Rites April 9 For Salem AAF Veteran

Funeral services will be held next Saturday, April 9 at 10:30 a. m. in the W. T. Rigdon chapel for 1st Lt. Lee A. McAllister, Jr., who lost his life in World War II. Private entombment will follow at Mt. Crest Abbey mausoleum.

McAllister was born in Salem May 17, 1920, and was a graduate of Salem high school. He attended Oregon State college and was employed by the state highway department and Salem city engineer's office prior to entering the air force.

A B-25 pilot with the 12th air force, McAllister died attempting to evade the enemy at Valdagnio, Italy, Jan. 9, 1945. He had been forced to bail out of his plane over enemy territory and was captured. He held the ETO ribbon with five battle stars, the air medal with four clusters, the distinguished flying cross, presidential citation with one cluster and the purple heart.

Survivors are his wife, Frances; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. McAllister, Salem; brothers, Stuart Ray McAllister, Fair Oaks, Calif., and Donald Michael McAllister, Tucson, Ariz.; and several aunts, uncles, cousins, nephews and nieces.

Rape Charge Bail Boosted

Due to appear next week for preliminary hearing on a rape charge, Havelle E. Canada, 1412 N. Capitol st., was bailed in Marion county jail Friday after his bail was increased from $3,500 to $10,000. The action was taken after the district attorney was informed that Canada had appeared at the home of one of the girls he is accused of molesting and had attempted to get the charges withdrawn. District Attorney E. O. Stadler, Jr., said that the girl's mother found Canada in the house when she returned from an errand and that he offered her $1,000 if she would withdraw the charge against him. City police who have been investigating the case were called to re-arrest Canada, who had been released earlier on posting $3,500 bail.

Spring Fails to Entice County's Swains to Altar

Marriage in Marion county appears to be going to the dogs. Anyway the number of marriage licenses issued during March at the office of Marion County Clerk Harlan Judd hit a low of only 43. Since the first of the year only 144 such applications have been issued while over 6,000 dog licenses have been purchased.

"I don't know whether to attribute it to puppy love, the high cost of living, the democrats or Russia," said Judd, "but the unlovely facts are that marriage applications have been steadily declining for the past several months."

A total of 49 were issued during February, Judd said. During the first three months of 1948 about 214 license applications were taken out by marriage-minded couples.

Jefferson's Majorette, Stayton Miss Join Contest for Fete Court

Two more of Marion county's fairest joined the candidates for the court of Salem Cherryland festival Friday—Katherine Specht of Jefferson and Jeannine Bentley of Stayton. Both were selected by their schoolmates.

A total of five candidates have been named so far to compete April 21 for the title of princess.

Katherine, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Specht of Taylor. She won first place Thursday night in the Salem Elks club annual drum majorette contest. Born at Hamilton, Ohio, she has been in Jefferson the past six years. An honor roll student, majoring in typing and bookkeeping, she will graduate this year and plan to enter Oregon State college to study dramatics.

Brown-haired and brown-eyed, Katherine is 5 feet, 1 inch tall. She has two brothers and four sisters. At school she is secretary of her senior class, president of Girls' Athletic association, secretary of student body and member of Pep club and Future Homemakers of America. Tennis is her favorite sport. She has been in the band for three years, playing the snare drum as well as twirling batons. In the latter she has won ratings in district competition this year and state contest last year. She picked strawberries for two weeks last summer to earn her electric bicycle.

The Stayton princess is also 18 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bentley of Lyons. She attended a California school through the seventh grade, then moved to the Lyons area. After graduation this year she plans to enroll at Linfield college.

The petite brunette is a past worthy advisor of Acacia assembly, Rainbow for Girls, and last year represented Stayton high school at Girls' State in Salem. At school she has been a majorette and in the glee club, junior class secretary and a lead in the junior and senior plays. Vice president of the dramatics society.

Adults Provide April Fool Fun in Dallas

By Charles Ireland

DALLAS, April 1.—(Special)—"Ah to be young again just for tonight." Whoever penned that line had some followers in this valley town Friday as grown-ups provided most of the April fool's day razzle-dazzle.

Those who forgot to pull March off the calendar when they wound the clock were startled (perhaps) to see a placard in the post office this morning which glaringly proclaimed a $5,000 reward, dead or alive, for an alleged horse-thief known as Tony Neufeldt, and sometimes identified as Polk county deputy sheriff.

Over at the chamber of commerce weekly luncheon, members who had been anticipating the much-ballyhooed lecture of Prof. A. P. Ripfoolsky learned that there's something in a name, after all, if you're alert. The professor's program might have been about atomic energy. It was a little hard to tell, since he never opened his mouth. Anyway, the members chewed their cigars and gave him rapt attention as he poured impressive quantities of liquids into various receptacles. The cigars were on the house. They were made of bubble gum.

It was said the professor bore a resemblance to Charles Thomas who is considered more learned on abstract titles than atomic energy locally.

And what were the children of Dallas doing Friday? Well, it was sunny and there was no school, thanks to a teachers' convention. You could see them everywhere playing baseball and tennis and flying kites.

Dick Smith, 12, summed up their sentiments pretty well when he said "April fool's day? Hah! That's for kids!"

Nut Growers Recover Taxes Paid on Building Which Doesn't Exist

Salem Nut Growers cooperative Friday recovered tax money it had paid on a building which does not exist.

A Marion county assessment had been made on the cooperative's building on North Front street which was destroyed by fire in early 1947. The cooperative paid the assessment through "excusable neglect." The refund came to $140.

Party Given For Neuner

Employees of the state highway department Friday afternoon gave a party for Attorney George W. Neuner, Jr., who is leaving Sunday for Roseburg where he will become a member of the law firm of Orcutt and Long.

Neuner has been employed in the legal department of the state highway commission here for two years and prior to entering military service was assistant attorney general. He was presented with a gift. His father is now serving as attorney general of Oregon.

Y Lifesaving Class to Start

Annual lifesaving and water safety course at Salem YMCA will begin Tuesday night, to continue every Tuesday and Friday through May. Fred Cords, physical director, announced yesterday.

The course is open to both men and women and to children above 12 years. The adults must pass a pre-course swimming test of 440 yards and the children of 240 yards. Classes from 8:30 to 10 p. m. will include a history of lifesaving, personal safety in water, rescues with and without equipment. Cords will instruct, assisted by Jess Juarez.

Legion Post Plans Program For Army Day

Legionnaires of other Salem posts are invited by Capital post 9, American Legion, to an Army day program in connection with the Capital post meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in Legion hall.

Speaker for the occasion will be Maj. John Trussell who has just arrived in Salem to spend a 60-day leave following 2 1/2 years of military government duty in southern Japan. An Army day film also will be shown at the combined meeting.

Initiation ceremonies will be conducted for 46 candidates for post 9 and 14 candidates for post 149, an all-women's post. Although not taking part in the initiation, post 136 also will join the other two posts in the special meeting.

2 Weeks Allowed for Filing of Objections to Hop Market Plan

By Lillie L. Madsen

Farm Editor, The Statesman

Approximately two weeks will be allowed for filing of objections before the hop marketing agreement is submitted to the secretary of agriculture for his final approval. Following this approval, the agreement will be submitted to the growers for referendum approval and to the dealers for their agreement. Paul T. Rowell of the Salem office of the U. S. Hop Growers association, stated Friday.

Senator Guy Cordon has advised Mr. Rowell of the signing of the recommended agreement on March 30 by the assistant administrator of the production and marketing administration. The two-week period is figured from the agreement's publication this week-end in the Federal Register, Mr. Rowell explains.

USDA officials state that the regular method of allocations on a uniform basis among all growers is retained in the agreement as originally proposed. They indicate that the so-called "hill plan" for allocations based on variations in leaf and stem content is included as an alternate plan which could be used in any marketing years only upon definite request by the control board.

Mr. Rowell said Friday that as soon as a copy of the tentatively approved agreement is received, it will be analyzed and information will then be sent to all hop growers and dealers regarding any material variations from the proposal upon which official hearings were held several months ago. One of these hearings was held in the
