The Oregon Statesman

"No Favor Sways Us, No Fear Shall Awe" From First Statesman, March 28, 1851

THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY CHARLES A. SPRAGUE, Editor and Publisher

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the as well as all AP news dispatches.

MEMBER PACIFIC COAST DIVISION OF BUREAU OF ADVERTISING entatives-Ward-Griffith Co., New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Detroit.

CIRCULATION

	By Mail (In Advance)	OF (
Six	Oregon Elsewhere in U.S.A.     1.00	One Six One

Military Situation in the Orient

General MacArthur gives quite a dependable survey of the military situation in the far east in his interview with a United Press correspondent. The commander in Japan is quoted as saying that if Japan should be attacked the United States certainly should defend her; and this: "But I do not believe Russia will attack Japan."

The general's analysis of the situation in the Orient is quite convincing. He doesn't see how Russia could undertake an offensive against Japan unless she had mastery of the air and had a far eastern fleet or could neutralize our own fleet. These are out of her reach now.

MacArthur reports that our airfields on Okinawa can scour the skies from Vladivostok to Singapore. Russia has no eastern fleet and only a limited air force. It would have difficulty supplying an army at the end of its long Trans-Siberian railroad. The situation would be changed of course if China became an active ally; but even then, lacking both air force and navy invasion of Japan would be foolhardy.

Japan's role in the far east, thinks MacArthur, should be a Switzerland, that is, a neutral. His goal is to help Japan become self-supporting. Now we are spending hundreds of millions of dollars to help feed the Japanese.

In short the menace in the far east is not immediately large from a military standpoint as regards either Japan or the United States. On this coast we need cultivate no worries of enemies dropping on us out of the skies or sailing up our rivers.

Back to the YMCA

It will be something of a homecoming for Carlton Greider to get back to the YMCA. He was on the staff there when he went off with the marines. A wicked slug in the task of cleaning out Japs from an island cave destroyed his eyesight; but that didn't daunt Carlton. After a period of treatment he returned to Salem and took a position in the employment service where he was of great assistance to veterans during the period of postwar adjustment.

But he was trained for Y service; his unique talents equip him well for youth guidance and encouragement and direction of numerous adult activities. Inspired he is also inspiring; he will make a great contribution to that powerhouse of good works, the Salem. YMCA.

The same day the senate voted to kill a bill increasing the number of members of the highway commission from three to five the house game committee voted to increase the number of members of the game commission from five to seven. The highway commission administers a far larger budget which affects the state's economy far more vitally than does the game commission. We see no advantage to the state of to the cause of game conservation to increase the number on the game commission. It will give two more ambitious sportsmen s chance to serve on the commission, which will add to the disputes and to the expense. What is needed more is emphasis on the administrative side and less on the top-deck policy-making division of the game department.

The state is losing one of the ablest of its younger attorneys with the resignation of George Neuner, jr. as assistant attorney general to enter private practice in Roseburg. He was named to the justice department position by the late I. H. Van Winkle. Afte his return from military service he was assigned to the state highway department as assistant counsel under J. M. Devers. In his work he has demonstrated superior talents as a lawyer. He has brains, industry, and with them a fine personality and high character. He has a splendid opportunity in Roseburg which is the center of great development; but the state should keep its eye on him to recall him to responsible service.

One good thing has come to pass as a result of the clash between Governor Hall and Liquor Commissioner Joe Freck last summer: the purchasing department of the board of control will handle purchases of supplies and equipment for the liquor commission, except liquor. The central office at Salem is much better set up to handle purchases of office supplies, automobiles, etc. It serves all other state departments and institutions. The liquor board will realize economies through this arrangement.

The universe is billions of years old. Proof of its age is supplied by use of the 200-inch telescope on Mt. Palomar which revealed nebulae so far off (six trillion miles) it takes a billion light years for the light from the cluster to reach the earth. Archbishop Usher whose chronology dated creation at 5005 B.C. was born geles ate 36 seven-inch smelt in 10 minutes. The smelt must have thought he was a branch schedules now written in house of the Cowlitz river.

"Morse Blasts," "Morse Flays" - these are mately. headlines in the papers, our own included. Does the junior senator from Oregon never speak mildly; or is the choice of a scorching verb an occupational disease of headline writers?

Pravda, after telling the Russians that in the USA every seventh citizen of an American town goes hungry, chirrups that "the soviet system has led our people onto the path of the free life of socialism, filled with joyous labor and creative inspiration" . . . but not much good food. How many Russians eat white bread?

Pulling a Walterwinchell on KSLM: the word is orology or orography.

U.S. 'Must Escape Europe Reaction'

By Joseph Alsop WASHINGTON, March 2—In the long night of a trans-Atlantic air journey, it is not easy for the returning traveler to sort out positive conclusions. Random impressions float too insistently through the mind—the pale beauty of a sunny winter day in Romethe extreme oddity of spats, when worn by a belligerent Yugoslav commissar - the

Joseph Alsop dreary reminders, in an evening with the occupiers of Germany, of a pretentious little goon before the war.

One conclusion none the less stands out, even in the stuffy murk of the airplane cabin. In Europe, a stalemate has been reached in the world struggle between the West and the Soviet empire. And this is true because the Soviet power drive to capture Western Europe has been colonial dinner party in Ran-decisively frustrated. It is tempting to forget the magnitude of this event, and to argue that the Soviet drive westward was always bound to fail anyway, because the Kremlin was not yet ready to employ the Red army. But the truth is that only 15 short months ago, the fate of Western Europe balanced on a knife edge. If the United States had not then held out a helping hand, the boldest Italian leaders have confessed to this correspondent that they would have lost the heart to resist the communists. In that event, Italy would have been lost. After a longer or shorter interlude of dictatorship of the right, France would have gone also. And a whole long, terrible chain reaction would have been set in resistless train.

That danger as passed now. The Marshall plan gave the democratic forces courage and means to carry on their struggle. In the more hopeful atmosphere thus created, the political and economic energies of the Europeans themselves were partly liberated. Everywhere there has occurred a patchy but decisive improvement, and everywhere in Western Europe, the communist parties are in retreat.

This does not mean ,however, that the American responsibility ends with the Marshall plan. New problems are pressing forward. The first problem we must tackle with bold imagination is the problem of our own relationship to the internal politics of the Western European countries we are aiding. Here we must face an important fact. Although the major communist danger has passed, Western Europe will never be restored to full political health as long as the communist parties control the labor movements.

Fortunately, the communists' hold on this basic asset is being challenged by non-communist labor leaders. And simultaneously the communists' own leadership has been weakened from within by the Kremlin's use of the Western European labor groups as mere naked tools of Russian foreign policy. This is the meaning of the Cachin- Togliatti "peace offensive," which is intended to muddle the mass of workers. This is also the meaning of the brutal purge of the communist labor chiefs in France, which is meant to destroy all possible "deviationists." As is suggested by the walkout of Moche, the French mine workers' leader, these taches only reveal a grave, fundamental weakness. During the next year or two, the non-communist groups will have an excellent chance to capture the French and Italian labor movements from the communists, provided one condition is fulfilled. These groups must necessarily stand forward as pro-American. Their position will be undermined, and the whole task of rebuilding a healthy non-communist left in Europe will be brusquely halted, if America meanwhile stands forward as the champion of European reaction. In our own hard-headed interests, Americans must appear as the enemy of European reaction. And we must do so even if this means championing social and economic measures which are not contemplated and may even seem > Second, and still more fundasimplest example, you cannot persuade the French businessed capital, or even to stop hoarding their current earnings, while they continue to believe that Brest." Equally, no one should tation that the proposed Atlan-

the ultimate responsibility rests almost wholly on the United cept in a state of hysteria, we shall deserve the fate we shall probably meet.

abhorrent in our own comfortable country.

mental, the problem of security also awaits solution. No one should deceive himself with the expectation that full European recovery can occur until Europe feels genuinely secure from Russian aggression. To repeat the men and peasants to begin investing their $5 billion of hoarddeceive himself with the expecthe Russians can march to tic Pact is more than the beginning of a solution of this security problem.

The problem is global, and States. There can be no real security so long as such assues as the defense of Germany and the future of the Middle and Far East have not been faced. Above all, there can be no real security while the Atlantic Pact and other measures that may be taken merely represent the pooling of weakness. A small program of peacetime lend-lease for Western Europe will not create the needed strength. Indeed, the needed strength cannot be created at all, so long as businessas-usual remains the watchword of the administration in Washington. A grim American effort, both to place our own forces on a footing of minimum peacetime readiness, and to strengthen our allies, is now absolutely essential. The European stalemate is a perilous victory, in the sense that it will moderate or end the European crises that have stimulated our efforts thus far. But if we are so short-sighted that we can make no great efforts ex-

AMNESIA IS A STRANGE DISEASE

With Watson at the Legislature

New Liquor License Bill Would Pledge Turned Add Revenue to State Coffers

By Ralph Watson The house committee on alcoholic control has put the lever under the licensees of the liquor control commission in house bill 290, to the tune of an $85,827 annual increase in the cost of doing business with the commission; this on the basis of the 1947-48 records of the com-At a Kelso smeltbake a senator from Port An- mission. In the past year the revenues from the various kinds of licenses issued by the commission totalled $280,426. According to the tainment or dancing. The "unre-drinks can be served in any res-

The class A restaurant pays a litaurant licenses are $150 the year.

in the original bill but this caused so much backfire that the com-

Bethel Baptist

Play Tonight

Young people of Bethel Baptist church will present a humorous play, "When - Their Missionary

Came," at 8 o'clock tonight in the

In the cast are Velma Tuper,

Alvin Schwengel, Gary Radke,

Mrs. Hilda Casper, Dolores Tuper,

Ruth Rae, Dorothy Casper, Joan

Stark, Ruth Giese, Caroline Giese and Shirley Rocks. Director is ciety will be represented by Mar-le Schindler. Mrs. Christine uhn

le Schindler. Mrs. Christine Kuhn will sing. Also participating will be Carl May, Lois Schrenk and

Hearing Aid Users

Receive Free Gift

If you advise the make of hearing aid you are now wearing, and send the name and address of a hard of hearing friend, an Oregon firm will send to YOU without cost, a very useful battery tester! Every hearing aid user should have one.

James N Taft & Associates,

734 American Bank Building-Portland 5, Oregon.

The Junior Young People's so-church, open to the public.

Mrs. Edith Sunderland.

Oren Hornback.

Malt License Largest

off the premises.

bill 290, and on the same number tainment. The "qualified restaulicensees, the next year's revenue would be $366,253 approxi- rant" license, in addition is per-process, so it is explained, under which some of the licensees are given a reduction in their contributions to the commission, while in others the fare is boosted. For instance the whole-sale malt bever- stricted place is charged $400 anage license has nually. Under present law all res-

Ralph Watson been increased from $125 the year to $150 and from $125 the year to $150 and The package store selling 4 per these fees will yield in the ag- cent malt beverage and table gregate $20,137 more than in the wines was raised from $50 to $75 past year. License Provisions

The three classes of restaurants mittee met Wednesday noon and are charged to the tune of $90,137 scaled the fee down to $35. for their rights to serve liquor with their meals. The straight restaurant license allows the sale of malt beverages and table wine with meals, and allows no enter-

(Continued from page 1)

who are both informed about corporated in the original bill as the Red Cross and grateful for engrossed by the house. its work.

The Red Cross does many other things than just rush with food and clothing to spots hit cyclones and floods. It is still a ministering angel to service men and veterans and their families. It has special projects like lifesaving instruction and now the blood bank. These are all community chores which the Red Cross does and does well.

It is a genuine privilege for the American people to share in this great enterprise. The Red Cross is so universal in its service and in its appeal that all Americans feel a degree of proprietorship in it. The response to its annual appeal is always

This year there should be generous outpouring of funds, pecially in this area. We had example in the Vanport flood of last year of how valuable the Red Cross is in time of calamity. It moved in promptly and with its efficient organization and adequate resources provided relief that was needed, spared the locality very heavy burdens and succeeded in getting families rehoused and re-

When the Red Cross solicitor calls be ready with your contribution, and make it as liberal as your means permit. Consider it as your "insurance premium," knowing that if calamity comes here the premium will come back manyfold, and knowing too that if it strikes somewhere else your gift will help the Red Cross to meet the needs arising

WU Fraternity Over to FBI'

The case of the handcuffed pledge was written into the books shares compared with 720,000 of Willamette university fraternity pranks this week.

to Dean Raymond A. Withey's of- while 317 advanced. fraternity.

A few nights before, Juba had mitted to mix, store and serve high for the evening for violating a count as well as others. This increase comes as a result proof liquors for consumption on fraternity rule for allegedly giving a girl his pledge pin.

the premises. It permits no enter-Seeking help in freeing himself, Juba walked to a nearby service stricted" license in addition to the station whose skeptical operator other features permits dancing or notified FBI. The FBI got in touch with college authorities to confirm other forms of entertainment. No the prank. Dean Withey asked all four fraternities for information. taurant without bona fide meals. His answer was finding Zuba chained to his door, along with a cense fee of $125, the qualified sign, "Wanted by FBI."

Change in Electing Precinct Officials Passed in Senate

A bill to set the election of precinct committeemen and committeewomen for the primary election instead of the general election was The largest revenue producer in passed in the senate Wednesday the list is the retail malt beverage and sent to the house.

license, which is estimated to pro-The measure repeals the present duce $129,487 annually, the indilaw enacted in the 1947 session. vidual license being set at $75. It It was introduced by the Marion permits the sale of package malt county legislative delegation. The beverage, for consumption on and legislators said election of the officials in the general election re-The bill was sent back to comsulted in confusion. mittee Wednesday afternoon for #### the purpose of cutting out the increase sin license fees charged for byines and package store licenses. Business Good crease in license fees charged for Its main provisions seemingly At Postoffice have met with the approval of the liquor commission, its controversial feature being the "master It's a rare week-day now when locker" amendment which was in-Salem postoffice doesn't cancel at least 40,000 pieces of outgoing mail, according to Postmaster Albert C. Gragg. The figure reached 62,800 Tuesday, 20 per cent above a comparable day in 1948.

All February days shows considerable gain, said Gragg. And while it isn't so easy to check the count, incoming mail is also showing a great increase.

The postmaster also announced that the lobby stamp-vending machine has been altered to issue 2cent stamps in slot which formerly sold airmails, when they were 5 cents. The various openings now provide five on-cent stamps for a nickel, five twos for a dime and five threes for a dime and a nickel.

Use Organic Fertilizer

The right way to rebuild soil

Free of seeds Odorless

in Salem area.

6 sacks $5.00

Bulk - 1 ton ......$10.00 2 tons ...... Free delivery anywhere

Phone 3-8127

At Salem Schools

By James Cooke Statesman School Correspondent

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL Infractions of rules of etiquette were demonstrated at a Girl's league assembly Wednesday morning. Rules which are commonly broken were pantomimed by a cast, with a narrator explaining the Participants in the program were Gordon Sloan, Gwen Fry, Dick Howard, Marijo Ogle, Don Herring,

Joan Jacqua, Jack Forristel, Lea-dell Davis, Carolyn Messemer, Colleen McNeil, Mike McManus, Jeanette Martin, Bobby Jo Morris, Gary Campbell, Pat Filler, Derothy Cannon, Warren Mulkey and Sylvia Hastings. Edna Hill was pianist.

Scenes included buying flowers, meeting chaperones at dances, restaurant manners, inattention at club meetings and over-attention club meetings and over-attention between a boy and girl when speech about him. walking down a street.

Control (student behavior in Steeves, chairman, Caroline Gie- monies. se, Viola Wilcox, Jackson Smithson and John Verstage. Attendance, Victor Barnick, chairman, Rex Laton and Joanne Lawn patrol, Lanny Dibbern, chairman, Clayton Sanders and Richard Reitzenstein. This group grounds. Bleacher committee (to check bleachers in gym at noon after students have eaten), Harriet Hughes, chairman, Bonnie Jenk-will report on mistreatment of the

3-Day Stock Rally Snaps

NEW YORK, March 2 -(P)- A 6 at small overall decline in today's stock market snapped a threeday rally.

Final prices showed a narrow margin of losses over gains. Most changes were fractional.

In sharp contrast to unusually slow trading was the negotiation of one of the largest deals in the recent history of the exchange. A block of 100,000 shares of Western Air Lines sold at 51/2 for a loss of 1/4.
Trading otherwise was skimpy even for these days of sluggish markets. Turnover of 690,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average When George Juba, a Portland of 60 stocks dipped .2 of one point student pledged to Sigma Chi, to 62.6. Of the 920 issues which was found handcuffed and chained changed hands, 346 declined fice door, it was the last link of a so-called disciplining by the fraternity.

A few nights before, Juba had chased by the investment firm of been handcuffed and turned out Burnham & Co. for its own ac- | Salem, Oregon Day or Night

inson, Lynn Asher and Rodney Russell

RICHMOND SCHOOL A "Famous Folk Parade" was the topic of a recent Richmond assembly. Each member of Mrs. Mary Swigart's fourth grade represented a famous man born in February by showing pictures which made him familiar with the

PARRISH JUNIOR HIGH
Committees to watch student

People who were represented and the students who portrayed them are: George Handel, Nancy behavior were appointed Tuesday Ladd; Charles Lindbergh, Marilyn morning at Parrish by Don Smith, Hallisy; Charles Dickens, Phyllis student body president. They are: Kay Morris; Thomas Edison, Rod-Buildings and grounds, Carol ney Schmidt; Abraham Lincoln, Hewitt, chairman, Kenny Lottis, Larry Merk; William Cody, Bar-Jean Schoneboom and Jerry Sny- ney McCargar; Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Mary Mitchell; and George Washington, Larry Hicks. assemblies and in the halls), Tom David Ashby was master of cere-

Kathy Miller gave a tap dance; Douglas Edminster read "How to Be a Hero"; and Marcia Humphreys gave a minuet "A Poem

Dividend Set

Thomas W. Delzell, chairman of the board of Portland General Electric company, has announced that the board declared a dividend of 45 cents per share on the company's common stock. The dividend will be paid on April 15, 1949 to the stockholders of record at the close of business March 12. The annual stockholders' meeting will be held at 2 p.m. April 6 at the Portland hotel in Port-PGE's earnings in 1948 were $2,604,967, equivalent to $2.61 per share on the 998,967 shares of stock outstanding. Operating expenses, which were 16.9 per cent more than in in 1947, virtually offset the increase of $2,104,654 in gross revenues over the previous

Salem Heating and Sheet Metal Co. "Heating Headquarters"

For Men of Active Awareness

About ten men in every hundred are more successful than others in discerning which are the best things in l.fe. It has been our observation that Nunn-Bush shoes rank high in the recognition of such men. We do know that Nunn-Bush strives earnestly to make the world's most satisfying shoes for men. And we think the Nunn-Bush development called Ankle-Fashioning will give YOU greater comfort and added miles of smartness

The Man's Shop

"The Store of Style, Quality and Value" MOXLEY & HUNTINGTON 416 STATE STREET