Vote Nears 50,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 — (AP) — With five-sixths of the precincts in, there remained the barest mathematical possibility tonight of a popular vote reaching 50,000,000. It would be a new record.

The popular tally at 3:30 p.m. (PST) was 43,296,211 including the votes for Truman, Dewey, Wallace and Thurmond but not the lesser candidates.

If it were safe to assume that the total of uncounted ballots were in proportion to the number of unreported precincts, the popular vote would add up to about 50,800,000.

However, late-reporting precincts are frequently in small rural communities; the number of votes per precinct thus is lower than in early returns, and the increase in vote correspondingly slower.

The voting record was set in 1940, when 49,815,312 Americans cast ballots in the Roosevelt-Willkie contest. The second highest total was in 1944, when 47,976,263 ballots were cast in the Roosevelt-Dewey race.

National Guard Quota Raised

Authorization for the Oregon national guard (air divisions) to recruit its full strength of 1,275 officers and enlisted men not later than Jan. 1, 1949, was received at national guard headquarters here Wednesday from the national guard bureau at Washington, D. C.

The air national guard now has a total of 614 men. Men from 17 to 35 years of age, either with or without prior military service, are eligible. Those from 35 to 45 years of age with specified degrees of prior service may be accepted.

Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea said he was confident the guard air force would be brought up to its full strength.

Linn County Returns

ALBANY, Nov. 3 — Only precincts missing tonight in the Linn county election tally were the large Sweet Home precinct, Lebanon, 6 and Albany Nos. 5 and 10. The unofficial totals from the other precincts are as follows:

Morse Gives Labor Credit For Victory

ASHLAND, Ore., Nov. 3 — (AP) — The republicans can not afford to ignore the "silent, resentful labor vote" that defeated them yesterday, Sen. Wayne L. Morse (R-Ore) asserted here today.

Morse, often one of his own party's most severe critics, advised, "we republicans had better reorganize. The American people are going to insist upon a program of constitutional liberalism in American politics."

It was a vote "against the Taft-Hartley law" that upset the republicans, the Oregon senator told students in a speech at Southern Oregon College of Education.

"No one was more surprised than I," he added, but went on to imply the republicans' campaign tactics might have contributed to their defeat in the presidential race.

"We will not be serving the future well if we ignore the fact that our people yesterday showed more interest in the discussion of specific issues rather than of the topic 'unity,'" Morse said.

He urged unity, however, behind President Truman "in support of all those things which are essential to winning the peace. That issue surpasses all others. It must be brought about by a non-partisan, bi-partisan plan."

Election Bet Ends With Disorderly Conduct Charge

Loss of an election wager was threatening to cost Chris Kowitz, jr., 1961 S. 12th st., more than the original bet after he was arrested Wednesday evening on charges of disorderly conduct.

Kowitz posted $100 bail in municipal court on the charge. Police reported that Kowitz was washing a convertible owned by Richard Carter, clad only in a baby bonnet and diaper. That didn't bother the law as much as where the car laundry was being conducted — cross-wise of South 12th street during the 5:30 p.m. rush hour.

Police reported traffic was tied up for blocks on the busy thoroughfare as Kowitz squirted the car with a seltzer bottle and cried "Boo Hoo! I wanted Dewey!"

He will pay off the rest of the bet in municipal court at 8:30 this morning when he appears before Judge W. W. McKinney.
