth Carr and Mrs. James Coates. At the punch bowl were Mrs. Stanley L. Tufts of Centralia and Mrs. Melvin Millett. Mrs. Mae Christenson was in charge of the dining room. Assisting were Mesdames Freeman Renfro, Walter Waldorf, Wayne Hayward, Clarence Tandy, Misses Gerry Woodruff, Lorraine Poindexter, Beverly Nelson, Kathryn Fernau, Beverly Nedeham, Carolyn Emerson, Marilyn Hill, Ruth Hughlett and Karen Keller of Jefferson, who will pass the dream cakes.

The couple will motor down the coast to California and the Redwoods, returning home by way of Crater lake, on their honeymoon. For going away the bride wore a shell pink silk crepe costume dress with white trim, white hat and accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Pence will be at home at 2461 1/2 South Commercial street.

Sojourn at the Beach . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claggett, Patty and Carolyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Myers, and Robert, left Saturday for a two weeks sojourn at Neskowin.

Mrs. Maurice Saffron and son, John, leave today to spend the month of August at Taft. Mr. Saffron will join his family part of the time.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Walton, Jeff and Elizabeth, at their Neskowin beach home are Marcia and John Sackett of Coos Bay.

"Come And Get It"...

Is the call picnickers are waiting for, and pictured here a group of young couples has come and gotten it in the picnic grove at the Rollin Haag's country place on Croisan Creek. The group, mostly high school and college friends, gathers each year for a no-heat picnic and party.

In the upper left picture a foursome swings in the hammock including Donald Bower and his fiancée, Peggy Pickett, Shirley Howard and Robert Strong of Portland.

At the right is another group of the picnickers, Bill Shade and Helen Gross of Portland, Roger Wagner, Ethan Dale, Herbert Booth and down in front, Richard Gahlsdorf. (All photos by Jeston-Miller).
