Don't Look Now...

BUT... we note an ad in the paper which describes a house for sale, with "1 1/2 baths". That means, my dears, that one person can take a whole bath but the next fellow only has half enough hot water.

All dolled up... Ten thousand women of Salem proudly peaked over orchids pinned to their shoulders on Friday. Ten thousand boy friends and husbands drew deep sighs and acid under their breaths, "At last she's owned that first orchid she's hounded me to buy." Ten thousand griddles will be hot this morning for pancakes made from the 31c worth of pancake mix sold to each orchid customer.

And ten thousand... packages of bicarbonate will probably go off the dealers shelves before the mix is all used up, too.

Out of sight... After nigh unto 50 years of having the water drip down to our elbows as we reached above our heads in dozens of rest rooms, for the paper towels in those fancy vending machines which were always placed there by a man 6 ft. 9 inches tall. Now we were told how to remedy that. We wish to help fellow sufferers who stand away below the coveted towel. Here's the secret, get the towel out before you get your hands wet. Fancy that!...

Home Rites Performed

The marriage of Miss Ruth Lorraine Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren D. Davis of Oswego, to Dr. Leonard John Liest, a member of the staff of the Oregon State hospital, was quietly solemnized on Saturday at 12:30 o'clock at his home on the hospital grounds. The Rev. Dudley Strain performed the nuptials before members of the immediate family. The couple exchanged their vows before the fireplace which was banked with arrangements of pink and white gladioluses.

For her wedding the bride chose a brown crepe afternoon gown, brown straw hat adorned with pale green veiling and brown accessories. Her corsage was of gold gladioluses and her only ornament was a family heirloom diamond necklace.

Mrs. Herbert M. Paddock, jr., came north from San Francisco to be her sister's only attendant. She wore a wood violet crepe gown and corsage of violet gladioluses. Mr. Paddock stood with Dr. Liest as best man.

Mrs. Davis wore a pink afternoon dress and matching corsage of gladioluses for her daughter's wedding.

A wedding luncheon for the bride and guests followed the ceremony. Mrs. Alvin Ruff cut the cake and Mrs. Merritt Meadows presided at the coffee urn.

Kelley-Pemble Rites Read

The bride attended Portland schools and her husband received his education in Wisconsin. He has been in Salem since early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Seclairs and Mrs. Flora Thomas will return today from a fortnight's vacation at Nelscott.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Woodry are leaving today for a five day fishing trip and sojourn at East Lake.

Mrs. Anne Pemble became the bride of William W. Kelley at a ceremony read at the home of the Rev. Lloyd T. Anderson at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Ray Sanford attended the bride, and Patrick McCormick was best man.

After a week's trip along the coast, the couple will be at home at 2275 Center street.
