Courthouse Drive Parking Status Asked

Marion county court Tuesday decided to ask the district attorney what action could be taken against motorists' parking in the courthouse driveway.

The problem arose recently when W. P. Robie, Salem fire chief, warned the court that, in the event of a courthouse fire, heavy fire-fighting equipment would be blocked by the congested drive.

The court, in 1945, set up parking regulations covering the courthouse area during the daytime hours. The order prohibited all parking there at night.

This order was directed to the sheriff's office to enforce, but since then question of legality of the order has arisen. The court has asked District Attorney E. O. Stadler, Jr., what legal stand the county has since the courthouse drive is not a city street, nor a state highway.

"Because we have only one deputy on at night," said Sheriff Denver Young, "he cannot be expected to attend to his regular duties and also to patrol the courthouse grounds."

The county court also has asked the district attorney what authority the county has in regard to erecting a county jail in the Detroit-Idanha area, if one is needed. Sheriff Young has indicated to the court that a jail might be needed there this summer.

Giant Bones Displayed Here

Giant bones of a mastodon, unearthed near Silverton two years ago, are on display for the first time this week at the Reimann real estate office, 201 S. High st.

The bones were unearthed by excavation work on the Paul Pinson farm, Silverton route 1. The display consists of leg and rib bones, teeth and tusk of the huge animals which roamed the Willamette valley over 20,000 years ago. The leg bone in the display weighs about 60 pounds.

It has been estimated by scientists who have studied the bones, that the animal weighed 24 tons and was 14 feet tall. It is believed that remains of other animals are underground on the Pinson farm.

East Presents Case at Coast Bus Hearing

Public utilities commission hearings on a second application for permit to operate direct bus routes from Salem to the coast ended Tuesday.

The two applicants are the Roy East lines by owner Roy East of Tillamook and Pacific Coast lines by owner John Ratzlaff of Albany. PUC decisions are expected soon.

The East application, hearing of which concluded Tuesday, seeks a permit to set up service from Salem to Valley Junction via Dallas. At Valley Junction East proposes to hook up with a line he already operates between Valley Junction and Tillamook. His application was opposed by Ratzlaff.

Ratzlaff's proposal would establish service from Salem to Newport. This route would include Dallas, Valley Junction, Otis and then south along the beach to Newport. Ratzlaff's hearing ended Saturday.

Witnesses for the East application favored the route because, they said, it would provide better and faster service from Salem to Tillamook and would provide an express haul for North Lincoln beach business and professional establishments.

Those favoring the longer Pacific Coast lines' proposal said they were dissatisfied with the service now rendered by Greyhound bus company, especially in the summer time.

In opposition to the East application Ratzlaff called a number of witnesses Tuesday from several coastal points. PUC Examiner Donald J. Budke conducted both hearings.

The West Salem Lions club will sponsor the contest which will include for the first time a ladies' quartet. The Santiam Barabretts of Mill City will compete with male quartets in the two-hour vocalizing session beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The little German band of Salem high school will add to the entertainment schedule, along with an offering of Gay Nineties comedy songs.

Kiwanis Hears Neuberger

Pari — mutual betting in Portland's civic stadium and the price of milk in Salem and Portland came in for lambasting Tuesday by Sen. Richard Neuberger, Portland democrat, in a talk to the Salem Kiwanis club.

The senator declared Seattle housewives were buying milk at 3 cents a quart less than those in Oregon. This, he said, was the Oregon law barring a price differential between milk sold at stores and that home-delivered.

Neuberger also declared one party (Republicans) had controlled Oregon's political scene too long, and defended that position in regard to the national scene by declaring that a strong republican minority had a say in national legislation whereas the democratic legislative minority in Oregon until recently had been too small to be effective.

Appeal Made As Red Cross Drive Slows

Only $55 additional was turned in Tuesday toward the American Red Cross fund campaign in Marion county, the audit Tuesday night revealing a total of $31,670 against the objective of $52,000.

An urgent appeal was voiced last night by Wesley E. Stewart, Jr., general campaign chairman, that every Marion county citizen assist in doing his bit.

"Our divisions have been working but we know there are many who have not been contacted in the drive to date. We are making a special request that all who have not been contacted mail in or bring in their contributions to the drive headquarters in the Pioneer Trust company building before the official close of the drive at 5 p. m. Thursday, March 31," Stewart said.

"The American Red Cross is one of those organizations we cannot afford to let down — too much is at stake for the community," Stewart added in urging all to cooperate in completing the fund campaign.

Sheriff-Limit Bill Returned To Committee

The senate Tuesday afternoon, after refusing to table a bill by Senator Austin Flegel which would place the criminal operations of sheriffs under the state police, sent the measure back to the judiciary committee for further consideration and possible amendment.

The vote against placing the measure on the table was 17 to 11. Flegel indicated he was not opposed to amending the bill in committee so it would apply to only Multnomah county and not the entire state. Flegel estimated that it now costs Multnomah county approximately $416,000 a year for its uniformed police force when the duties of this organization could be performed by the state police at little additional expense to that organization.

Acheson Won't Stay at U.N.

WASHINGTON, March 29 — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson has decided to give mostly a free hand to the experienced American delegation at the forthcoming session of the United Nations general assembly.

The state department disclosed this Monday in announcing Acheson plans to attend the opening meeting April 5 at Lake Success, N. Y., and then to return to his job here.

In thus reversing the practice of his predecessor, General George C. Marshall, Acheson is conforming to a recommendation of the Hoover commission on governmental reorganization which said the secretary is "needed in Washington."

The state department also reported that the attitude the United States will take toward Franco Spain and disposition of the Italian colonies may be decided this week.
