

Bush Pupils Present Dental Play, Art Exhibit

The importance of dental hygiene to school children was stressed in "The Bad Baby Molar," a one-act play presented Friday by pupils of Bush grade school. Members of the cast, left to right, were Geraldine Sauer, Duane Fulps, Dennis Jensen, Virginia Juntio, Suzanne Jochimsen, Wayne Schraeyer, Shannon Loiza, Charles Schuelke, Barbara Haakenson, Bobby Balch, Jean Haworth, Laverne Gilman, Larry Payne, Martha Minto and Layton Webb. Behind giant toothbrush is Bill Giles. (Statesman photo).

Three Bush grade school students pictured above display some of the arts and crafts work which was shown to visiting parents during Bush open house Monday night in observance of National Education week. Holding dolls molded and clothed by pupils are, left, Brenda K. Aschenbrenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Aschenbrenner, 235 W. Wilson st.; Sally Jenkins, daughter of Mrs. Sally Jenkins, 125 W. Lincoln st.; and Roger Colgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Colgan, Salem route 4, box 234. In the background are other dolls and a section of a 25-foot mural depicting "Life in the Far North," an art project completed by Bush pupils. (Statesman photo).
