"THE YOUNG IDEA" By Mossler

"I don't think we're doing so badly considering neither of us has ever had a date before!"

The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Tuesday, Sept. 7, 1948—3

Sen. Morse Sees Hard Work For GOP Victory in November; Says Coast Strike Unjustified

Confidence in the republicans' November election prospects, but belief that victory will take hard work, was expressed Monday by U. S. Sen. Wayne L. Morse, here to exhibit an entry in the state fair show.

Morse declared that the Pacific coast longshoremen's strike is unjustified and will prove a serious blow to both labor and the public.

The senator said arbitration was available to both sides of the controversy which made the strike unnecessary.

"It is most regrettable that the Pacific coast is being tied up by a longshoremen's strike at this time," Senator Morse declared. "I am not familiar with all the details of the dispute but it would appear from press reports that the union leaders and shipowners were sufficiently close together in the final stages of their negotiations to justify a settlement of the controversy."

Senator Morse said a prolonged strike could not help but prove disastrous. "In my experience as an arbitrator we settled issues much more difficult and complex than those involved in the current dispute," Senator Morse continued. "As I understand the situation the employers were willing to use the peaceful features of the present contract but for some reason the negotiations have broken down."

The senator will remain in Salem most of the week where he has an entry in the state fair night horse show. He will give several addresses in Oregon prior to September 25 when he will leave for the national capital.

"I am satisfied that Dewey and Warren will be elected president and vice president by a substantial majority," Senator Morse said. "and that the republicans will lose no seats in the senate." The senator said he was hopeful that the republicans would pick up at least two seats in the senate and more in the house. "It certainly is not a healthy condition to have a republican congress and a democrat president," Senator Morse averred.

During his stay in Salem Senator Morse has headquarters in the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Morse, who accompanied her husband here will return to Eugene Tuesday and then proceed to Washington, D.C., where her children will enter school.

French Strike Threat Eased By Increases

PARIS, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Labor leaders insisted tonight Premier Robert Schuman's new government is still far from meeting their demands for more wages and lower prices.

There were no direct strike threats, however, as workers got news of their 2,500-franc ($8.33) windfall. This was the cost-of-
