

Rites Read At Church Saturday

The young girls, who attended Miss Charlotte Williams at her wedding Saturday night when she became the bride of Richard Givens, wore turquoise and orchid brocaded satin frocks. The ceremony took place at the Knight Memorial church with the Rev. Louis White performing the 8 o'clock rites. Miss Beverly Kenney was the soloist.

Bouquets of orchid and white chrysanthemums were arranged at the altar and lighting the tapers were Miss Ramona Evans and Miss Norma Cass, who wore turquoise brocaded satin frocks.

Proceeding the bride to the altar were Miss Peggy Burroughs and Mrs. Donald Dill, bridesmaids, and Miss Kathryn Williams, the honor maid. Walking immediately before them was little Pamela Williams, the flower girl. They all were gowned in orchid brocaded satin except the maid of honor who wore turquoise. The dresses were designed with low, round necklines, cap sleeves, buttons to the waist in front and full skirts. They wore matching bonnet style half hats and carried bouquets of orchid and deep purple chrysanthemums.

Wears Elizabethan Gown

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Williams, was given in marriage by her father. Her white satin gown was of Elizabethan style with high stand-up collar, buttons to the waistline in front, long sleeves with a ruffled cuff and a full skirt terminating in a train. For "something borrowed" she wore Mrs. Donald Dill's veil of tulle cascading from a crown of orange blossoms. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums.

Bruce Coon stood with the groom as best man and seating the guests were Frank Ford, Tom Ford, Willis Estep and James Armstrong.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Williams chose a teal blue crepe gown with gold gloves and a corsage of gold button chrysanthemums. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. York and she wore a rose crepe gown with white gloves and gardenias in her hair for the ceremony.

A reception followed in the fireplace room. Mrs. Newell Williams, jr. and Miss Mary Gladys Turner presided at the urns and Mrs. Julian Burroughs cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. James Armstrong, Miss Mavis Eggens and Miss Velma Davis.

After a trip to the coast the couple will be at home in Forest Grove, where he is attending Pacific college. For traveling the bride wore a chocolate brown suit with brown accessories and brown hat with white feather. With her outfit she wore a white topcoat.

Birthday to Be Celebrated

Twenty-fourth birthday of Marion auxiliary, 661, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be celebrated at a no-host dinner Monday night at the VFW hall at 8:30 o'clock.

A special invitation has been extended to all members of the post and their wives, past commanders of the post and past presidents of the auxiliary to attend. After the dinner a program will be presented by the post. No business meeting has been scheduled for Monday.

Mrs. B. O. Schucking is expected to arrive in the capital by plane Saturday from a month's trip which took her to New York, Miami, Guatemala, Mexico City, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Modern Drama class will gather for a no-host luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the South High street home of Mrs. Chester A. Downs.

Heading the directorate for the Salem Junior Woman's club annual Thanksgiving semi-formal dance on Friday, November 26 at the armory are Mrs. Irwin York, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Atwood and Miss Verla Beckett, co-chairmen. Claude Bird's orchestra will play for dancing. (Kennell-Elis).

Dance Slated For Friday

Final plans have been made for the Salem Junior Woman's club semi-formal Thanksgiving dance to be an event of Friday night at the armory with dancing from ten to one o'clock. Claude Bird's orchestra has been engaged to play for the cabaret style dance. The Thanksgiving motif will be carried out in the decorations. Tickets for the benefit affair may be obtained from Miss Lucille Satter at Elstrom's or Mrs. Verne Robb at Miller's.

Mrs. E. W. York is chairman of the dance and co-chairmen are Mrs. Ralph Atwood and Miss Verla Beckett. Assisting the committee are Mrs. Sidney Leveré, Mrs. Clarence Stanley, Mrs. Floyd Emmons, Mr. F. L. Cook, Miss Elsie Furrer, Mrs. Terry Randall and Mrs. Donald Freil.

ALBANY — Announcement of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Dryden of Tappahannock, Va., will be of interest to many people in Linn and Marion counties, as well as other parts of the state. The baby is the grandson of the late Willard L. Marks of Albany, former state senator, and for many years president of the board of higher education. Mrs. Dryden is the former Beryl Marks of Albany, and her husband, who is now editor and manager of the Tappahannock Times, was an officer in the 70th division which trained at Camp Adair in 1943-1944, later seeing service in the European theater. The baby has been named Willard Marks and will be called Mark. This is the first child in the Dryden home.

Dr. and Mrs. Morion E. Peck were hosts to the Salem Writers' club on Wednesday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Anderson, Mrs. Flora Thompson Enders, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mrs. Blanche Jones, Miss Renska Ladd Swart, Mrs. William Merriott, Mrs. Jessie C. Singleton, Mrs. Lynn Fortsch, Mrs. Robert Hutcheon and George Shand. A guest was Mrs. E. M. White.

Seen and Heard...

By IERYME ENGLISH

HOME AGAIN . . . is Hattie Bratzel, who has been in Germany nearly two years . . . most interesting are her colored slides of Germany and the other European countries . . . After completing her work for Judge James T. Brand at the Nuernberg trials, she spent the following year traveling nearly every weekend, and so impressed were we with pictures of "Maxi," her Fiat, an Italian car, that we wanted to go right over and see the sights . . . and now that Hattie has found out she can buy parts over here for her Fiat, she is more than sorry she sold her navy blue convertible before coming home . . .

About the slides . . . gorgeous pictures with exquisite settings, backgrounds and unbelievable cloudless skies . . . Hattie's favorite resort was at St. Wolfgang-see . . . and nothing to compare with for scenery was the mountainous country of Austria . . . and the many snowcapped peaks . . . The sidewalk cafes in Paris intrigued Hattie . . . dozens of pictures of scenic Italy, Venice, Rome and Capri . . . She also toured in Switzerland, other parts of Germany and one trip over to England . . .

Wardrobe notes . . . Hattie came home with her suitcases filled with tailor made suits, dresses and coats . . . she purchased most of the material in Luxembourg, Switzerland and Italy . . . The material, along with a picture out of Vogue or Harpers, went to the tailors in Nuernberg and in a few days a suit or coat was ready and only for six or seven dollars in American money, unbelievable . . . Our favorite suit of Hattie's is a black and white check with cape effect and chic hat to match . . . and for dress a handsome black gabardine full skirted suit with fitted jacket . . . a soft rolled collar with extra fullness and buttons accented in the back of the jacket . . . A full skirted black bengaline coat with fitted waist and a beige suit are among others . . . oh yes, a gay print from the Russian zone . . . the design so intricate the dressmaker laid it on the pattern upside down but Hattie thinks she will wear it anyway . . . Sally McLellan, who also has been in Germany the past two years, came home with a new wardrobe . . . made by a dressmaker for only a gift or two in return . . . For one suit of homespun Sally purchased the material where it was woven in Ireland . . . Material for a skirt was bought in Brussels and with it she wears a dashing red sleeveless sweater blouse from Paris.

SOLOIST . . . Elizabeth Nelson, daughter of the George Nelsons, a Tri Delt at the University of Oregon, has been selected as the contralto solo for "The Messiah" when "The Messiah" is presented on the University of Oregon campus December 5 . . . Pretty blonde Elizabeth was selected for the part out of a chorus of 450 voices . . .

MOVING NOTES . . . The Robert Eyres and children, Virginia and George, are now settled in their newly purchased home at Four Corners . . .

The Doctor Horace McGee family hope to move by December 10 into their new home at 546 N. 22nd street, formerly owned by Mrs. J. Edgar Purdy . . . They are now busy redecorating . . .

NOT AT HOME . . . If one can't find Dorathea Steusloff at home any more, she no doubt is out riding in her new jeep station wagon . . . she decided her couple was no longer adequate to take the five grand nephews and nieces to the beach, on picnics and jaunts about town . . . Even our little boy had a thrill when she took him for a ride the other morning . . . what caught our eye was the handy umbrella case at the side entrance door, so one will never be caught without an umbrella when it begins to rain . . . and the side seat in back known as the "mother-in-law" seat . . . pretty clever these modern conveniences.

OPEN HOUSE a week ago at the Pi Beta Phi sorority . . . to show their several hundred guests their newly completed addition . . .

The dining room a almost twice the size it was and adjoining it the solarium with paneled glass windows clear across the back . . . and gorgeous drapes of wine poplin . . . colorful sectional furniture . . . and in the dining room the drapes a fruit basket design on a dark green background . . . and for a feminine touch a nylon hour glass curtain on the door in the dining room . . . glass shelves with ivy in amethyst glass bottles adorning one of the shorter windows . . . A new guest room with pretty orchid and yellow wall paper . . . gay chintz Dutch curtains in the pantry and powder room . . . a streamlined white kitchen with two double sinks . . . Upstairs a large sleeping porch, some 40 beds, and several new rooms for the girls . . . and a chapter room in the basement, where the first initiation will be held this morning . . .

The guests . . . Nice to see so many campus men calling . . . several fraternity and sorority groups with their housemothers . . . faculty members and their wives . . . In line . . . Maxine Meyers, the attractive house president, in black with white . . . Mrs. Paul Weyrauch, house mother, and Mrs. Merrill Ohling, both choosing black . . . and Mrs. Kenneth Potts in a becoming antique gold crepe . . .

The decor . . . The Pi Phi colors, silver blue and wine, carried throughout . . . a blue satin cloth on the table with ribbon streamers of wine . . . the centerpiece of blue and wine chrysanthemums flanked by wine tapers . . .

Blue and wine nosegays on the doors of the girls' rooms . . . From out-of-town spotted Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Dixon (Charlotte Litchfield) over from Toledo . . . Virginia Covert down from Portland and with her mother, Mrs. L. S. Covert, . . . also Mrs. Joseph E. Harvey, jr., of Portland.

The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Sunday, November 21, 1948-9

From Vancouver, B. C., comes news of the birth of a six pound, nine ounce son to Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Fraiser (Doryce Ross) on November 19. The little boy has two brothers, Gregory Bruce and Glenn Douglas, II. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ross of Salem.

University of Oregon Mothers are busy completing plans for their annual rummage sale to be held November 29 and 30 with Mrs. Phil Schnell and Mrs. George Alexander as co-chairmen. Mrs. John Caughell and Mrs. Charles Huggins head the pickup committee and marking was done the past week at the home of the president, Mrs. E. L. Crockatt.
