Jackson Rites On Wednesday At Albany

ALBANY, Feb. 14 — Funeral services for W. L. Jackson, 81, Albany newspaper publisher who died here Saturday night, will be held Wednesday from Albany First Presbyterian church. He had been in Albany hospital several weeks, following a heart attack.

Jackson was Linn county school superintendent from 1900 to 1916 and later was associated with the Bark of Albany. In 1919 with Ralph R. Cronise he purchased the Albany Democrat and in 1925 they purchased the Albany Herald and consolidated the papers as the Albany Democrat Herald.

Jackson was elected mayor of Albany in 1937 and served one term. Besides the widow, Minnie E. Peery Jackson; survivors are a son, Glenn L. Jackson of Medford; a daughter, Mrs. Eugene (Olga) Burns of San Francisco; and three grandchildren.

Jackson was born Oct. 25, 1867, in Hannibal, Mo., and came to Linn county in 1877 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jackson.

County Ready To Welcome French Gifts

Marion county will be all set officially to receive its quota of gifts from the French people late this month when the French Gratitude train arrives in Salem.

The train is expected to arrive in Salem about February 21. W. E. Burks, Southern Pacific freight agent, said that storms in the Midwest had caused the train to be rerouted over the northern route. It is to arrive in Portland first and then proceed on to Salem and return to Portland he said.

A delegation consisting of county governmental, civic and church groups, Gov. Douglas McKay and state legislators is to take part in welcoming services here.

One car of the train is loaded with French art objects and other gifts to the state of Oregon. Each county is to receive something. These gifts eventually will be distributed to a museum, library or school.

The tokens of appreciation are sent by the French people in gratitude for the Friendship train this country sent to France in 1947.

The 40 and 8, American Legion honor society, has its eye on the French boxcar when it is empty of its contents. The boxcars, of the type well-known to veterans of the first world war, are capable of holding 40 men or eight horses.

Program Set For Dedication Of Blood Bank

Dedication of the Portland blood center will be Saturday, with several counties participating in the blood program at the Portland center. Fifty-two hospitals and thousands of people within a 100-mile radius of Portland will share in the results.

On March 8 the mobile unit for collection of blood donations will make its first visitation to Salem. A meeting in preparation for the first visitation will be Friday noon for local program workers in the Marion hotel.

Dr. Ross T. McIntire, national administrator of the Red Cross blood program and a native of Salem, will give the dedicatory address at the newly constructed Red Cross regional blood center at 1506 S. W. Alder st., Portland, at 2 p. m. Charles H. Huggins, chairman of the Marion county chapter, Marion, will preside. Huggins is chairman of the blood program, and others from here are to attend.

Estimates based on needs of hospitals to be served call for 2,000 pints of blood monthly. It is expected Marion county will be asked for 100 to 125 donors at each visitation of the mobile unit.

Charles Zerzan Passes, Was Attorney Here

Charles J. Zerzan, sr., Salem attorney for more than 30 years, died in a Salem hospital Sunday.

Recitation of the rosary will take place tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Clough-Barrick chapel. Funeral services will be Wednesday at 10 a. m. at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic church. Interment is to be in Belcrest Memorial park.

Zerzan is survived by a son, Charles J. Zerzan, jr., now attending medical school in Milwaukee, Wis.; two daughters, Mrs. Edward Jackson of Dallas, Tex., and Dorothy Zerzan of St. Louis, Mo.; three sisters in Chicago, Ill.; a nephew, John Zerzan of Salem, and seven grandchildren.

Zerzan, prominent in the American Legion, specialized in real property proceedings and maintained his own law office here. He was appointed deputy district attorney, to handle county tax suits, Feb. 9, 1942, under Miller B. Havden, former district attorney.

Prior to coming to Salem he practiced law in Portland. His wife, Margaret Zerzan, died here in 1947. The Zerzan residence is located at 2250 Hazel ave.

Zerzan was a captain in the army quartermaster corps in the first world war. He served from May 29, 1917, to July 12, 1919, and saw duty in the Philippines. He was a member of the American Legion, Capital post 9.

PINBALL CHARGE ACTION DELAYED WITH DEMURRER
George Green, Salem cafe owner, charged with operating a nickel-in-the-slot machine, delayed preliminary action on the charge when he demurred to the complaint in Marion county district court Monday.

Green alleges the complaint does not conform to Oregon statutes in that it charges more than one crime and the facts do not constitute a crime. Hearing on the demurrer has been set for Friday morning in district court.

Marion County Sheriff Denver Young confiscated a pinball machine at the Stop Life cafe, operated by Green just south of Salem, on the night of February 4. Green was slated to enter plea in district court Monday.

Salem Taxes Top Average, Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(Special)—Property owners in Salem have higher taxes to pay for 1948 than do those in most other cities in the United States, according to a survey of 332 cities released by the National Municipal League here.

The "adjusted" tax rate in Salem comes to $30.19 per $1,000 worth of property, comparing with the average for all the cities of $29.57, and with the rate of $28.90 found in other cities of its size group, 30,000 to 50,000 population.

The figures are adjusted ones, corrected from the nominal rates to enable comparison among cities. This was necessary since many cities use less than the actual value of property as the legal basis of assessment. Salem uses 41 per cent of true value. Its actual rate is $73.50.

The total assessed value of property in Salem is set at $22,352,447, equivalent to $725 per capita.

The survey also indicates that adjusted tax rates have risen 6 per cent since 1947, reflecting the increased costs of municipal government. The year before that the tax rise was 15.7 per cent.

The conservative increase at the present time seems to indicate, according to the report, "that municipalities are following a prudent course in not gearing their assessments, as well as their financial structures, to inflationary property values."

Supplies Sought For Fertilizer Plants in West

Arch W. Metzger, manager of the Salem fertilizer plant, and Clay Cochran, manager of Salem Chamber of Commerce, have arrived in Washington, D. C., to attend commerce department hearings on fertilizer Friday, it was learned Monday by the chamber office.

The Salem men are seeking, on behalf of the western states chamber organization and of the western fertilizer industry, to obtain ammonia for a Salt Lake City fertilizer plant. When ammonia became scarce in the west, Cochran and Metzger were instrumental in getting congressional approval of a law to earmark some of the army's ammonia supply for use in western fertilizer plants.

Logger Sues For $20,000

A $20,000 damage suit was filed here Monday against Thomas Brothers Logging Co., of Mill City, by a logger who charges he was injured while working for the company in the woods April 17, 1947.

Lyle A. Walthrop charges in his complaint that he was struck by a tree while working for the company. He contends the company violated the employers' liability act by failing to undercut and properly control the fall of the tree, and by failure to provide property safety precautions.

Walthrop alleges he suffered injuries to his back and leg. The complaint was filed in Marion county circuit court.
