To Open 'Mum' Show Saturday

Mayor R. L. Elfstrom will officially open National Flower week, so far as Salem is concerned, Saturday night at 7 o'clock when he welcomes the spectators to the style show which is being featured as part of the Optimist Chrysanthemum show Saturday and Sunday at the Salem armory.

The show itself opens to the public at 2:30 p. m. Saturday and closes Sunday night at 9 p. m. Salem Opti-Mrs. of which Mrs. Kem Foster is president, is arranging the style show which will be repeated Sunday at 4 p. m. Mrs. Sidney Jary has headed the group who has been making the contacts with the local merchants who are furnishing the styles.

The show will be divided into horticulture and artistic arrangement divisions with the usual classifications in each division. One section has been set aside for the Garden clubs.

Special divisions in the arrangement group, is one featuring driftwood and another featuring Thanksgiving table settings complete.

A third division will show chrysanthemum corsages while the fourth group is given over to the junior division.
