Mechanical Difficulties Disrupt Bomber Flight

Mechanical difficulties caused the air force's huge B-36 bomber to pass up a perfect appearance Saturday, Air Force Day. The Statesman was notified Monday by the commanding officer of the Seventh heavy bombardment wing at Fort Worth, Texas.

The message said completion of the scheduled route was impossible, but that the plane might fly over at a later date. The giant bomber went over the Salem area ahead of schedule Saturday but at an altitude too high to be noticeable.

Albany Youths Face Charges For Car Theft

Two Albany youths, charged with the theft of an automobile near Turner last month, are slated to appear in Stayton justice court today.

The pair, 14 and 15 years old, were arrested Monday by a Marion county sheriff's deputy. The car belonged to Louis Schofield, Turner route 1 and was taken from his farm home on the night of August 22, according to Deputy Sheriff William DeVall, who investigated.

Five wheels from the car were found on Cloverdale school grounds by deputies on September 3 and later the body of the 1937 Chevrolet sedan was found on a little-used side road near Turner.

In a statement made to deputies Monday the two said they took the car and later stripped it, according to DeVall. They are charged with larceny and are being held in Marion county jail in lieu of $500 bail each.

Local Fertilizer Plant Reopens

Fertilizer for valley crops will again be coming out of the machinery of the Columbia Metals Corp.'s Salem plant after a production stoppage of several months due to the lack of ammonia. First production was begun Monday as shown above with plant and other officials on hand to witness the event, in the plant collecting bin. Left to right, they are Arch Metzger, plant superintendent; Clay Cochran, Chamber of Commerce manager; U. S. Rep. Walter Norblad; Art King, Oregon State college soil specialist; U. S. Sen. Wayne L. Morse, all of whom were instrumental in getting ammonia allotted to the Salem plant for fertilizer production. (Photo by Don Dill, Statesman staff photographer.)

Community Chest Campaign Plans Set by Committee

Miss Durfee plans to remain in Salem until the first of the year, when she will return to seminary to complete work for her master's degree in Christian education. While here she has aided with young people's and church school work and has directed sessions of vacation Bible school.

Rural School Teachers to Discuss Plans

Approximately 58 rural school teachers in north Marion county will meet Saturday morning at Woodburn high school auditorium to receive and discuss instructions on the coming school year program.

Conducted by Mrs. Vivian Hoening and Mrs. Marguerite Burton, rural school supervisors in the county school superintendent's office, the conference will start at 9:30 a. m. and end by noon.

Attending teachers will be from county zones 1 and 4. Teachers of zones 2, 3 and 5 will meet at a later date, Mrs. Hoening stated.

Such "mechanics of school operation" as beginners' age, report cards, monthly reports, attendance and truancy problems and passing grades will be discussed. School health problems also are to be talked over.

Districts in zone 1 include Donald, Butteville, Aurora, White, St.
