

Mac's Pocket Tournery Berth

There's no doubt about it this time: McMinnville high school is basketball champion of district 8. The Grizzlies earned the district crown and a state tournament berth by defeating Dayton 58 to 41 on the Salem high school floor Saturday night.

The contest was a replay of a game staged last Tuesday. In the first "final" affair, McMinnville finished on the better half of a 38 to 37 score, but district officials decided Friday that due to faulty timing the game would have to be replayed. And they brought in Chappie King, one of the state's leading officials, from Portland to work the stopwatch during Saturday's game.

Dayton blew a 10 to 5 first quarter lead and trailed 15 to 24 at halftime. Dennis Atkinson and Irvin Hanville paced McMinnville scorers with 18 points apiece, while Jack Sherman tallied 17 for the losers.

Dayton (47) (38) McMinnville
Sherman (17) F (18) Atkinson
Manning (6) F (16) Montgomery
McDougan (4) C (18) Hanville
Lorenzen (8) G (4) White
Mather (4) G (2) Cox

Reserves: Dayton — Cookerham, Hedrick, Bell, Zentler, 30; McMinnville — Leroy, Beard, Olson, Porter, Toliver. Halftime score: McMinnville, 24. Officials: Emil Filuso and Mickey Davis.

NIT Quintets In 1st Round

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Loyola of Chicago completed the first round of New York entrants in the National Invitation Basketball 11 tournament tonight with a 62-47 victory over City College of New York.

Earlier today San Francisco defeated Manhattan 68-43; Bradley whipped New York 60-30; St. John's and Bowling Green beat St. John's of Brooklyn, 77-64.

More Anxious Moments Due

There were many anxious moments for the Salem Vikings last year at Eugene as they battled their way into second place in the state cage tourney, as the above photo would indicate. It shows Coach Harold Hauk (nearest camera) and players Darrill Ghed, Art Duval and Tom Paulus sweating it out on the bench. The four go back again, starting Tuesday night. Salem plays Roosevelt of Portland in the 8:45 o'clock game.

Prep Quints Start Classic on Tuesday

The 31st annual Oregon high school Class A basketball tournament, 16 teams strong, will open Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in McArthur court, Eugene. Two games are booked for the opening Wednesday will complete the first round of play.

McMinnville's Grizzlies and Pendleton's Buckaroos have the honor of opening the classic in the first Tuesday tilt, after which the Salem Vikings go against Roosevelt of Portland. On Wednesday the schedule puts Hillsboro opposite Milwaukie at nine, Junction City on with LaGrande at 10:15, Marshfield against Jefferson at 1:45, Central Catholic against Lebanon at three o'clock, Medford against Klamath at 7:30, and Bend against Scappoose at 8:45.

First round consolation brackets, which start play at 8:45 p. m. Thursday. The winners will advance to quarterfinals, starting with a 3 p. m. game Thursday.

On the basis of their records over the season, the strong teams in the tournament are few. Only Salem, the two Portland teams, Roosevelt and Jefferson, Hillsboro, Lebanon and Bend loom as powerful enough to go on through to the championship.

The lower bracket isn't too well stocked with highly regarded teams either. Marshfield was mediocre most of the season, as were Medford, Central Catholic and Scappoose. Tillamook had a good record against lesser competition. Of the lot, Jefferson, Lebanon and Bend rate the top spots.

—Being just as silly as the next guy—and anyone who predicts high school basketball is silly—we'll go in the limb thustly. Salem to beat Roosevelt and wind up in a semi-final game with Hillsboro in the upper bracket. At the same time, Jefferson and Bend to advance to the semifinals in the lower bracket. Salem to then knock off Hillsboro while Jefferson is bouncing Bend, to make it a Salem-Jefferson grand finale. The Portland boys always have seemed to get the chokitis in the state meets, so we'll go with hercity and say the Viks will spear 'em in the payoff battle and bring home the title.

If we're wrong we'll apologize. Of course.

Stevenson, Sporer Lost to Townies

More pitching woes for the town Senators, as neither Bob Stevenson nor Bus Sporer intend reporting this semester. Rapid Robert, good enough to open the season for the locals a year ago, has applied for his retirement from the game. Sporer, who was coming along fast near the end of last season, figures he has too good a regular job now to be quitting it for mere baseball. All of which leaves the locals in a pitching dither, as even with both of those operators around the club's hill staff wouldn't be considered strong. As it stands now, Cal Melvinn, Jim Olsen, Bob Stevenson and Bus Sporer, the 1-2-3-4 men of '48 are missing. Olsen is still with the team, but now as an outfielder . . .

Bevos Laying Things on Pretty Thick

Which brings us to those daily communiques passed along by the Portland Beavers. The Bevo publicity men seem to be spreading it on pretty thick, and hardly a word have we seen which would indicate that the parent Portlands and Mgr. Bill Sweeney feel they are anything but pennant threats. Danged if we can see how they'll be anything but second divisioners again, unless they get first base, outfield and pitching help. If they don't get it, and Sweeney can win with what he's got, he'll be manager of the decade hands down. Much as we hate to think of it, we can't see how one William Elton Beard is going to do much winning with what he has too. But then that may be taken care of between now and late next month . . .

Wenner to Get Crack at Righthanders

Speaking of those reports on the Bevov, looks like Salem grad Dick Wenner is to get a break under Sweeney. For two seasons under Jim Turner, hard-hitting Dick got to play only against southpaw pitchers, if at all. But now in the Riverside camp he's in the lineup against either lefties or righties. It had been so long since Wenner swung at a righthander he thought he was looking at a freak when he first walked up to the dish against one at Riverside. . . . Comes now the hope also that one balmy afternoon in Yankee stadium next summer finds Bill Bevovs blanking the New Yorkers, therein gaining revenge for his kissoff by Gen. Mgr. George Weiss. Bill's arm has been holding up wonderfully so far with the White Sox—good enough to make the Manbrin Gardens moose feel that he's brand new again. Should that day in Yankee stadium ever come, Bev will have the snappies finger wave you ever saw for Weiss. Trouble is, from the looks of that White Sox club he'll have to blank the enemy and hit a home run himself if he's to win . . .

Here 'n There in the W1-League:

WIL shorties: Glenn Stetter, the former Woodburn lad is back with Tacoma again, and in the best shape he's been in for three seasons. . . . Earl Kuper, was assigned to the Tiges also, but he wants more moose. . . . Vancouver, the Seattle farm club may come up with Sammy White, the Husky basketball sharpie who recently signed with the Rainiers. He's quite a catching prospect, and Mgr. Bill Brenner could use one since the Sicks took Jack Warren. . . . Other Vancouverers who have signed for '49 include Pitchers Jim Hedgcock, Bob Costello, Carl Gunnarson and Bob Snyder, four reasons for a concentrated "ouch" from other W1 lines. . . . Both Bob Drilling and Gene Gaviglio were so-o operators in the 1900 last year, but they're now with the SF Seals. . . . Former Vancouver fireballer Bob Hall hasn't been looking too sharp with the Boston Braves. . . . San Diego Skipper Bucky Harris has gone overboard on Big Dick Greco, up from Tacoma. Says he never saw a kid who could hit as hard as Greco. Also, Harris will have half a dozen Cleveland Indian farmhands—good ones—to send to Tacoma. Ouch again . . .

Seattle Set For Hoop Show

NCAA Hoop Finals Booked March 26th

By Jack Hewins

SEATTLE, March 12—(AP)—Harvey Cassill said today he couldn't squeeze another fan into the NCAA basketball championships here March 26 with a shoe horn. All 12,000 seats in the University of Washington's vast athletic cavern, Edmundson pavilion, were sold out six weeks before game time—at $3.75 a copy.

There are no comps, except for the working press. Even Cassill had to buy a ticket.

Mr. Cassill, the university's athletic director, makes no effort to conceal his satisfaction over developments. The National Collegiate Athletic association expressed some doubt when Cassill put in his bid for the event and said frankly that his own university Huskies were not likely to make the grade.

Did he think the championships would draw without a local attraction? He did. His confidence was upheld when half the seats were sold two weeks after the first announcement. Seattle fans tumbled over each other snapping up the tickets, even though no Pacific coast team appeared likely to figure in the finals.

It's something of a justification, too, for the folks who built the pavilion 22 years ago. There were many who sneered and called it a white elephant. It was 392 feet long, 251 feet wide, 85 feet high, seating 9,000. How could you get 9,000 people to watch one basketball game?

The answer came in 1939 when the university began to turn away fans with hard cash in their pockets. Two years ago the seating was boosted to 12,000 and still there have been turn-away crowds. Cassill said 18,000 tickets could have been sold for the NCAA championships.

He admits to a bit of satisfaction, too, in bringing the tourney back to the campus. The first nationals were held at Northwestern university in 1939. Since that time they have been in Kansas City or New York public arenas.

MIAMI, Fla., March 12—(AP)—Skip Alexander, Southern Pines, N. C., and Pete Cooper, Ponte Vedra, Fla., battled their way into the finals of the $10,000 Miami International four-ball golf tournament today with defending champions Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., and Jim Ferrier, San Francisco.

Alexander and Cooper staged a spectacular stretch drive to beat Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., and Herman Keiser, St. Andrews, Ill., one up.

Middlecoff and Ferrier eliminated Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., two and one.

Fight Card Prelims Set

Chandler Raps Jackie After Tiff with Mate

MIAMI, Fla., March 12—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, Negro second baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was called on the carpet today by baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler about his recent flare-up against a teammate at the Dodgers' spring training camp at Vero Beach.

Chandler expressed annoyance over a statement attributed to Robinson after the game, quoting him as saying: "They (rival players) better be prepared to be rough this year, because I'm going to be rough on them."

Robinson denied making such a statement and minimized the tiff with his teammate.

"It wasn't anywhere as serious as the newspapers made it appear," he said. "We just jockeyed each other as players do once in a while, and I lost myself in the heat of the moment and said something I shouldn't have. I was sorry a minute after I said it."

Chandler accepted Robinson's word but warned him to avoid any unpleasantness hereafter.

"Your conduct during your brief career in organized baseball has been exemplary," he told Robinson. "Don't ruin everything by some foolish action now."

Chandler was referring to an altercation between Robinson and Chris Van Cuyk, a rookie Brooklyn pitcher, in last Thursday's intra-squad game. What started out as a good-natured jockeying between them turned into some harsh words before they were through.

The two players later shook hands, however, then went to the movies together that night.

Uelans Lead Most of Route; Title Tilt Set Monday Night

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 12—(AP)—The UCLA Bruins defeated the Oregon State college Beavers, 46 to 39, tonight to tie the Pacific Coast conference basketball championship series, and throw the play-off into a third game. They will meet again Monday night.

Twice in the first half the Beavers had snagged the lead away from the fighting Bruins who posted a 24-21 halftime edge and then stayed in front.

Oregon State won last night's opener, 53 to 41, but couldn't match the UCLA pace tonight. The Bruins were shooting faster, more often and hitting better tonight and succeeded in bottling up OSC's Cliff Crandall. The big Stater was able to get but two field goals in the contest, one in each half.

Ralph Joekel—who had 15 points for the game—took the starting tip-off to open the scoring within seconds and Ron Pearson got two free throws for a 4-point UCLA lead. After eight minutes the Bruins were in front 13-8. At this point, however, Oregon State started a rally and on three foul line shots and a goal by Guard Dan Torrey grabbed the first of two one-point leads, 14-13.

Carl Kraushaar jumped the Bruins ahead again, 15-14, at once, but Cliff Crandall hit for OSC before Joekel again pushed UCLA into a lead of 17-16. Oregon State tied it on Alex Petersen's foul shot at 17-all. But two quick field goals by Chuck Kluska shoved UCLA to the lead that they never lost.

Coming back after the 24-21 halftime, the Beavers narrowed the gap to one point, 25-24, but goals by Joekel and Paul Saunders pulled the Bruins out of that spot. From there in UCLA held margins of from four to eight points.

Alex Petersen kept the Staters in the game with three of the five field goals the Beavers were able to snag in the last half. He picked them up in the early action when UCLA was matching the counts with free throws after the Joekel-Saunders spurt.

The Bruins were still holding to but four points, 34-30, at the ten minute mark. Then George Stanich got a foul shot, Kraushaar Joekel and Saunders goals and one free throw to push the Bruin lead to 42-34—eight points.

From there in the Bruins effectively controlled the ball, allowing only one field goal by Tommy Holman just after he came into the game.

Ellensburg 5 'Y' Champion

Topple Walla Walla In Finals, 56-43

The Ellensburg, Wash. YMCA basketball team captured the Northwest "Y" championship by winning two games on the Walla Walla university floor Saturday. Ellensburg whipped Longview 89 to 34 in an afternoon semi-final clash, then came back a few hours later to down Walla Walla 56 to 43 in the finals.

The Walla Wallans had advanced to the finals by edging Yakima 38 to 33 in another afternoon contest.

Yakima took third place by defeating Longview 82 to 56 behind the 36-point performance of Fred Graham. In a consolation contest, Salem trimmed Seattle Central, 50 to 46.

K-Falls Matmen Win; Viks 5th

CORVALLIS, March 12—(Special)—Klamath Falls didn't take any titles as the State Prep Wrestling Meet ended here today but the defending champions tallied enough points from falls and second places to again take the team gonfalon. The K-Falls crew collected 35 points, Parkrose was second with 28, Molalla had 25, Oregon City was fourth with 24 and Salem came in fifth with 21.

The Sailems captured a pair of crowns, Jack Sills taking the 113-pound toga and Vic Schweitz snaring laurels in the 145-pound class. For Schweitz his winning performance ended a season in which he was never once defeated.

Lawrence Veilen was runner-up for the Viks in the 165-pound division.
