

Holly
Says..

"Even though you are engaged, isn't it a little early to worry about your International Sterling?"

"We're not worried, Holly says we're too young to worry. We've been reading Holly Jackson's advertisements in school for our advanced psychology class and we have all agreed that Holly knows more than Christopher Columbus, or Dr. Jackle or Mr. Hyde about modern day things. So if you will lay aside a set of

we will be in from time to time and lay a few dollars on the line. Us kids get ten or twelve dollars a day picking fruit and then along comes beans and that's good for about six or eight dollars a day; then in the fall comes hops and we youngsters sure cash in on hop picking. After we loan the folks a few dollars we'll have plenty left to pay you for the International Sterling. We're going to give it to Pop and he's going to give it to Mom."

but... what a wonderful day is a Saturday, when farmers come in and meet their neighbors at the store, show off their kids and their wives can shop and wish for lots of things.

Street scene... we noted a father holding a contented baby, who was dining at the time, on a bottle. The papa showed such obvious pride that we almost humored him in it, and inquiring the baby's name and talents. Incidentally, why do they put so many clothes on some babies in hot weather? ... Among a group watching the man demonstrate a one-piece mechanized carpenter shop, we noticed that the crowd gathered as he worked something on the lathe, and as soon as he announced what he was making, all the curious walked away. Poor psychology.

Pick-me-up... Even the most lonely person should feel very much wanted on the first of each month, when all those creditors' greeting cards arrive in the mail. Just a thought... We've an idea for giving the country complete insecticide coverage. Simply put DDT in the fuel of those big diesel trucks, and into the furnace of the paper mill, for an extra dose to Salem... and even the tiniest bug couldn't escape... Maxine Buren.

Rites Read At Church Today

At a wedding ceremony this afternoon at the First Christian church at 4 o'clock Miss Laverne May Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Justin S. Rowland of Rickreall, will become the bride of Kenneth M. Strain, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Strain of Oregon City. The Rev. Dudley Strain will perform the nuptials for his nephew's wedding. Reid Shelton will sing and Mrs. John Schmidt, jr., will be the organist. Lighting the tapers will be Miss Jody Feike and Miss Delores Hultman, who will wear pastel green and blue brocaded frocks.

Mr. Rowland will give his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown is of ivory satin, fashioned off-shoulder with lace trim, a bustle back and full train. French imported orange blossoms will hold in place her fingertip veil and she will carry a bible marked with a white orchid.

Mrs. John Kyle of Corvallis, in orchid, will be the matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Donald Rowland, who will wear green, Miss Alice Rowland, in pink, and Miss Ellie Olson of Seaside, whose dress will be green. The dresses are all of nylon net over brocaded satin and designed off-shoulder with bouffant skirts. The attendants will carry cascade bouquets of deep fuchsia gladioluses centered with pink bouvardia.

Stanley Strain will be his brother's best man and ushers will be Kenneth Bakum, Hal Swafford and Ford Black of Oregon City, Donald Rowland and John Kyle.

Mrs. Rowland will wear a pale blue shadow sheer gown for the rites with navy and white accessories and corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Strain will attend her son's wedding in a fuchsia crepe gown with grey accessories and corsage of white roses.

At the wedding reception to follow in the church parlors Miss Joy Hills and Mrs. Arthur Tilton of Portland will pour and Mrs. William Bryan of Pullman, Wash., will cut the cake. Miss Rae Sweet will be at the punch bowl. Assistants will be Misses Mary Kennedy, Billie Snyder, Charlotte Housley, Fawn Brooks and Vera Bishop.

After a trip along the coast the couple will be at home in Oregon City at 915 Polk street, where Mr. Strain is with the Crown Willelette Paper Co. For traveling the bride will wear a yellow and black silk print with black accessories and orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Barnes are today announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gloria Barnes, to Judd Pankratz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pankratz of West Salem. The wedding will be in the fall.

Miss Barnes attended school in Turner, is employed by the Jack C. Neer company and Mr. Pankratz by the National Battery company, West Salem. He attended school in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kepley formerly of Brooks, and now in Oregon City are the parents of a new daughter, named Norma Dale, born in Oregon City hospital July 21. They have an older daughter, Virginia Diane.

Herb Tea to Be August 17

LEBANON—Eleventh annual herb tea of the Lebanon Garden club has been set for August 17 from 2 to 5 p. m. in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shimanek, 377 East Grant street. Plans are being outlined by Mrs. Frank Brownlee, club president, with Mrs. Ray A. Gleason, general chairman in charge of the tea.

Various committees are working out herb favors and exhibits. Approximately two dozen herbs will be employed in various blends for the tea brew, which will be served with herb cookies and other herb delicacies.

The Lebanon club was awarded a purple ribbon for last year's herb tea, the recognition coming as a special award of the National Federation of Garden clubs. It was presented at the Oregon state convention this year at Gearheart by State President Mrs. W. E. Wilhelm of Lebanon Garden club members. Mrs. Einar Rasmussen, then club president, was also general chairman of last year's award winning affair.

Further plans for the tea will be discussed at the club's meeting on July 19 at the home of President Winnifred Brownlee.

Mrs. Cortis Stringer is chairman of the committee preparing year books for the coming season. The Lebanon herb tea was originated by the late Mrs. Joel Meyer. It was the only one held west of the Mississippi.

Publicity Chairmen Meet

The Salem Woman's club executive board, meeting Friday night, made arrangements for a meeting of all publicity chairmen and other interested club women for September 30. The meeting is for the purpose of giving instruction or producing publicity, and the program will be handled by the women's editors from both Salem papers. The Woman's club will be the sponsors, and plan to issue invitations through the press to all women's groups. The club board also set the date of Oct. 14 and 15 for the annual rummage sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton J. McLeod and daughter, Franca, have returned from a month's stay at their beach home at Neskowin.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Borkman have returned from a week's trip to California and Crater lake.
