Seen and Heard...

DREAM COME TRUE . . . For years Martha Ferguson McKeown had planned to write . . . and this last year her expectations were reached with publishing of her first book, "The Trail Led North" . . . The book is already in its fourth edition and rated as a best seller . . . After hearing Mrs. McKeown tell about her 83 year old uncle Mont Hawthorne, about whom the book is written, we can hardly wait to read it . . . Ever since the book's release this fall the MacMillan Co. has kept the author busy with tours, speaking engagements and autographing . . . Early in February Mrs. McKeown and her husband leave for California for a month . . . San Francisco, Berkeley, Los Angeles and Hollywood on the itinerary . . . This will be a repeat tour with additional engagements as when she was down in November there was a complete sellout of copies and no more to be had from the east . . . so instead of cancellations and postponements they postponed it until now . . .

A culmination of three years of interviews, research and writing is the result of her book . . . already she has most of the material compiled for two other books, for which MacMillan is already awaiting her manuscripts . . . the next book will be the "Boyhood of Mont Hawthorne" . . . and the last will be "The Inside Passage" . . . Her husband, who has made it possible for her to write, accompanied her on research trips to Alaska and the middle west . . . and takes her pictures . . . incidentally photography is his hobby now.

When in Salem this last week, Mrs. McKeown, a good-looking woman with a dynamic personality, wore a black faille suit to which were pinned bronze and yellow orchids, a gift of her Delta Gamma chapter at Willamette university . . . She will return to Salem March 7 to speak to the American Legion auxiliary . . . and crowded into her busy schedule this year she is serving as state regent of the DAR.

MOVING NOTES . . . or change of addresses . . . The Richard Sullivans (Barbara Barnett) and son, Bobby, are now settled in their new home on Cascade Drive . . . Hattie Bretzel has moved into her Royal Court apartment, after completely refurbishing it . . . In case Hattie's friends haven't seen her recently it's because she is busy studying for exams next week at the Willamette law school . . .

New beach home . . . for Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mills, who recently purchased a house at Nelscott high on the hill . . . their neighbors are the Roy Houcks . . . The Mills were over last weekend for their first stay . . . Soon to move into their newly built home at Sequim, Wash., ideally situated on the Straits of Juan de Fuca, will be Mr. and Mrs. William A. Skewis, who left Salem over a year ago . . . on a clear night they can see the lights of Victoria from their house . . . Mrs. Skewis who has been here since Christmas, is busy packing their belongings to be shipped north . . .

The R. W. Mersereaus and their children will soon be moving to Portland . . . as Roland has been transferred to the Portland plant of the Terminal Ice and Cold Storage . . . As soon as they sell their Salem home and find one in Portland, they will be on their way . . .

TOURING AFRICA . . . this month are three Salem men, Roger Wagner, Dutch Simmons and Dayton Robertson, who are attending the University of Geneva at Geneva, Switzerland . . . The old saying, "It's a small world," holds true again . . . On the first day of class at the university Roger found Dayton sitting next to him . . . neither knew the other had enrolled at the school . . . The three are traveling by car and spent Christmas in Paris and New Year's in Spain . . . So far in his travels Roger thinks Lisbon is the nicest spot in the world . . . They are now traveling through French Morocco and will tour as much of Africa as they have time for in a month . . . and back to classes they will be in February . . .

AT RANDOM . . . Here during the legislative session with her husband is Mrs. Ernie Pickett (Margaret Allyn), who now lives in Oswego . . . Mr. Pickett is with the telephone company and during their stay they are at the Senator hotel . . .

Friends of the Victor Hamers of Portland, formerly of Salem, will be interested to learn they are now sojourning for several weeks in Wickenburg, Arizona on a dude ranch and will visit old friends, the Hal Warners . . . The Hamers will also make stops in Phoe-
