Fast approaching is the first anniversary of the birth of the Salem Breakfast club. The club was formed with the express purpose of boosting local ath-letes and athletics and building a bigger block of sports-minded people in the burg. And the organization has gone a long way toward accomplishing its aims in its first year of activity under Frexy Harry Collins. . . . This Friday night's barbecue fete for Willamette's football squad is typical of what the SBC gang has been doing these past 12 months. Salem was in dire need of such a booster bunch as a sort of meby which support could be rallied behind local teams and appreciation shown the athletes of the vicinity who made a name on the diamond, the grid and the basketball court. The organization is now a reality—a well-knit unit. The SBC is indeed the band-wagon of Salem sportdom. Lets all hop on it! . .

When conjecture trickles forth concerning the identity of the gent who'll succeed Jack Wilson at the helm of the Senators next year the name of old Ted Gullie is bound to come up. Ted's personable, well liked and he knows his baseball from the roots up-AND the Beaver or-ganization has lots of confidence n the stringbean guy. But would want to return to the job which he held in '46 as success to the late Frisco Edwards? Dunno, but Ted is very much satisfied in his present capacity as coach of the Beavers where he and head man Jim Turner STANDINGS make a fine team—and Gullic has been around long enough to be keenly aware of the woes and the howl of the wolves which are the lot of a ball skipper. . . . Mebbe the one-time home-run belting outfielder will be offered the job and mebbe he won't but if Ted does chance to move back into Waters park he'll be welcomed with a happy, "How d'ya do", and looked upon as just the man to replace the popular Wil- Victoria

Cards Nip Phillies

The lowly Chicago Cubs stopped the onward drive of the National league leading Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday and knotted the hectic race just that much tighter by whipping the Bums twice, 3-0 and 7-2 before 45,531 fans at Wrigley field. The double licking cut the Brooks' margin over the Boston Braves to two percentage points as the Beantowners downed the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1, behind Red Barrett's seven-hit hurling. Hank Borowy was the nemesis of Brooklyn, stifling the Dodgers with one hit in the first game. He faced but 27 batters. Doyle Lade scattered nine Bum hits in the nightcap. The fast-coming Pittsburgh Pirates pulled within two games of the top by stopping the slipping New York Giants, 5-4, the setback being the New Yorkers seventh in a row. Red Munger hurled St. Louis' Cards to a 5-0 win over the Philadelphia Phils. In the equally close American league fight the Boston Red Sox held onto their one-game top place margin with an 8-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The runnerup New York Yankees remained close behind by edging the St. Louis Browns, 10-9. Cleveland was still one-half game back of the Yanks after rapping the Philadelphia Atheltics, 6-1, as Manager Lou Boudreau smacked a triple, double and single.
