Authority to Act In Power Shortage Given to Governor

By Wendell Webb

Managing Editor, The Statesman The Oregon legislature gave Gov. Douglas McKay full power to act in the power shortage Monday, and then proceeded to get enough new business to make the predicted short session look like a dream.

The house caught the brunt of the upsurge in introductions. First, it was asked to approve three proposed constitutional amendments (1) exempting all real and personal property from any state levy; (2) requiring initiative petitions to be signed by 8 per cent of voters in each county-instead of 8 per cent of the state at large and (3) letting the legislature, by a two-thirds vote, pass tax legislation without submitting it to referendum. Then it got 21 new bills.

One would reduce the corporation income tax rate from 8 to 7.5

Seeks to 'Tactics'

By Edward E. Bomar Any American answer to Prime Minister Stalin's new "peace" ges-ture appeared likely today to be a delayed and carefully thought

Administration officials said there probably will be no response until the White House, State department and presumably congressional leaders get together on the best way of countering what the capital generally views as a Soviet tactical maneuver.

One idea reported under consideration is to use the occasion for a review of Russia's postwar dealings with the west, coupling this with a renewed demand for firm evidence that this time Moscow is acting in good faith.

Meanwhile both the White House and State department shied away from comment on Stalin's press interview statement that he had "no objection" to a meeting with President Truman at some mutually acceptable place.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross noted that Mr. Truman's last word on such a meeting was his restatement this month that he is willing to meet the Soviet leader in Washington.

The president, Ross told reporters, has read newspaper accounts of Stalin's pronouncement that he "would be prepared to consider" a joint Soviet-American no war declaration.

Moscow's timing deepened official suspicions that the Soviet purpose was propaganda rather than to feel out the American attitude toward some sort of an East-West settlement. Stalin spoke out just a day after Russia put pressure on Norway to stay out of the North Atlantic pact, and the effect was to push the Norwegian development off front pages both within and outside the Soviet bloc.
