Members and guests of Kiwanis club joined to provide a variety program for which Kenneth York was master of ceremonies Tuesday noon in the Marion hotel banquet room.

Ralph Dobbs, pianist, provided a novelty number, posing as a left handed piano player whose music was a mail order catalog. Snap clothes pins held several sheets of the catalog together for his convenience in turning.

Sound effects for York's monologue skit were provided by the guests and members who followed scores distributed for their guidance. The farce reached a high point when one member "blinked" the lights in the large banquet room and the house electrician was observed almost immediately coming into the room to "check up" on the unscheduled "lights out."

Oregon Hop Market Weak

PORTLAND, Jan. 18—(AP)—Brewers' demands for Oregon and Washington hops remained slow and selective during the month ended January 14, and hop markets continued weak.

This was the report of the department of agriculture which said there was little inquiry from exporters and supplies bought earlier continued to fill domestic requirements.

For most hops sold, Oregon growers were paid 25 to 30 cents a pound. The department reported the state's crop of 15,753,000 pounds is 2 per cent below last year's.

A few hops for the 1949 crop have been contracted for at 50 cents a pound for seeded clusters on a basis of 6 per cent leaf and stem content. But the department said next year's crop contracting remained slow.

Sentencing of Youths Delayed

PORTLAND, Jan. 18—(AP)—Five youths convicted of felling a tree across a street car track here last Halloween will not be sentenced for at least another seven months.

Municipal Judge J. J. Quillan continued sentencing for that period today of John C. Adams, Jr., and four juveniles because of their good behavior since conviction on disorderly charges last November.

Judge Quillan said all civil damages had been paid.

The tree narrowly missed a Council Crest street car and knocked out power lines when it was cut down.

Attack on SP Passenger Laid To 'Negro in Long Underwear'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18—(AP)—The husband of Mrs. Opal Holmes said today she believes "a negro in long underwear" raped her in her berth on the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited early Saturday morning in Oregon.

Chester Holmes, an electrician at the Hanford, Wash., atomic plant, flew here to be with his wife, a 35-year-old mother of two sons, at the home of relatives.

Her screams at 2:15 a. m. Saturday from the lower berth five brought passengers running and launched an investigation which so far has not resulted in arrests. Railroad and Pullman Co. special agents carried on the investigation on the train all the way to Los Angeles.

The reported attack occurred near Oakridge, Ore., while Mrs. Holmes was en route here from her home in North Richland, Wash. Two sailors, questioned for 7 1/2 hours here, were released.

Holmes told a reporter that his wife is still distraught, hysterical and suffering from shock. He relayed what he said was her first coherent account of the assault.

YW Building Zone Change Recommended

A zone change designed to permit the proposed construction of a new YWCA building at 768 State St., site of the present YW, was given the approval of the Salem planning and zoning commission Tuesday night in city hall.

The commission recommended to the city council a change from the present class I-C (capitol zone) to a class III-X zone restricted to a YWCA building. The YW had asked a class III general business zone.

Under the commission's recommendation the YW would be able to observe a State street setback line about the same as it had planned in its request. The YW had agreed with a remonstrating Salem public library board to have the main part of its new building set back as far as the telephone building immediately to the west, which is about even with the line of the library steps to the east.

Tentative approval also was given by the zoning body to a requested change from class II residential to class III business zone for property at the southwest corner of Center and 12th streets formerly occupied by the Little Lady's store.

A decision was deferred a month for further study on a proposal to establish class IV unrestricted zoning for property of W. R. Gracie at the northwest corner of 13th and Wilber streets, across from the new Coca Cola bottling plant. A custom cannery is planned for the site if zoning will permit.

Bevin Delays Debate On Palestine Policies

LONDON, Jan. 18—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin headed off a house of commons showdown debate today on his Palestine policies with an assurance Britain plans no "aggressive action" to support her Arab allies.

He won from angry parliamentary critics a reluctant agreement to defer a full dress debate on the middle east problem until next week.

State Board of Housing Asked by Portlanders

PORTLAND, Jan. 18—(AP)—The housing authority here will ask the Oregon legislature to provide money for surveys in critical areas and establish a state board of housing.

The state board would be empowered to assist local housing authorities to plan, build and amortize low cost housing projects.

Silver arrows, David McGregor, Michael Egli, Glenn Dodge, Richard Berlin and Ronald Bates.

GIs and Germans May Not Marry

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 18—(AP)—The U. S. army Monday withdrew all permits for marriage of GIs and German frauleins.

The new step in an effort to check a flood of such marriages drew a howl of protest from soldiers whom the order hit.

Officially the army was silent about its reasons. Officers and chaplains, however, said the action would protect youthful draftees due in Germany soon.

Senators Kill Plan to Exempt Fairs from Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—(AP)—A proposal to exempt state and county agricultural fairs from admission ticket taxes was turned down by the senate today.

The proposal by Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.) came as an amendment to a resolution to exempt inaugural tickets from the amusement tax. The house already has approved the resolution.

Most republicans favored the amendment and most democrats opposed it. The roll call vote was 54 to 38.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) said he was against the entire resolution and would favor anything that would kill it.

Senator Cordon (R-Ore.) was one of five republicans voting with democrats against the amendment.

'Get Rich Quick' Man Dies Pauper

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 18—(AP)—Get Rich Quick Charles Ponzi, the little man who swindled the American public out of big money in 1920, has died in poverty of a blood clot on the brain.

Partly blind and paralyzed on his left side, he was 71.

The end came at a hospital charity ward here Saturday.

This was the man who attracted more than $15,000,000 in sucker money to his Boston office in a few months of 1920 with the cry "double your money in 90 days."

Boost in Portland Bus Fares Sought

PORTLAND, Jan. 18—(AP)—A three-cent boost in bus and street-car fares here was sought today by the Portland Traction company.

Gordon G. Steele, company president, in making the request to the city council, said the increase is necessary to offset a decrease in receipts.

The raise would bring the fare to 13 cents, or two rides for 25 cents.

George Boyle Dies Following Heart Attack

George Alvin Boyle, 77, resident of Salem for the past five years, died Monday night following a heart attack at his home at 590 N. 12th st.

Boyle was born in Lockport, Ill., Oct. 1, 1871, the son of William and Eliza Boyle. He was married to Sarah Jane Prather in 1896, in Missouri and they homesteaded in Kansas in 1904, and later moved to Wolsie, S. D., where they lived for several years. They moved to Salem in 1943.

Survivors besides the widow are two daughters, Mrs. Marie C. Matthews, Palm Springs, Calif., and Mrs. Bessie R. Bower, Salem; and two sons, Alvin C. Boyle, Salem, and Ralph O. C. Boyle, Tacoma, Wash.; also 11 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Announcement of services will be made later by Howell-Edwards company.

Bill Would Triple Pay of Washington Governor

OLYMPIA, Jan. 18—(AP)—A democratic house today bickered for four hours, and then rammed through with only scattered opposition a bill for vastly increased salaries for state officials.

The bill, sent to the senate by an 81-17 vote, would jump the governor's yearly pay from its present $6,000 to $18,000.

Oregon Dairymen Told to Improve Public Relations

CORVALLIS, Jan. 18—(AP)—Better public relations with consumers was proposed to members of the Oregon Dairymen's association today.

President W. A. Johnson, Grants Pass, told the association's annual convention that "consumers believe that both the price and the cream line of a bottle of milk are too high."

Johnson, Josephine county judge as well as dairyman, said he could show that milk is cheaper in relation to wages and other food prices than before the war. He had no answer for the cream argument, he added.
