Vikings Turn Back Astoria, 53-35; Bearcats Wallop OCE Quintet, 68-53 Lead Doubles

Clubs Battle Again Tonight

Rough, Fast Action Sees Fist Throwing

By Chris Kowitz Though the 53 to 35 final score may seem to indicate a drab ball game, there was no shortage of excitement in the Salem high bas-ketball pavilion Friday night at Salem's Vikings defeated Astoria. To wit: (1) An SHS player was ejected from the game for fight-ing; (2) another Vik was expell-ed for unsportsmanlike conduct; (3) a technical foul was called against the Astoria players bench, from where remarks uncomplimentary to the officials were flowing; (4) the court con test itself was brimming with fast action. The two clubs continue their time-tested rivalry at 8 o'clock Saturday night, and a victory for Salem would square the all-time SHS-Astoria feud at 24 games

Salem started slowly in Friday's fracas. After four minutes had ticked off on the time clock the Viks still had to score their first field goal. Meanwhile, As-toria had climbed into a 4 to 1

Doug Rogers broke the Salem scoring ice with a lay in, set up by a perfect pass from Bud Duval Keith Farnam added a one-handed leap shot from the key a moment later to forge Salem to the fore, 5 to 4. Farnam's free throw boosted the margin another point, but Dick Wong registered a twopointer on a Fisherman fast break to tie matters at 6-all. The home towners went out front to stay when Duval fired accurately from the back edge of the keyhole. Salem led 10 to as the first period ended. Farnam, Duval and Center Tom Paulus led the way through an 18-point second period barrage by the Salems. The Finns were held to four field goals in the same quarter, and at halftime Salem was comfortably on top, 28 to 15. Most of the "extra curricular" activities transpired in the wild fourth canto. Officials George Emigh and Max Allen tooted a couple of technicals against Astoria, and ordered Vik Guard George Frederickson to the bench for unsportsmanlike conduct.

The large gathering of fans let out a "boo" that lasted fully two Big Ed Gayda, Washington State forward, hit the basket for three field goals and a free throw in the first five minutes of play as the Cougars ran up a 10 to 0 lead over the Huskies. The lid was on the hoop tonight for the Wash-ington team and not until nearly six minutes were gone did Guard Andy Opacich net the first Husky score with a free throw.

Part of Washington's early misfortune may have been due to Guard Sammy White leaving the game temporarily with an ankle injury received just two minutes after play started. The Huskies top scorer returned to play a few minutes later but was held to only two free throws for the night. The Washington crew came back after the intermission to find the lid still on the basket and failed to register a field goal until mid - period. Cougar Coach Jack Friel took advantage of the Wash-

Indoor Track Show Lures Stars WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 -(/P) The nation's top track stars are

trainsing into town for one of the year's top indoor track events — the second running of the Washington Evening Star meet Saturday night. More than 350 athletes — including eight good enough to compete on the U. S. Olympic team — will be on hand. In ad-dition to the individual events, 13 relays spice the program.
Oddly, the Olympic champion who will be most in the limelight hasn't a chance to be a winner here. Bob Mathias, the nation's outstanding amateur in 1948 and a decathlon champion, will have a try at the high jump.
