Early Maturing Tomato Varieties To Be Tested

stesults of last year's tomato va-riety trials in Clackamas county showed several new kinds promisog for this area, according to Leon Garoian, county extension agent, who carried on the project. Pur-pose of the trials, to be carried m again this year is to find early naturing varieties.

A. L. Amrine, Oregon City, re-ported tomatoes of the Victor va-riety ripe on July 20th, last year. Other varieties maturing early last year include Window Box, a New Hampshire development, which is small plant and has mediumized fruit. It may be especially estrable for planting in small garen plots due to the small upright nature of the plant, Garoian re-
