

Homecoming Game at Oregon

Oregon alumni will head for Eugene this weekend to attend the annual homecoming festivities on the University of Oregon campus and the Oregon-Washington State game.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McCormick are leaving Friday to spend the weekend in Eugene at the Eugene hotel. They will be joined there by a group of their Coos Bay and Portland friends for the game and homecoming.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Benson and sons, Steven and Whitney, will also be in Eugene for the game. Mrs. Charles Huggins and son, Charles, will go to Eugene for the weekend and will visit her daughter, Suzanne, at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricks will also motor to Eugene for the game and homecoming festivities. The Huntingtons will visit their daughter, Crystal, and the Carsons will be with their daughter, Jane, both at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Vandenevde will go down for the game and will be joined by their son and daughter-in-law, the Rodney Vandenevdes of Portland, who will remain in Eugene for the weekend. The T. J. Brabecs will also accompany the group south for the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Becke, their daughter, Marjorie, who will be home from Annie Wright seminary at Tacoma for the weekend, and their son-in-law and daughter, the William Shinnis, will also motor to Eugene for the game.

To Remain for Weekend
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk will be in Eugene for the weekend and attend the homecoming events. Mr. and Mrs. James Walton left Wednesday and will remain for the weekend and game. They will be registered at the Osborn hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Needham are going down Friday to attend the Oregon homecoming and the game on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Werner Brown will also drive down for the weekend and the grid classic on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson are among others who will be rooting for Oregon at the game Saturday. All former Oregon students, they will take in the homecoming events on the campus.

Miss Suzanne Small will also be in Eugene for the homecoming weekend and will be a guest at her sorority house, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Between 1776 and 1820, a quarter of a million Europeans immigrated to the United States, half the number which poured in each year between 1890 and 1900.

Play Series Set Sunday

The Salem 20-30 club is again sponsoring the Civic Drama Guild of New York in three stage plays with New York casts. The plays are: "All My Sons," next Sunday night, Oct. 24, "John Loves Mary," Monday, Jan. 23, "But Not Goodbye," March 15. Plays will be presented at the Salem Senior High school and season tickets are being sold at Miller's.

The committee heads are: publicity, Gene Malecki; stage setting and ticket mail sales, Ron Patton; mail order folders, Bob Sandstrom; member ticket sales, Wes Goodrich, and general chairman, Ron Patton.

The 20-30 wives are in charge of selling tickets at the booth. "All My Sons," first of the plays, was given the critics' prize award as the most stimulating play of the season. Hollywood made a picture of it starring Edward G. Robinson. The play was written by Arthur Miller.

Last year, the Salem 20-30 club presented "Dream Girl," "Kiss and Tell," and "Made in Heaven." The proceeds were given to the Salem Memorial Auditorium association fund and this year the proceeds will go to the 20-30 benefit welfare fund.

"But Not Goodbye" was written by George Sarton, an outstanding playwright; "John Loves Mary" is by Norman Krasna, author of "Dear Ruth."

Lois Boatwright To Marry

Planning a December wedding are Miss Lois Boatwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Boatwright, and Ralph McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McAllister, all of Salem. The wedding will take place December at the Central Church of Christ.

Miss Boatwright is a senior at Salem high school and her fiance is a graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kenney, 1590 Center st., are sojourning in southern California this winter. They are the guests of Mrs. Kenney's sister, Mrs. Kathryn Baird Sullivan, at her home in Hollywood. Before returning north they will also visit Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kenney of Bakersfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Medler of Lemon Grove, California. They plan to return to their home after the first of the year.

Mrs. James T. Brand and Mrs. Floyd W. Shepard were in Eugene Monday night as guests of the Quota club international meeting. Mrs. Brand was the guest speaker and talked on the Youth Movement in Germany as sponsored by the American Army of Occupation.

Jaycees Back High School Speech Contest

Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor the annual "I Speak for Democracy" contest for high school students. In connection with national radio week, November 14-20, it was announced Wednesday.

Proclamation of the week in Salem to honor radio stations and dealers, and urging cooperation of local citizens, especially students, was issued by Mayor R. L. Elstrom.

Gene Malecki is chairman of the contest.

Flower Fair Will Be Big Salem Event

The "biggest and best fall show in the northwest" was assured Salem at a meeting of the committee in charge of the Northwest Flower and Garden Fair, sponsored by the Salem Men's Garden club, which will open Saturday at the armory. Reports of the committee members, headed by Mark Taylor, indicated an unusual number of entries promised with inquiries received from distant points as well as by local enthusiasts.

Sixteen garden clubs have reserved space for exhibits, including clubs from Corvallis, Portland, Albany, McMinnville, Newberg, Woodburn, Independence, and Brooks. Several out of state men's garden clubs have indicated they would enter displays in the Airmail contest, says Lee Canfield, in charge of this event.

Chrysanthemums, roses, shrubs and perennials, vegetables, fruits and nuts and decorative arrangements will be the principal classifications for the show.

Club Provides Containers
In the club classification sections include local clubs, decorative arrangements; men's garden clubs, floor displays; out of state garden clubs, and team competition by members of the Salem Men's garden club only.

The local club will provide containers and arrange the displays. In addition to blue, red and white ribbons a cash award will be given.

Besides the competitive exhibits, there will be a large number of commercial displays.

Committees include Charles McElhinny, George Malstrom, commercial; Harry Esch, P. H. Michael, Gilbert Steen, floor; E. C. Doan, George Candeaux, L. L. Fer-

J. R. Beck Will Talk To Linn Farmers

J. R. Beck, acting assistant director of Oregon State college extension service, will discuss changes in Oregon's agriculture during the past 25 years at the October 25 meeting of the Linn county agricultural planning council, reports O. E. Mikesell, county extension agent in Linn. Mr. Beck serves as county agent in Polk county for several years and headed the emergency farm labor program for the extension service during World War II.

Members of the planning council are C. H. Brown, Shedd; W. E. Swank, Albany; Albert Julian, Lyons; Mrs. Marian Goar and John Shepherd, Scio; Warren Cooley, Walter Shelby, Mrs. Lilly Edwards, Floyd Fisher, Harry Winkley, Robert Schmidt and Kenneth Arnold all of Albany.

Ruling Made on Addition To High School Districts

Territory of a county high school district may not be annexed to a union high school district, Attorney General George Neuner ruled Tuesday.

The opinion was requested by the state education department based on a situation arising in Wheeler county.

Linn-Benton Dairy Breeders to Meet

The third annual meeting of the Linn-Benton Dairy Breeders' association will be held November 3 at the Linn County 4-H club fair building. John Pugh, president, has announced. The meeting has been called for 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served on the grounds at noon.

Of special interest this year will be the showing and judging of several calves born from artificial insemination. These animals are all owned by Linn and Benton county farmers.
