MT. ANGEL-Miss Regina Barbara Traeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. Traeger and Edward A. Schiedler, son of Mr. schiedler and the late Mrs. Frank Schiedler, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic church Baturday morning. Rev. Vincent Koppert, OSB, officiated at the o'clock nuptial high mass. Alar boys were Francis and James Traeger, brother and cousin of the bride respectively and Johnny Bochsier and Richard Wellman, cousins of the groom. Miss Helen Keber played the organ and St. Mary's choir sang the mass. Raymond Terhaar, brother-in-law of he groom, sang Mr. Traeger gave his daughter in marriage. Se wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a low waist line, a deep yoke edged with French lace and finished with a small collar, selfgovered buttons down the front, ong sleeves and a train. Her fingertip veil with rolled edge was held by a headdress of braided satin and she carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids. She also carried a sterling silver rosary, a gift of the groom. Miss Margaret Traeger, sister of the bide, was maid of honor. Her gown was of gold satin with which she wore matching mitts, a braided headdress, and carried a nosegay of gardenias, pink bouyardia and white carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Traeger, sister of the bride and Miss Vivian Vauland of Portland. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor of light green satin with matching headdress and mitts and carried nose-

Two nieces of the groom, Rosemay Terhaar and Kathie Schiedler, were flower girls in gold satin full length frocks.

The bride's mother wore a black suit, black and pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

Raymond Schiedler was best man for his brother and another brother, Arnold Schiedler and Traeger, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers were

Vincent Traeger and Alfred Schiedler. The wedding breakfast was served at the Mt. Angel hotel. Serving were cousins of the bride, Miss Diane and Miss Delores Gamble. During the breakfast, Bernard Smith, cousin of the Stalled Train Bars Traffic At Union St.

Northside auto traffic was stall-ed for several minutes Monday afternoon when a freight engine was unable to pull its train onto the main Southern Pacific line.

The engine, pulling about 60 cars, stalled as it approached the 12th and Union streets switch after a pull across the bridge from West Salem. Traffic on several streets, including Capitol, was blocked while a second engine came to the rescue.

came to the rescue. Yardmen for the Southern Pacific said the line of freight cars was broken to allow traffic through on North Capitol street, but other streets were blocked for several minutes.

Transient Finally Wins Jail Bunk, Where It's Warm

Richard Neale, transient is in Salem city jail and he's not complaining a bit. In fact he went to a lot of trouble to ge himself put Neale was fined $20 in municipal court Monday following a ruckus at a cafe on North Commercial street Sunday. But prior to that he had been workin gat board and room courtesy of the city for a couple of days.

He tried to persuade the desk sergeant at the police station to take him out of the cold outside world Saturday. He tried again Sunday. Both times with no luck. He even tried to convince a patrolman that he should be locked up for drunkenness. That didn't work

But when city police answered a call to quell a fight at the cafe, they found Neale in the center and obliged him with a spot in jail. He is assured of 10 days in a warm jail while he works out his fine, and who knows, maybe it will be warm by that time.
