By Ruth Cowan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (Friday)—President Truman wound up his crowded inauguration schedule at 11:40 a.m. Eastern standard time today, when he left the inaugural ball and headed for home.

The president, Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret arrived at the ball shortly after 11 o'clock last night and stayed until 1:40 o'clock this morning. They departed then for the Blair House, their temporary residence across the street from the White House, undergoing repairs.

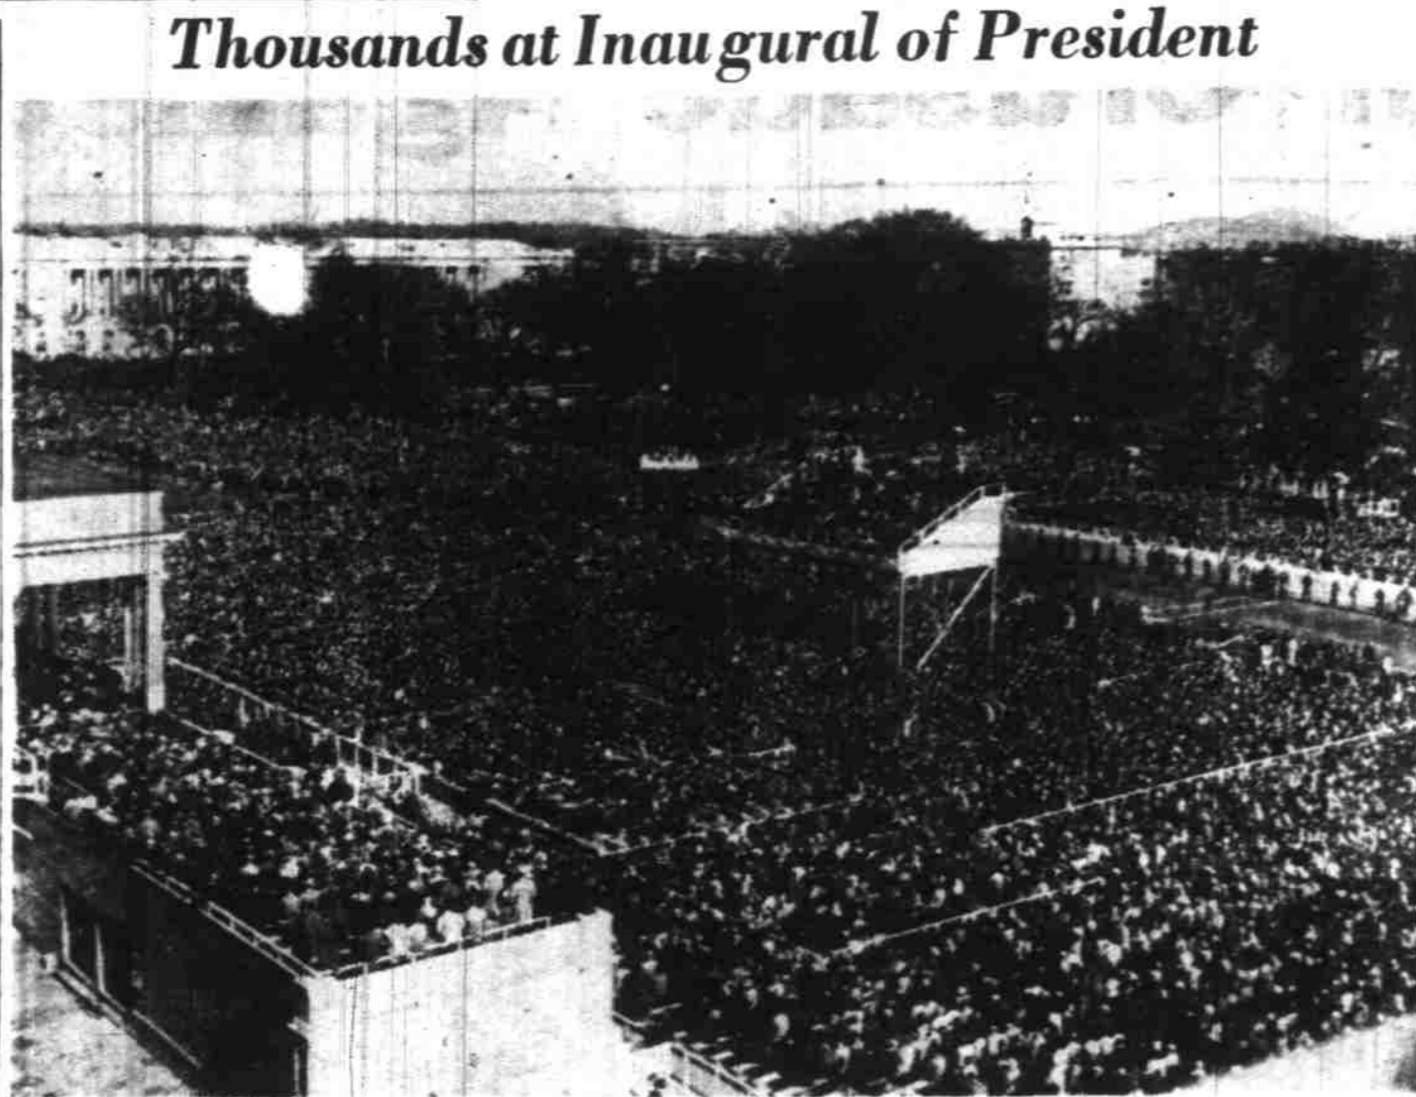

The ball was a blaze of color, merriment and music.

Everybody wanted to dance at the ball but only 5,300 got to.

The fire department turned the rest away.

The capital's fire ladders are not mobbish. But fire regulations say a maximum of 5,300 persons in the army, and 5,300 it was.

The committee which arranged the ball sort of lost track sending out the invitations, mailing some 8,000 or 10,000 bids. To the committee's surprise, almost every recipient replied yes, thanks, he'd love to come. Some of them came from across the continent.

More Shivers Predicted for Midcontinent

CHICAGO, aJn. 20—(AP)—A new cold wave from Canada pushed into the midcontinent today, but weather-harried California and the midwest got a respite.

However, floods, the aftermath of heavy snows, spilled over some Wabash river lowlands in Illinois. Scores of families were reported marooned at Three Forks, Mont., where a dike in the Madison river has broken.

The new cold wave enveloped Montana and Wyoming and spread eastward into Kansas and Nebraska. The weather bureau issued special warnings to stockmen in the areas.

Overnight temperatures as low as 40 below zero were forecast for parts of Montana and the mercury was expected to drop to 20 or 25 below in Nebraska. Blowing and drifting snow was expected to accompany the cold.

At the snow-locked Pine Ridge Indian reservation in South Dakota, disaster units of the army and Red Cross were flying medical supplies, food and fuel in an improvised airlift. Snow at the ridge is 40 inches on the level and some drifts are 20 feet deep. All roads are blocked. An epidemic of dysentery added to the misery of the stricken Indians.

The new proposal was said to provide that the commission would recommend the withdrawal of Dutch troops. It does not have the weight of a definite council order.

Truman Urges Private Capital, Know-How Sent to Other Lands

By Sterlin F. Green

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—(AP)—President Truman today urged the United States to do global battle against poverty by throwing its industrial know-how and money into a "bold new program" to raise the world's standard of living.

In controversy-packed paragraphs of his inaugural address the president hinted at government guarantees for private industry to "foster capital investment in areas needing development."

He urged a world pool of technological knowledge, with other countries contributing as well as the United States. Half the peoples of the earth dwell in poverty, he said, while America's store of technological knowledge is growing and "inexhaustible."

It was uncertain whether congress was ready—prominent senators quickly split on his guarantee proposal.

But the president made it clear he will ask them to approve a strengthening of foreign investment, and he replied in advance to the expected soviet charge of "dollar imperialism."

"The old imperialism—exploitation for foreign profit—has no place in our plans," Mr. Truman said.

"What we envisage is a program of development based on the concepts of democratic fair-dealing."

Umatilla Store, City Hall Burns

Mrs. Neill said the fire broke out in the liquor store, which had not yet opened for the day's business.

Damage was unofficially estimated at about $50,000. The city hall will be set up temporarily in a community hall here.

Asia Nations Ask Freedom For Indoneses

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 20—(AP)—Speakers representing various Asian countries today demanded the establishment of Indonesian independence.

Many of them also indicated they might develop into a vast regional organization similar to the Pan American union. Such a body, it was said, could be set up within the framework of the United Nations.

The conference was called to protest Dutch military action against the young Indonesian republic. Delegates selected a committee to prepare a resolution to the U.N. security council dealing with the setting up of an interim Indonesian government. Australia, Pakistan, Ceylon and India were named to the committee.

India submitted a paper proposing that fighting on Java and Sumatra be stopped, republican leaders freed and Netherlands troops withdrawn to positions held before the Dutch operation against the republic was launched in mid-December.

The paper also suggested that the interim government be set up by March 15, a constituent assembly elected by October 1 and a complete transfer of power be made to the new government by next January 1.

Conference leaders who stressed the idea of a regional Asian organization said such a body is needed to represent what Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India referred to as "half the circumference of the globe and the greater part of its population."

Oregon Wool Prices Riding Crest of 'Boom'

By Lillie L. Madsen
Farm Editor, The Statesman

While the price of Australian wool today is the highest in history, Oregon is not lagging far behind. The wool boom indicates a world shortage of wearing clothing and the price is just another way of saying that money anywhere in the world will not buy what it did 10 years ago.

Comparative prices given by Willamette valley wool men Thursday show a big price jump in the past 10-year period. The buyers indicated that the good prices will hold or might go higher in 1949, which does not preclude a drop in cost of woollen clothing.

One and two years ago, woollen clothing was being sent to Europe. Word here today is that Britain, France, Italy have bought most of Australia's fine wool clip this season. Europe is getting on her feet and is going back to her own manufacturing. This is as it should be, K. H. Pickens, secretary-treasurer and buyer of the Thomas Kay Woolen Mill, Salem, said Thursday.

During 1948, Kay's, which weaves tweeds, other sport and coarse wools, sold 400,000 yards of coarse wool directly from valley growers. The price was an average of 47 cents in the grease. Mr. Pickens expects to pay about the same this year. The shortage of wool is not in the coarse grades, he said. Right now, he added, low braid and low quarter braid is moving rather slowly.

But there is a definite shortage of medium and fine wools. Here are some figures furnished by Ralph Cooley of Bishops' Clothing store and manufacturing. This is the Bishop mills, which includes Oregon Worst company, Portland, Pendleton Woolen Mills and Washougal (Wash.) Mills, Oregon's largest wool users: There were 450 million pounds of wool produced in the United States in 1938, and there were consumed 600 million pounds. Today there are produced 300 million pounds, and 900 million pounds are consumed. Per capita consumption is far greater than it was 10 years ago.

In January, 1938, fine range wool sold at 32 cents and in January, 1948, at 45 cents. This month it has been selling at 57 1/2 cents. Medium range wool in 1938 sold for 37 cents; in 1948, for 45 cents and the same in January. Valley medium wool sold for 35 cents in 1938 and for 48 cents in 1948 and 1949.

Approximate production for 1948 in Oregon was 6 1/2 million pounds of wool. Consumption in the Bishop mills alone was 4 1/2 million pounds of domestic wool and 3 million of foreign wool to total 7 1/2 million pounds.

Wind Blamed For Flurry of Fires in Salem

Several minor fires in Salem were attributed to the high wind Thursday night. Firemen answered six calls during the evening, three of them flue fires.

Blazing tar mops sent trucks to the Salem Laundry at 9:16 p.m. and a few minutes later firemen went to Ford and Mission streets to check a flue fire. At 10 o'clock there was another flue fire at 2390 Adams st., and minutes later the North Salem station answered a call to 645 Belmont st., to check a chimney fire. The wind blew over flare pots at Chemeketa and Wintler streets earlier.

Firemen from the East Salem station answered a call to the 1100 block of south 24th street early Friday morning to extinguish a blaze in a truck owned by the Campbell Rock-Wool company. The fire, starting near a blower motor on the back of the truck, burned a hole in the floor boards, but damage was held to a minimum.

Lions Hear Rep. Van Dyke

Frank J. Van Dyke of Medford, speaker of the Oregon house of representatives, Thursday summarized legislation introduced to the state legislature, in a speech before Salem Lions club in the Marion hotel.

He said 30 bills already have been referred to the house taxation committee alone, and that 18 of 25 committees are already at work on bills which have been formally introduced.

In connection with explaining a bill proposing state licensing of practical nurses, Van Dyke observed that this points to the trend of more and more groups seeking control and protection by state government. "In each such group have ranged 'from masseurs and hairdressers to practical nurses' and they appear willing to pay the state for regulation by a commission rather than have regulation through their own trade associations."

"His statement that capitalism and communism cannot live together in one world makes war the eventual alternative," Wallace said.

Local Demos Celebrate at Dinner, Dance

More than 100 democrats of the Salem area Thursday evening combined the traditional democratic Jackson day dinner with celebration of inaugural day for President Truman.

The democrats dined at the Senator hotel here in a party sponsored by the Young Democratic club of Marion county. President Joe Larkin was toastmaster and State Sen. Richard Neuberger of Portland was principal speaker.

Special guests included State Treasurer Walter J. Pearson, the democratic delegation to the state legislature and Theodore Penland, a civil war veteran who heads the national GAR and who will be 100 years old Sunday.

In his address, Neuberger called on his democratic colleagues in the state legislature to present a program of legislation in social welfare and conservation matters that will serve as a party platform for the 1950 election.

The "Donkey Serenade" and "Missouri Waltz" were tops in popularity at the inaugural ball at the VFW hall where more than 250 persons danced to honor President Truman's inauguration.

State Treasurer and Mrs. Walter Pearson headed the receiving line at the ball which was attended by caravans from many western Oregon cities. Twenty-one democratic members of the state legislature were honored guests with the Pearsons.

Berlin Reds Scrap Plans For Election

BERLIN, Jan. 20—(AP)—The hand-picked communist government of eastern Berlin appointed a rump city parliament today as a substitute for an elected body which had been promised.

Western Berliners, who elect a city assembly last December, called the new communist parliament "ersatz," the German word for phony.

Communists named their rump parliament a "bloc presidium and working committee." Anti-communists said it was obviously designed to give some pretense of support for the separate government the communists set up by a show of hands in a theater last November.

At the time the communist election for lord mayor, Friedrich Ebert, promised "genuinely democratic" elections would be held soon in the Russian sector of the city to choose a parliament.

Palestine Talks In Crucial Stage

RHODES, Jan. 20—(AP)—Israel and Egypt bumped up against the question today of determining boundaries for the disputed Negev in their armistice talks. It was rough going.

Both sides were reported in disagreement over a number of important points in connection with the question of boundaries to be observed in southern Palestine.

China Peace Prospects Fade

NANKING, Jan. 20—(AP)—China's nationalist party leadership endorsed a cease-fire resolution today, but governmental double-talk and communist silence made peace prospects as dim as ever.

In north China, terms for surrendering Peiping to the Reds were reported accepted "in principle" by both sides, but nothing had been done to implement this separate deal.

On the war fronts, the communists maintained their close siege of Peiping and were edging steadily south of the old Hwai river line 100 miles north of Nanking.
