

'Cats, Badgers Place 3 Men On Conference All-Star Club

Beddoe 'Pat', Clabaugh In

Thorgerson, Russell, Winbigler Unanimous

PORTLAND, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Willamette and Pacific university led the Northwest conference field today in landing three players each on the all-conference football eleven.

Whitman and College of Idaho placed two players each on the all-star team and Linfield one.

Conference coaches were unanimous in their selection of three players—End Arnold Thorgerson of Pacific, and Stan Russell of Pacific and Halback Tom Winbigler, College of Idaho, backs. It was the second straight year the trio have won all-conference honors.

The coaches pegged the three as strong candidates for the little all-America eleven on the basis of their outstanding play in all games.

The first team selections (with votes received) were: ends—Thorgerson, Pacific (10) and Arnold Huntley, Linfield (7); tackles—Bob Maggett, Pacific (7) and Don Golden, Whitman (6); guards—Arnold Buckler, Whitman (8) and Art Beddoe, Willamette (8); center—Chuck Patterson, Willamette (5); backs—Glen Ward (6) and Winbigler (10) College of Idaho; Russell, Pacific (10) and Keith Clabaugh, Willamette (6).

The coaches named seven backs for the second eleven because of the voting.

The second team (with votes received):

Ends—Rich Gardner, Idaho, (4); Drew Miller, Whitman (3).
Tackles—Bill Kukahiko, Willamette (5); Warren Schroeder, Linfield (4); Guards—Bob Sweet, Lewis-Clark (6); Joe Caldwell, Idaho (4).
Center—Reece Shaffer, Idaho (4).

Backs—John Seely, Linfield (4); Roy Harrington (4) and John Burleigh (3), both Willamette; Hal Ellmers (3) and Stan Blair (3) both Lewis-Clark; Calvin Hayes (3) and John Baxter (3), both Whitman.

Honorable mention: Art Bakke, Pete Hahn, Lee Meisen, Reuben Baisch and Bill Frable of Lewis-Clark; Gene Allison, and Bob Douglas, Willamette; Edward Rooney, Daniel Rollins, William Seiker, John Jubb, Vincent Cyphers, Paul Hutton and Marvin Buntin, Pacific; Dimitri Gouebel, Charles Lamb, Jim Gilmore, Bob Green, Bill Hogarth and Goulass Reid, U. of British Columbia; Denny Whitman, Melvin Kawasoe, Bud Hammack, College of Idaho; Bob Schofield, Louis King, Harry Schibel, Bill Palmquist and Carl Wickham, Linfield; Ed McGovern, Don Siverts and Dick Bader, Whitman.

Vikings Wait Opening Game

With a tentative starting five now lined up, Salem high's Vikings await their 1948-49 basketball season opener next Saturday night in the SHS gym with the Roosevelt Rough Riders of Portland.

Coach Harold Hauk has named his probable starting lineup to include Lettermen Tom Paulus at forward and Bud Duvall at guard and Jay-vee grads Benny Pitzer at the other forward and Darrel Girod at the other guard spot. With another week of practice before them, however, changes could be made. There are 21 aspirants in

Speaking of RECORDS

That funny old clown, Bozo, can do anything. He can go any place—even to the bottom of the sea; and he can lead Toyland Parades as no one else can. Bozo is a featured Capitol records artist. His illustrated story recordings are a favorite of all. Bozo, the Clown is tops with the pre-school children, while his second recording, Bozo, and his Rocket Ship, has more meaning to primary youngsters. Bozo, under the Sea, his latest, appeals to children of most any age. In this recording, everytime the water bubbles from under the diving suit, he wants the page turned. Good idea for wet tots, who can't read.

The new story-plays, Goldilocks has an Adventure and The Three Figs appeal especially to paper-doll fans. While the large 12" non-breakable record relates the story, the figures with props can be placed about the play-house. These will hold interest for hours and only $2.95!

Victor's Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer is a sweet story. Yes, he leads Santa's sleigh Christmas Eve, all because of that red nose. The Toy and Hobby Shop on Commercial Street has the Rudolph Game which accompanies this recording. Santa Claus might remember this.

We could mention so many favorites—The Little Engine that Could, Sparky and the Talking Trains, and Peter Churchmouse, but visit our complete children's department and hear them. Remember, we are open until nine Friday evenings.

Beaver Cagers Speed Drills for Opener

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Nov. 27.—(Special)—With their first pre-season contest due Wednesday, Coach Slat's Gill's varsity basketballers are working hard each day in search of a starting five for the game in Portland with the Portland university Pilots. As yet, the veteran Orange mentor does not have a "first" or "second" quint, but has two different units which could be used alternately or through free substitutions. Holding down the forward berths on one unit are Glen Kinney, rangy sophomore, and Alex Petersen, two-year letterman. Fred Sproule, another junior veteran, is handling the guard chores on this outfit.

Junior college, has top billing at the pivot position. Cliff Crandall, all-coast star a year ago, and Letterman Dan Torrey are being used as running mates at guard. Another five finds Ray Snyder, 6 feet 4 inch transfer from Marin, Calif. junior college, and Bill Harper, speedy sophomore, at forwards. Len Rinearson, first-string center last season, is working behind Fleming with this group. Dick Ballantyne, hard-driving junior letterman, and Tommy Holman, another junior veteran, are handling the guard chores on this outfit.

ius, junior letterman, at forwards; Fred Rosch, transfer from Phoenix, Ariz. junior college, at center; and Jimmy Catterall and Frankie Roelandt, both lettermen, at guards. These three teams are not necessarily in order, but have been used in similar succession in workouts to date. The Beavers, after meeting the Pilots next Wednesday, head for Salt Lake City where they tangle with Utah State Friday night and with Utah Saturday night.
