State's Young Republicans To Seek Meet

An invitation to Oregon for the next national Young Republican club convention and plans for future statewide meetings were approved Sunday in a state Young Republican executive board meeting in Portland.

James Collins of Salem, president of the Marion county club and national committeeman for the state, said he had found favorable reaction from other areas to possibility of a national meeting in Oregon in May or June.

The executive board will meet here again in late January, along with members of clubs in the area, with the program to include a look into the legislative process that will be underway in the capitol.

James Hatfield of Woodburn was named to head a state policy committee which is to investigate ways and means of making the republican party more effective and to report back to another state convention in six months. The committee, to which Hatfield will make appointments, was authorized at the state meet here early in December.

Personnel selections at the board meeting included Ralph Holman, Oregon City, as president for the first congressional district; Jack Schoppert of Polk county as chairman of an expansion committee; James Ragland of Willamette university as chairman of a college expansion committee; Lawson McCall of Portland to head a speakers' bureau; Val Slopier of Salem and Max McMillan of Silverton on a legislative committee.

Alien Property Law to Receive Court Hearing

Arguments of attorneys will be heard today in the state supreme court in the case of Kenji Namba, Etsua Namba and Florence C. Donald against District Attorney John McCourt, Multnomah county, and Attorney General George Neuner, attacking constitutionality of the Oregon alien property law.

Circuit Judge James W. Crawford, Multnomah county, before whom the case originally was heard, held for the defendants whereupon the plaintiffs appealed, on the issue of whether a Japanese alien and his citizen son have authority to lease a farm or farms in Multnomah county with the permission of the owner who desires to lease a farm to them.

Plaintiffs said before leasing a farm they desired to obtain a decree of the courts so as to avoid the risk of criminal prosecution, fines and imprisonment and the further risk of forfeiture by each-cheat proceedings.

Scouting in the district has advanced generally and the summer camp at Camp Pioneer was particularly successful, 30 per cent of the boys having attended, the reports showed.

M. D. Woolley of the Woodburn State Training school, was the speaker. "Of the greatest importance," Woolley said, "in a boy's early training is the direction of his energies into productive and useful channels, too much undirected time as a source of 'fun' all too often malicious and even law-breaking."

Slow Pace Urged Because of the desperate need, the speaker urged leaders to "sell scouting to the public" since it may fill the place which fathers used to take when families lived at a slower pace and sons learned from fathers many of the things which scouting now teaches.

Present for the dinner which was prepared by Mrs. Velma Carey of Gates, were Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Spraker, Clarence Baldwin, Frank Forrette of Stayton; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Howe, Clyde Golden, George Yeteto, R. L. Stiffler, Mill City; Mr. and Mrs. Chet Grimes, Lyons; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Kirsch, Mehama; Harry Harmon, Gale Carey and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Burton, Gates; Walter J. Scott of Salem and Eric Soderberg of Albany. The latter two are assistant executives.

Next meeting will be in the Mill City high school January 13.

Departments Store Santa was given at the no-host banquet Monday evening of band and orchestra students and their parents. Participants in the program were Layton Gilson, Verl Holden, Bob

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

New members of National Honor society and National Athletic Honor society were introduced to the student body during a "surprise" assembly Monday morning.

"Abdul the Mystic" was played by John Rockefeller who used several stunts requiring audience participation to introduce the new members. Gladys Book and Alta Hadley assisted Rockefeller. One girl was wrapped in a sheet as a mummy only to appear a few minutes later walking down the aisle amidst the audience. When the sheet was unwrapped the other assistant appeared to amazement of the audience.

Names of new members were given during this act and during several more which "Abdul" performed.

New members of the society are Margie Acton, Charles Austin, Muriel Baney, Jack Byers, Leah Case, Thais Candell, Sally Dwyer, Mary Ruth Dwyer, Martha Durham, Joyce Edgell, George Ehrer, Pat Fitzsimmons, Dick Fuhr, Dorothy Govig, Joya Mae Grayless, Phillip Johnston, Joyce Kirby and Glenn Kleen.

Carolyn Matter, Sue McElhinney, Warren Mulkey, Shirlee Newberry Marjo Ogie, Lloyd Olson, Billie Ruth Pierce, Marilyn Quamme, Ann Swigart, Mary Swigart, Jane Trojan and Don Young.

Dinner and Induction Planned Formal induction for these new members will be held January 19. The annual homecoming dinner for present and former members will be held in the school cafeteria at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

"Trees" is the theme of the banquet at which Mike Kave, chapter president and E. A. Carleton, high school principal, will give the greetings. Janice Middleton will speak on "Trees in Spring"; Ruth Holtzman, "Trees in Autumn"; Margaret Forsythe "Family Tree"; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pence, "Tree of Life"; Beryl Holt, "Sigma Lambda Family Tree"; Barbara Zumwalt, "Christmas letter"; Kenneth Lenaburg "Shoe-Tree"; and George Error, "Tree By-Products." Bruce McDonald will be master of ceremonies.

Committee chairman for the banquet are Diane Perry, reception; Alta Hadley, decorations; and Alberta Fern, program. Advisers to the chapter are: Mary Eyre, Beryl Holt, Irene Hollenbeck, Mrs. Mary B. Smith Frank Neer and E. A. Carleton.

Athletes in Honor Society Five new members were taken into National Athletic Honor society during the same assembly Monday morning. They were: Doug Rogers, Jim Rock, George Error, Paul Jewell and Lee Harra. Membership requirements are at least a "B" grade average and a letter in either a major or minor sport. Members are distinguished by the white star worn on lettermen sweaters.

Purpose of the group is to encourage high scholarship among athletes and to develop leadership. Bruce McDonald was membership chairman.

We get more long distance calls at Christmas than can go through

Soo many people like to make long distance calls on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. In spite of all we can do, lines will be crowded... calls will stack up... and some folks are bound to be disappointed.

Best time to make holiday calls: Before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day.
