On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What are a few acknowledgments of an introduction that are forbidden by social usage?

A. "Pleased to meet you," "Delighted to know you," "Charmed, I am sure," or any other such extravagant phrases. "How do you do" is the accepted form.

Q. Is it ever permissible to use unmatched paper and envelopes in correspondence?

A. The paper and envelope should always match, both as to size, quality and color.

Q. When the bride has no near relatives, whom should she ask to perform the duty of "giving her away"?

A. An old friend of the family is often asked to do this.

Many at Easter Bonnet Bridge

A large group of Salem matrons and maids attended the Salem Junior Woman's club Easter Bonnet bridge benefit Monday night at the clubhouse.

The hats were displayed in a clever courtroom scene with the commentator, Mrs. Lenard Kephart, as the attorney, Mrs. Donald Cannon served as the judge, Mrs. Fred East the bailiff and Mrs. Donald Cooper, clerk of court, and Mrs. Jack Strickfaden as the state's attorney. Witnesses who were the models included Mrs. Ross Coppock, Mrs. Thomas Gabriel, Mrs. C. M. Collins, Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. Terry Randall.

The Easter motif was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Prizes in bridge went to Mrs. Douglas Fousbury and Mrs. Rudolf Jaeger. Winners in pinocle were Mrs. E. W. York and Mrs. Wesley Goodrich. Mrs. Arthur Roethlin was chairman of the successful affair.

Members of chapter BC, FBO, heard E. T. Franklin, director of the Salem hospital development, tell of the proposed hospital plan for the community, at the meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. A. Brown. A dessert luncheon was served with Mrs. Lewis Mayers the assisting hostess.
