

Salem Man Married

Salem friends will be interested to learn of the marriage of Albert Glenn Luther, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Luther of Salem, to Miss Violet Mae Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Lee, Portland, Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church in Portland. The Rev. Robert Russell officiated and Miss Jean Herald was the soloist. Mrs. Amy Welch was the organist.

Mr. Lee gave his daughter in marriage and her wedding gown of white slipper satin was designed with a sheer yoke and satin and lace bertha. The full skirt was enhanced with cascades of satin and Chantilly lace in the side panels. Clusters of orange blossoms held in place her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Paul Mohr of Portland was the matron of honor and wore a pastel orchid satin gown with quilted bodice and matching lace mitts. She carried a muff adorned with gold shaggy chrysanthemums with matching flowers in her hair. Mrs. Clarence Frey of Salem, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a mist green satin gown and carried a muff with orchid chrysanthemums and the same flowers in her hair.

Beverly Jean Frey of Salem was flower girl and wore a full skirted pastel green satin frock and carried a nosegay.

William Lapschies of Salem was best man and ushers were Harvey Lee of San Francisco, Orval Lama and Harold Duncan of Salem and Leon Bishop of Portland.

Mrs. Lee wore a butterscotch moss crepe gown with orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Luther attended her son's marriage in a royal blue gown and orchid corsage.

A reception followed in the Tyrolean room of the Benson hotel. Assisting were Mrs. Chester Hanna, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Phil-

but . . . have you noticed that there isn't the knot hole clientele around the buildings being built that there used to be. That's because we've had so many excavations in the business district recently, curiosity, it would seem, has at last been quenched.

Just deserts . . . If truck drivers don't handle their machines with more respect to others they'll soon see women lean out of their cars and shout, "Man Driver!"

Identification . . . The girl who turned the pages for Spivakovsky on Friday night was Barbara Miller, a music student at Willamette, and we bet she didn't get to watch the violinist very much either.

All Clear . . . When weather like Saturday morning comes along, it makes one forget any past misdeeds of the weather and remember only the fresh air and bright sun.

At the time . . . of this writing, we haven't yet eaten the YW-YM's smorgasbord Saturday night, but if at the time of reading we aren't well filled with lefse, potato salad, lingonberries, pickled herring, meat balls, pickled beets, herring salad, ryecrisp, cheese (including gjesost), rye bread, kippered salmon tips, coffee, and a few other Swedish foods we'll be very much surprised.

Choir to Sing Evening Concert

The choir of the First Presbyterian church, directed by Virginia Ward Elliott, will put on its first music night program of the season Sunday at 7:30 p. m. One of the featured numbers of the choir will be a special arrangement of The Battle Hymn of Republic. In this number Mr. Ralph Dobbs will join Mrs. Dobbs, the organist, in an organ-piano accompaniment.

With the choir will be H. Johann Eschbach, baritone, as guest soloist. Professor Eschbach is head of the voice department of Linfield college. On his program will be:

It Is Enough (Elijah) — Mendelssohn
Mighty Lord, and King All-Glorious (The Christmas Oratorio) — Bach
Ye Are the Salt of the Earth (from Forsaken of Man) — Sowerby
Thought With the Tongues of Men and Holy Angels — Brahms
Hear My Cry, O God — Sowerby
Abide With Me — Liddle

Miss Dallas Engaged

Adding her name to the list of brides-elect is Miss Catherine Louise Dallas, daughter of Mrs. Willis Robert of Salem, who will be married during the Christmas holidays to Luther Carson of Paris, Texas.

Miss Dallas graduated from Oregon State college and is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She is now teaching in the Dallas, Texas public schools and will be home in mid-December. Her fiancé, who served in the army during the war, is attending schools in Dallas, Texas, where the couple met.

Dr. and Mrs. George Terry Hill left by plane Saturday night for Seattle, where he will attend a meeting of the Northwest Orthodontists society. They plan to return on Tuesday.

NEWBERG — Grayton Duggan announced this week he would start organization of a non-profit band if enough persons are interested in the proposal.

Duggan said the Chamber of Commerce rooms would be open each Tuesday night for practices. He said he desires to start a band to provide persons just out of high school or college an opportunity to continue their musical studies.

Ceremony at Home Today

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Lenaburg on the Silverton road will be the setting for the marriage of his sister, Miss Esther Lenaburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lenaburg, to Curtis L. Carothers, son of Mrs. Jessie Carothers of Shedd and Lloyd Carothers of Primeville, tonight at 7 o'clock. The Rev. H. W. Gross will perform the ceremony. Mrs. William Fisher will sing and her husband will be the accompanist.

The couple will exchange their vows before the fireplace and the mantle will be decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums garlanded with greens flanked with candelabras. Mrs. Clifford Sprenger in a beige suit and Mrs. John Eagleton, who will wear a wine suit, will light the tapers. In their hair will be berettes of white chrysanthemums.

For her wedding the bride has chosen a white wool crepe suit with navy blue accessories and corsage of pink rapture roses and stephanotis. Mr. Lenaburg will give his daughter in marriage. Mrs. James Barnard will be her sister's honor attendant and will wear a two-piece grey suit with black accessories and corsage of red roses and tricotina leaves. Gary Hughes, nephew of the groom, will serve as best man.

Mrs. Lenaburg will wear a black print with black accessories and Mrs. Carothers' suit is of navy blue with brown accessories. Their corsages will be of gardenias and cariosa roses.

At the reception Mrs. James Wolfe, sister of the bride, will pour and Mrs. Del Carpenter of Monroe, sister of the groom, will cut the cake.

After a trip to California the couple will be at home in Shedd.

Speaking of RECORDS

Little children love to hear on records familiar songs and stories. Their favorite Nursery Rhymes are presented in such jolly fashions, which only heighten their every day living experiences.

One of the outstanding recordings for tots from 2 to 4 years is Decca's Genie, the Magic Record narrated by Peter Lind Hayes. It is packed with enthusiasm and motivates attention by moving from one meaningful incident to another. Youngsters are asked by the record to participate in the musical games, which is a grand way to promote good listening habits.

And Christmas brings 'Twas the Night Before Christmas narrated by Milton Cross on RCA Victor Records. The Jingle Bell Fantasy on the other side has much jingle and snap. Christmas could also bring in Susie's stocking, that adorable story, The Gingerbread Man told by Decca's Frank Luther with all the music and sound effects.

Next week the 4 to 6 year old recordings will be high-lighted. We'll slip in a wee bit about the new sensational story-plays, The Three Bears and The Three Little Pigs, which include props, figures, and a 12-in. non-breakable record.
