

5 New Courses to Join Adult Class Schedule Spring Term

Five new courses in gem cutting, music, plastics, speech and mathematics will feature the spring term of the Salem adult education program beginning March 14, Director George D. Porter reported Saturday.

A music appreciation class will begin that night in room 127 of the senior high school. E. Donald Jessop, director of instrumental music in Salem public schools, will direct the 10-week course each Monday night at 7:15 o'clock.

The non-technical course will include the history of music from the 17th century to modern times and will study the relation of music to art, religion, politics and science. Local businesses will furnish record players to be used during the instructions, Porter said.

Gem Cutting Class

A gem cutting class will start a week early on Monday, March 7, Porter said. It will meet each Monday at 7:15 p. m. in shop 3 at Parrish junior high school. Instructor is to be Ralph DaMetz, industrial arts instructor at Parrish. Twelve students from the Willamette Gem society, which requested the class, already have enrolled.

The use and working of plastics will be the object of another class to open March 14 in room 224 in the senior high school. This 10-week course also will be Mondays at 7:15 p. m.

A weekly elementary algebra course, on a college level and sponsored by the Oregon state system of higher education, also will open on March 14 in room 208 at the high school. It will be taught from 7 to 10 p. m. and will give four credit hours.

New Extension Course

Another extension course, speech for the classroom teacher, will start Wednesday, March 9, in room 214 in the high school building at 7 p. m.

A total of 31 courses are being planned for the spring term, Porter noted. Between 400 and 500 students are expected to enroll. The courses include business (bookkeeping, typing and shorthand); hobby and craft (ceramics and metal foil); trades (carpentry theory and electricity); and public speaking, English and others. Information on all can be obtained from Porter at phone 2-3172 or 2-1098.

U.S. Navy Man Forced to Join French Legion

CANTON, China, March 5—(AP)—An American navy man who disappeared in the Mediterranean 19 months ago reported Friday he was forced into the French foreign legion and carried to Indochina before he could escape.

(In Paris a French defense ministry spokesman said the American had joined the legion voluntarily and fled before the French could release him upon learning of his navy status.)

The seaman, James Patrick Ryan, 24, of Huntington, Pa., declared in an interview that he was one of several Americans held against their will in the foreign legion.

The American consul placed him in a Canton hospital for treatment of jungle ulcers and malnutrition suffered in his five-month flight from Indochina.

Ryan said he missed his ship, the U. S. destroyer Harlan R. Dickson, at San Remo, Italy, July 2, 1947, and rushed overland to Nice, France, to try to overtake it.

In Nice, he said, foreign legion military police arrested him and refused to believe he was an American because he conversed with them in German—their only mutual language.

County 4-H Show Set for Silverton

Silverton will be the scene of this spring's annual Marion county 4-H club show, from April 25 to 29, Anthol Riney, county club agent, announced Saturday. Previous shows have been in Salem. The decision was reached Saturday by the executive committee of the County 4-H Leaders' association. Exact location of the exhibits of work carried on during the school year is not yet known.

Survey of State Nurses Made

A survey of Oregon's professional registered nurses is under way at the request of the national security resources board, the Oregon state board of nurse examiners said Saturday.

Purpose of the inventory is to furnish accurate figures on existing and potential resources of America's nursing personnel in the event of war or other emergency. In peacetime the inventory will supply data in over-all planning for nursing profession, education and retirement.

Grains Hold Steady Tone

CHICAGO, March 5—(AP)—With corn showing the most strength, grains had a steady tone on the board of trade today. Best gains were not held through to the close, wheat backing down nearly a cent in late dealings from highs scored during the first hour.

Prices opened higher and moved up in a fair display of strength during the first hour. Buying was mainly a continuation of the sudden upsurge which got under way late in yesterday's session. A good deal of it was attributed to previous short sellers.

West Salem Council to Meet Early on Monday

WEST SALEM, March 5—The West Salem city council meeting next Monday has been called for 7 p.m., a half hour earlier than usual. Mayor Walter Musgrave said Saturday. The change is to allow early adjournment for attendance at the Salem reception for Gov. Douglas McKay. Only routine matters are expected at the meeting.
