Snapp, Albina Meet in Fistic Title Battle at Armory Tonight

Boxing Season Gets Started

The juiciest fistic entree for Salem in years-Jack (Ginger) Snapp vs. Joey Albina for the state middleweight title owned by the Klamath Falls Ginger Boytonight caps the return of the boxing game to the armory for its fall-winter stand. The big bout, expected to load the arena with a capacity crowd. will climax a 28-round inaugural booked by Matchmaker Tex Salkeld.

Snapp will of course be the favorite, and by his special way of notching wins, via knockout. But the veteran and cocky Albina, the state's middleweight monarch during the war, has been for two years waiting to climb into the same ring with the youthful clouter, so anything might happen. Albina will have much the edge on Snapp in experience and has the one weapon which has given Snapp trouble ever since he began his rise to fistic prominence, a sturdy left hand. The two gladiators will weigh in here today at 3 p.m. Both must weigh no more than 160 pounds. Although most title fights in the state are decided in 15-round bouts, this one has been officially sanctioned by both fighters' managers and the boxing commission even though it is for 10 heats. The supporting card looms as strong. Featherweights Jerry Strutz of Fort Lewis and Jimmy Gooding of Portland meet in the six-round special, and both have been popular performers in past mixes here. The top four-round-er features Lightweights Chuck Brown of Portland and Cal Rob-Inson of Seattle, who have had some dandy fights in Portland for Salkeld and are among the better 135-pounders in the Northwest. The other two four-rounders: Pat Bruno, Portland vs. Don Roberts, Hood River, welterweights, and Bob Calloway, Portland, vs. Joey Edmonds, Fort Lewis, featherweights.

In Snapp's only Salem appearance, a brief prelim shot two years ago, he won by a knockout and has had local fans buzzing ever since. Albina's last local outing was a lopsided win over Dick Abney, in which the cocky Joey both clowned his way to an easy win and brought down the wrath of the customers for his unorthodox doings.

The advance sale of tickets at Maple's has indicated a loaded armory. At least two fistic notables will be among the clients. tional-ranking Cleveland heavyweight who fights Bill Peterson in

If you thoroughly hate and despise a nation you don't so quickly rebound to pay tribute to a citizen of that nation. You know, the old Babe himself might have been of no small value in the diplomatic maneuverings before Pearl Harbor.
