State Finance 'Precarious'

Retiring Gov. John H. Hall ber-ated "half truths" on the part of state officials and "interference" of the federal government in pen-sion matters, in his final address before the 45th state legislature Monday afternoon.

Hall said the "half truths" were in connection with the state's finances, which he declared were in a "precarious" situation. Much of the state money already accrued cannot be used to general purposes, he said, because it is speci-fically earmarked either by constitution or subsequent law. Former State Treasurer Leslie Scott was the only official mentioned by

Regarding assistance payments, Hall said:

"It is my hope that some day the state of Oregon will find ways and means to take care of the elderly people, the sick, the blind, the dependent children without bending a servile knee to the federal government (in regard to regulations)."

A summary of his recommendations follows: State Institutions

Penitentiary: Single cells to permit segregation; a "definite and well-rounded program of voca-tional training"; a furniture factory, tailor shop and soap factory to supply state needs.

Hillcrest school for girls: Commitment ages of 12 to 18 instead of 12 to 25; incorrigibles to be subject to being remanded to courts. Tuberculosis hospitals: More hospital beds and vocational rehabilitation both at Salem and Boys' camp: Referrals to the camp at Timber only after boys are screened at Woodburn training school.

The Dalles.

Fiarview home: The home is need of additional

School for the deaf: Needs fireproof dormitory facilities for older children, a pre-school unit for children under six, and better salaries for teachers and house parents. State hospital: An employes' home for 100 persons. gan, Short, Steelhammer.

Interstate cooperation — Chadwick. An immediate construction program costing $12,000,000 as recommended by the board of control last year, and "what has been said about the needs of higher education . . . applies with equal force to secondary and elementary school systems." New buildings are needed "throughout the entire educational system." State Salaries

Two Women in Legislature

Only two women will serve in Oregon's 45th legislature, compared with three last session. They are Marie Wilcox (right) of Grants Pass, who has served as representative and now is in her first term in the senate, and Mrs. Grace O. Peck, a first-termer in the house Mrs. Wilcox is a republican, Mrs. Peck a democrat. (Statesman

McKay's Recommendations

1. Placing future receipts of corporate excise tax in general fund to balance budget. 2. Elimination of income tax discount provisions, and consideration of legislation to put future income tax in general fund. 3. Consideration of state school and institution building program to be financed outside of 6 per cent limitation. 4. Repeal of state withholding tax.

5. Exemption of unusual medical expenses, and life insurance premiums up to $250 annually, from income tax. 6. A far-sighted and comprehensive program for conservation, control and full utilization of water-"our greatest single resource"and the coordination and integration of all related agencies.

7. Retention of hunting and fishing license fees "within reach of all" even if support from general fund is required. 8. A highway modernization program with higher gasoline taxes and registration fees if necessary.

9. Continuance of the state's traffic safety program. 10. Amendment of the motor transportation act to provide more revenue and bring Oregon laws into conformity with other states for

11. Furtherance of the state's forestry program.

12. Increased facilities at state institutions. 13. A comprehensive building program for higher education. 14. Financing of old age assistance from the general fund and the placing of liquor revenue in the general fund.

15. Minimum of $50 old age pensions. 16. Payment of state salaries comparable to those paid by industry. 17. Removal of milk control from jurisdiction of the department of griculture. 18. Increase in industrial accident benefits. 19. Working with neighboring state in determining whether or not to institute daylight saving time, and avoiding partial adoption. 29. Reducing unnecessary state publications and reports.

Don't waste hot water

Flan to bathe and launder in the morning hours. By doing so you can keep your electric water heater from using extra power during the peak use hours between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m., workdays. If possible, wash the dishes from your evening meal after 6:30 p.m. It will also help if you check to make certain your hot water taps are turned off tightly. By saving hot water, by acquiring the morning habit for bathing and laundering you will help to keep jobs going and prosperity growing in the Northwest.

WHY CONSERVATION IS NECESSARY

Winter brings greater use of lights and equipment using electricity. It brings a pick-up in industrial production which means still more power use. All this reaches a maximum between 4:30 and 6:30 p.m. when thousands of housewives start preparing dinner and thousands of men and children start using water (most of it heated electrically) to clean-up. The result is that the total power available from all present Northwest power sources can barely cope with the demand. A serious breakdown can occur unless you help during the peak use hours.
