Feted

SILVERTON, Jan. 21 — Norman Naegeli, who was honored as Silverton's Junior First citizen at a banquet in St. Paul's school auditorium here tonight. Gov. Douglas McKay presented Naegeli with a pin and scroll denoting the award.

Naegeli Named First Citizen Of Silverton

SILVERTON, Jan. 21.—(Special)—Norman Naegeli, active charter member of the Silverton Junior Chamber of Commerce and prominent in church and civic affairs here, was handed a pin and scroll tonight by Gov. Douglas McKay honoring him as Silverton citizen of the year.

McKay in making the presentation, commended Naegeli on his active participation in civic affairs, as member of the school board and church work. Naegeli is an employe of the H. L. Stiff Furniture company in Silverton.

More than 250 persons attended the banquet at St. Paul's school auditorium honoring Naegeli and to hear McKay speak on the rapid growth of Oregon.

Governor McKay gave three reasons for the rapid increase in population of the state. It is a natural place to live, he said, and industry has a desire to decentralize and to take advantage of the hydroelectric power of the area.

Parents Hear Blind School Superintendent

Walter R. Dry, superintendent of the state school for the blind, since August 1931, spoke at the Thursday night meeting of the Garfield school Mothers and Dads club on "Education of the Blind."

In telling its history from philanthropic beginnings to the present-day state supported program, he mentioned that Oregon's program for the education of the blind was established in Salem in 1872 and that it has been at the present site since 1894.

One important purpose of the school, said Dry, is to rehabilitate the child as quickly as possible, teaching him how to get the best use out of his sight, if he has any, and how to listen when being read to, then sending him back to his own environment.

Dry introduced Genevieve Eacus, a ninth grader at the school, from Nyssa, who explained and demonstrated the methods of writing Braille on a Braille writer and with the slate and stylus.

Jerry Scott, Boy Scout field executive, explained the purpose and organization of the Cub Scouts. The club voted to sponsor a Garfield Cub pack and the sixth grade Camp Fire Girls group.

Truman Asks Demo Platform Made into Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—President Truman told a big crowd of his supporters tonight that "the democratic platform was not a scrap of paper," and asked their help in writing it into law.

With the election over and the inauguration over, he said, it is necessary to implement the principles which brought the democratic victory.

Former Salem Woman Dies

Word was received in Salem Thursday morning of the death of Mrs. Ada Walsh Flewelling Miller in Champaign, Ill. Mrs. Miller was the wife of the late E. C. Miller, who passed away in 1939.

Mrs. Miller came to Salem in 1917 and made her home at 155 S. 19th st., until Mr. Miller's death. She moved to Champaign in 1943, where her son, Max Flewelling, resides. Before her marriage she taught schools in Champaign and Urbana, Ill.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the First Methodist church in Salem and superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school for a number of years.

Falls City—In Portland this week on business were Mrs. Doyle Lortimer, Mrs. Harvey Marr of Falls City, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorr of West Salem.
