

County to Hold Disputed Land After Protests

Marion county court has cancelled tentative plans to sell a parcel of land near McKee in accordance with a protest lodged Monday by a group of McKee residents.

The county property involved is an irregular shaped piece lying back of McKee school just off county road 543. It is approximately 42 feet by 260 feet and is adjacent to the Southern Pacific railroad tracks.

Main reason for the protest is that by selling the land the county would close a 42-year-old road right-of-way which, the residents said, has considerable use.

The county, which has been storing road machinery on the land, had only tentatively decided to sell the land. After Monday's hearing, however, the county court decided to retain the property.

Heavy Selling Pressure Cuts Stock Prices

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Under heavy selling pressure, prices dropped to the lowest point in five months today on the stock market.

Losses were from 1 to around 3 a share with steels, rails and chemicals leading the downward slide.

The volume of trading was 1,260,000 shares, the highest since Aug. 11, with the largest portion of that trading concentrated in the last two hours of the day.

An accumulation of unfavorable foreign and American factors weighed down on the market, but the critical nature of European political developments was regarded as paramount.

The Associated Press average of 80 stocks fell 1.1 to 66.7, the lowest point since April 20 when the average stood at 66.6. The industrial portion of the average went down 1.4, rails fell 1.1 and utilities slipped .3 of a point.

The decline was accompanied not only by the rushing volume but also by broadening in trading 1,077 issues, the greatest number since Aug. 11. Of these, 860 declined, the most since July 19, and only 81 advanced. There were 101 new lows for the year established.

New PGE Transformer Here

Installation of a new $34,000 General Electric transformer will be made at the University substation of Portland General Electric Co., located at Strand avenue and Mill street. Crews of the Wilhelm Hauling Co., of Portland, are shown above unloading one of the two transformers which arrived in Salem by rail after being on order more than two years. Each transformer will weigh 82,000 pounds when installed and filled with 2,635 gallons of special oil. The second transformer will be installed at a sub station to be erected at Fairmount and Miller streets in the near future. (Photo by Don Dill, Statesman staff photographer.)

Centennial Park Request Received By Mt. Angel Club

MT. ANGEL, Sept. 20.—Oregon Centennial commission request for the planting of a park this anniversary of Oregon's first 100 years was received by Mt. Angel businessmen who decided the present heat wave is no time to think of planting trees. The group voted to leave the matter for the recreation committee to solve at a later date. The club met at the Mt. Angel hotel for its fortnightly luncheon.

John T. Bauman read a letter from Senator Wayne L. Morse pledging his cooperation in the desirable comic book difficulty. Paul Wagonier, new owner of the J. J. Penner grocery store, was introduced as a new member. Ed Stolle, vice president of the Flax Festival committee, said the festival report would be given later.

Louis LeDoux, reporting on the field lighting project for football games, said it would be impossible to have the installation ready this season. Estimated cost is $5,000.

Marquam and Pratum WSCS Plan Meetings

SILVERTON — Members of the Women's Societies for Christian Service from the Marquam and Pratum churches will be guests of the local society at the Methodist church Tuesday at 2 p.m. A board meeting of the local group has been scheduled for 1:15 preceding the afternoon's affair.

The Esther circle of the WSCS at Silverton met Thursday at the home of Dr. F. N. Johnston to prepare articles for the bazaar which will be held in November. Quarterly conference of the Silverton Methodist church will be held Friday. Dr. Roy A. Fedje, district superintendent, will preside.

Illegal Fishing Case Prepared

Deputy Attorney General Rex Kimmell Monday was writing a brief in the case of Winford Thompson, Lincoln county, who is charged with illegal fishing in the Salmon river.

Kimmell said Thompson was arrested by state police and later stipulated the facts with the exception of the question whether the Salmon river was closed to commercial fishing by a previous legislature. This was denied by Thompson's attorneys.

The question is now before Circuit Judge Carl Wimberly of Lincoln county. Prosecution of Thompson was referred to the attorney general's office by Gov. John H. Hall.

Inspection Schedule Revision Announced

Increased costs necessary to maintain shipping point inspection services on a level satisfactory to both the state agricultural department and the shippers has prompted an upward revision in the schedule of inspection fees, E. L. Peterson, state agricultural director, announced Monday.

Peterson said the increase in fees had resulted in little or no criticism and had received the approval of most shippers.

Objection Filed In Suit to Bar Ballot Measure

Objection to a suit seeking to bar a Salem Electric franchise measure from the Salem ballot in November was filed by Marion County Clerk Harlan Judd in Marion County Circuit court Monday.

Judd, through District Attorney Miller B. Hayden, demurred to an amended complaint filed recently by Portland General Electric company and Joseph H. Randall.

He contends that stated facts are not sufficient, that too many causes are involved, that plaintiffs have no legal capacity to sue and that a similar suit on the same subject matter is still pending in court.

The suit attacks the legality of the petitions circulated to bring the measure before the voters. It also seeks a court order enjoining Judd from placing the issue on the ballot and City Recorder Alfred Mundt from advertising the measure to the voters. A second suit attacking the constitutionality of the measure itself also is pending in circuit court.

Check Shows Complaint On Gravel Unfounded

A complaint of J. D. Burroughs, 321 Court st., that the state had been taking gravel from his land for use on the North Santiam highway was settled Monday by County Engineer Hedda Swart.

Swart reported that an investigation Saturday disclosed that the Burroughs property near Mill City has not been disturbed by the state. The state hauls gravel from a gravel pit adjacent to his property.
