Pie for Dessert

America's Favorite Dessert Could Be Served Daily, Recipes Not Repeated

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Woman's Editor

Pies, America's favorite dessert, offer such wide variety that one could serve a different one every day, and not repeat for many months. Of course there are the good standbys such as apple, peach, mince, and pumpkin, but variations of these, or use of entirely different fillings are where the interest comes in. We'll look at fruit pies.

Miss Baker A Bride

Miss Donna Irene Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Baker, became the bride of Norman L. Lindburg, son of Edwin D. Lindburg, on August 20 at the Calvary Baptist church at 8 o'clock. Dr. Charles Durden officiated at the double ring ceremony, and Miss Bernice Kleihege was the soloist. Mrs. D. B. Kleihege was the organist. Miss Arlyn Sheldon lit the candles.

Of white slipper satin was the bride's gown made with a low neckline edged with scallops, a full skirt embellished with three rows of scalloping just below the waistline and the hemline and train were edged with the scalloping. A coronet of orange blossoms held in place her fingertip length illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink rapture roses. Mr. Baker gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Charles E. Baker was the matron of honor and wore a pastel green nylon gown embossed with white flowers and designed with ruffled off-shoulder bertha, a full skirt with ruffles at the bottom and a white velvet sash. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Ann Baker and Mrs. Jerry Anderson, who wore lavender nylon frocks fashioned like the honor attendants. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and orchid gladioluses. Flower girls were Roseanne Netz and Michele Edith Baker, nieces of the bride, whose frocks were of white nylon styled similar to the bride's.

Richard Whitley was best man and ushers were Robert Emerson, Dean Dowd, George Adams and Charles Baker.

Mrs. Baker wore a grey shadow print silk dress with navy blue and pink accessories with corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Assisting were Mesdames Clare R. Nelson, Don A. Emerson, John A. Touchie, Lloyd O. Fleener, John Graber, Jeffery Harelson, Misses Donna Whitley, Dwyn Ann Herberger, Elise Douglas and Joyce Gorton.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride wore a navy blue tulle with white top coat, navy blue felt hat and navy and white accessories. They will live in Corvallis where the groom will attend Oregon State college.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Byerley (Alice Drake) of Albany are the parents of a son born on Thursday in Albany. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plant of Salem.

Take apples for instance. Most of us could eat a piece of apple pie every day in the year and not grow tired of the flavor, but variations may be welcomed, just to add interest to the menu.

The affinity of apples for cheese inspires the use of cheese actually in the pie itself. Grate some American cheddar cheese into the pie crust mix before the liquid is added, and continue as usual. Or grate some of the cheese into the apple filling and bake as usual.

Other late summer fruits are good in pies. Pear pie though not very well known, is good. The filling is handled just as other fruits, with the pear peeled and sliced into the crust, a top crust added and cooked for in a hot oven and then in a medium. But the flavor will be a bit more interesting if the juice of half a lemon is squeezed over it before the top crust is added. Those who like candied ginger with their pears, will like it in pear pie too.

Plums and prunes make good pie, with a little thickening necessary to keep juice from being too runny.

Grape pie we have mentioned before—seed the blue grapes and put into the pie shell—it's really good.

Green tomatoes have been made into pie many times, and are quite popular in some families. Tomatoes, which have the characteristics of fruit rather than a vegetable, are treated as fruit in pie too with lemon added.

Elderberries will be coming along soon, watch for this berry to turn dark like grapes, and then use it for pies, adding a dash of lemon to enhance the flavor.
