

Walker 'Top Man', Pro Grid Drafting

Detroit in National, Cleveland In All-Amerk Nab Mustangs Star

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (AP)—The cellar-dwelling Detroit Lions today grabbed Johnny Rauch in the first choice at the National Football league draft meeting but didn't hold on to him very long. Lion General Manager Alvin (Bo) McMillin promptly traded rights to the Georgia university passing ace for Boston's choice, Doak Walker, Southern Methodist ace.

Why didn't Detroit pick Walker in the first place? Well the hocus pocus transaction went this way. When the NFL held its secret draft meeting at Pittsburgh November 15, Detroit chose Rauch and Boston Walker. Since that time, Detroit reasoned that it had two fine passers in Fred Enke and Clyde LeForce of this year's squad and could use a runner. By a similar study, Owner Ted Collins of the Yanks decided he might be able to use a passer. Net result was a quick meeting of the minds today and Rauch the passer went to Boston for Walker the runner.

Of course Detroit will have to wait a year for Walker to graduate while Boston can attempt to sign Rauch after he graduates this spring.

The Green Bay Packers officially announced they had drawn Stan Heath, Nevada's passin' man, as their first choice. Heath was another of the players plucked from the hat in the November meeting.

Washington's initial selection was Bob Goode, Texas A&M back the Redskins already have announced as signed for next year. Pittsburgh grabbed Clemson's hard-running Bobby Gage as its number one selection while the New York Giants named Al Derogatis, Duke tackle, on first pick. The Chicago Bears opened up with Dick Harris, Texas center, while the western division champion Chicago Cardinals grabbed off Notre Dame's fine tackle, Bill Fischer on first effort.

The champion Philadelphia Eagles had acquired the draft right to Penn's all-America center, Charley Bednarik, in the NFL's special bonus player draw. Today, Coach Greasy Neale reached for Frank Burns, Rutgers' quarterback. The Los Angeles Rams designated Bobby Thomason, Virginia Military Institute back, as their first choice. Second choice of the Washington Redskins was Washington State's ace tackle, Lauri Niemi. They also drafted two other Pacific coast players, Ed Henke of Southern California and Gene Frassetto of California, both tackles.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21 (AP)—Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, all-America halfback the past two seasons, was drafted by the Cleveland Browns at today's fourth annual auction of football talent in the All-America conference.

First man actually picked at today's session, delayed 24 hours by yesterday's peace conference with the National league at Philadelphia, was Stan Heath of Nevada, the nation's No. 1 passer in the season now closing. He was the choice of the Chicago Rockets.

The Rockets also picked Warren Huey, Michigan State end, and officially announced that their choices in the preliminary August draw were Lineman Bill Fischer and Halfback Terry Brennan, both of Notre Dame.

Jonas Ingram, commissioner of the A-A, said that 192 players were selected by the eight club circuit, which National league sources have predicted on the verge of collapse.

Shrine Players Visit 'Reason'

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21 (AP)—The Shrine players saw today the reason for the east-west football game here New Year's day. Forty-five husky young gridders from the two squads made the annual visit to the Shriners hospital for crippled children.

There they met the little boys and girls with the twisted small bodies.

After the visit, Mickey Adza, West team center from Santa Clara, summed up player sentiment thoughtfully: "Just like what the coach says — when you see this you want to go out and play a game."

Each little girl had a "chosen" player — one whose name had been assigned and whose school colors she displayed in ribbons in her hair and in gay crepe paper pompons.

GREYHOUND

Citation Back in Home Stall

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP)—Citation, Calumet Farm's wonder horse which won the triple crown, rested in his familiar stall No. 7 at Hialeah park tonight.

The winner of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont stakes, arrived by train today from San Bruno, Calif. He was injured in winning the Tanforan handicap 10 days ago and was brought here for a rest and an operation. No date has been set for "firing" the popped osselot on Citation's ankle and Trainer H. A. (Jimmy) Jones said the injured ankle must cool out before the operation.

hours ahead of time, there's not much hope of buying a ticket to the Rose Bowl football game. Six thousand of the $5.50 tickets go on public sale at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. But each customer may buy two, which means few, if any, more than 3,000 successful applicants. And an unofficial check showed there were that many on hand late today. Some had been in line since Sunday night, sleeping in cots, bed rolls and blankets and warmed by improvised camp fires.

WIL Meeting Set January 11

TACOMA, Dec. 21 (AP)—The regular mid-winter meeting of the Western International baseball directors has been called to be held at the Desert hotel in Spokane January 11, it was announced here today by President Robert Abel. The meeting will be held in the eastern Washington city at this time due to the situation existing there relative to the destruction by fire about two months ago of the stands at Ferris field.

"By that date we should know what sort of answer we will have from the insurance company. Much depends on what it will do. When we learn that we can then go ahead with our plans," he said.
