

Mrs. Ellen Fisher spent the holiday weekend in Portland with her son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Harvey, jr.

Seen and Heard...

By IERYME ENGLISH

were members of the male contingent of the bridal party... Mrs. George Jones, a good-looking brunette, stunning in a navy suit and fetching hat of navy and red... and Mrs. Robert Dunn wearing a ballroom length print with gold slippers... The Kenneth Yorks going on to the law school dance... she smartly dressed in black crepe... Mrs. Harry Worth in brown with furs... Assisting... petite Patricia Fish, who is with United Airlines in Portland, in a becoming, ebony blue velvet gown with tiered bustle back... her mother, Mrs. Asahel Fish, choosing a pink feather hat with her dark ensemble... Mrs. Lester Barr in black embellished with pink beads... Mrs. Robert Bailey in a deep purple with fuchsia top...
TUESDAY'S MARRIAGE
 Stunning were the colors Yvonne Gardner selected for her attendants to wear at her wedding when she became Kenneth Robertson's bride. Their tiered bustle back taffeta frocks of copper tone and topaz worn with contrasting Elizabeth style hats with plumes... their round cluster bouquets of the same shades... and streamers tied with mums, falling to the hemline... smiles for five-year old Susan Crawford, flower girl, trotting down the aisle ahead of the bridal party and frocked like the older girls... Yvonne and Ken were so afraid someone would stop them that they slipped out quietly from the church with only a few showering them with rice.

Miss Currey Is Visitor

An interesting visitor in town is Miss Carol Currey, who is spending a 60-day leave from her duties with the office of the American consulate general at Munich, Germany. She is spending the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays with her father Fred Currey and her sister, Mrs. Thomas Wood.
 Miss Currey has been in Munich for the past two and a half years, having flown there when the first military government was set up. She spent two years in Hawaii, 12 years in China and Japan and later spent two years working for the state here. She then went to Washington, D. C., where she was with the department of state during the war years.
 Miss Currey came from Germany on the S. S. America and following her stay here, will spend a week of intensive work in Washington, D. C., before returning to Munich.

Book Fair to Be At Church

A book fair will be held Wednesday afternoon beginning at one o'clock, by members of the First Congregational church's guild. Hugh Morrow will display and talk about books suitable for Christmas giving. The fair is sponsored by the Salem public library, the state library is loaning a motion picture, "It's All Yours" starring Ralph Belamy.
 Mrs. Charles Laport will review the book, "The Sad Shepherd" by Henry VanDyke. Mrs. Max Flohrer will sing and will lead group singing. Mrs. Ted Gordon will accompany.

 to the hard working committee and the hundred or more volunteer workers for the successful smorgasbord dinner sponsored jointly by the YWCA and YMCA a week ago... Over four hundred attending and many turned away because they had no advance reservations... Special mention to Mrs. Arthur Madsen the general chairman and Mrs. Oscar Ludahl, who was in charge of the food... the later making the trip to Portland to purchase some of the ingredients and supervising the 24 women who prepared the food for two days... not including the pastries made in the bakeries... Also volunteering were dozens of sewing girls and bus boys...
 The collation... both sides of the table arranged with attractive dishes... so colorful and artistically arranged... the centerpiece of chrysanthemums, carnations and cattails... the long individual tables decorated with autumn fruits...
 The entertainment... Highlighting the floor show for the evening were the dances by the International Folk Dancing group from Portland... Ten came down and were joined for several numbers by the Salem dancers, who have only been organized this fall... On finishing their dances noted several of the girls took their shoes off... at first thought their feet must be tired, but on inquiring learned they prefer to dance in bare feet... so off comes the shoes as they are not comfortable... Watching dance numbers from the balcony... Mrs. C. W. Parker the YWCA president, Mrs. Esther Little executive secretary and Mrs. Gus Moore, wife of the YMCA secretary and dozens more...
