

State Fair Midway Thrills Oregon Youth

They tot thrill ride at the state fair this week is the ever-popular merry-go-round. Mixed emotions are expressed by young riders, but they all want to ride it "once more!" Shown above at left is 3-year-old Robert Beardsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beardsley, 1958 McCoy ave., at right Rickey Lewis, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lewis, 1315 S. High st.

Oregon's state fair visitors from all over the state this week are having a whale of a time as are the three teen-age girls getting their picture taken in a photo machine above. Left to right they are Jean Rickard, 15, her sister Pat, 17, and Betty McBea, all of Cottage Grove. (Photos by Don Hill, Statesman staff photographer.)

Douris Reports On Christian Youth Conclave

Four Salem delegates left Grand Rapids, Mich., Monday after attending a week-long conference of the National Christian Youth Council from August 3 to September 5.

They are Don Douris and Lois Gottwald, both of the First Presbyterian church, David Simpson of the Court Street Christian church and Elizabeth Morley of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

A digest of the conference was mailed to The Statesman Sunday night by Douris, who left immediately for New York where he will start three years of work at the Union Theological seminary in preparation for the ministry.

Douris reported that about 5,000 delegates, including about 12 others from the northwest, attended the sessions. They represented the 48 states, Canada, India, Switzerland, Africa, Syria, Mexico, Egypt, Belgium, South America and China.

On Tuesday night the conference program was part of a radio Town Meeting broadcast. Topic for the program was "Is the Church Failing Youth," with Gil Dodds, widely known preacher and champion miller, as one of four speakers.

One of the highlights of the meeting was an address Wednesday by Luther Youngdahl, Minnesota governor, who spoke on the subject "The Church and the Laymen."

Dr. John Nelson, who flew to Grand Rapids from Amsterdam,

Holland, and the World Youth conference, was speaker in Thursday's session, reporting on achievements by world church leaders.

Saturday's theme was "The Church Comes Singing," a sacred concert given by Mrs. Rosa Page Welch, mezzo soprano. The conference concluded Sunday with an address by Dr. Howard Thurman of San Francisco and a communion service for the delegates representing 40 different religions.

Registration For Draft Near 2,000 Here

Salem's peacetime draft board registered 294 men Tuesday, bringing the local unofficial total to 1,962 since the draft registration opened at the armory a week ago.

Unofficial totals from Marion county's other two boards showed that 346 had been signed at Stayton and 303 at Silverton by Tuesday night. The Stayton board signed 38 Tuesday and at Silverton 52 men Tuesday signed the registration cards which have kept clerks busy during the past nine days.

Seven volunteer women clerks were on hand Tuesday at the Salem office of the draft board in the armory. Mrs. Fern Beakey, local draft board clerk, said that several more volunteers are needed because of the "terrific amount of work involved in handling the long lines of men who have already registered and who are expected before the registration closes on September 18."

Volunteer clerks are asked to register with Mrs. Beakey by calling 24858.

Today and Thursday, all men 21 years of age are scheduled to register at their local boards for the draft.

The registration schedule is:

Birth Date	Age	Registration
1926	21 Sept. 8-9
1927	20 Sept. 10-11
1928	19 Sept. 12-14
1929	18 Sept. 15-16
1930	(before Sept. 19)

Those who are not 18 by September 19 should register on their birthdays or within five days after.

ROAD PROJECT AWARDED
Contract covering 2 miles of grading and surfacing on the Coal-co-Chrome plant section of the Oregon coast highway Tuesday was awarded to the Del R. Beebe Construction company, Eugene, on a low bid of $420,980.

Neuner Clarifies School Bond Law

In cases where a school district is bonded up to 10 per cent of its property valuations and later consolidates with another school district, the consolidated district is not prevented from bonding up to its capacity, Attorney General George Neuner ruled here Tuesday.

The opinion was requested by Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction.
