Shusterowitz To Retire from Business Here

Retirement from the business he will have operated for 30 years next Tuesday was announced Thursday by H. Shusterowitz, owner of Capital Hardware and Furniture company. Sale of the stock will begin today.

Shusterowitz purchased the store from J. A. Patterson in 1919, when it was at 285 N. Commercial st. In 1941 he bought the present building at 241 N. Commercial st. and moved there. That building will be rented after the business is closed.

After learning the cabinet-makers trade in Russia, Shusterowitz came to the United States in 1905, to Oregon in 1911. He opened a cabinet shop on Ferry street in 1914, and later went back to cabinet making until 1919.

Upon retirement, he plans to take a rest for the present. A former president of the Jewish congregation here, he is now its treasurer and building superintendent.

Prize Horse To Eat With Mounted Posse

Oregon's Mounted posse, the official governor's guard, will welcome a newcomer into its ranks Thursday night in a unique program in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel.

The new member is Allamer, a nationally known palomino parade class winner, imported recently from California by Lee Eyerly, chief of the posse.

Allamer is expected to literally be the center of attraction during the program—in fact he will stand in a corral in the middle of the dining room.

The room will be decorated in the horse motif with more than $50,000 worth of silver-trimmed saddles and trappings. Two dummy horses will keep Allamer company during the evening.

The prize horse, purchased for $5,000, will replace Eyerly's Honey Boy, who has led the posse for the past eight years. Honey Boy is being retired to a life of leisure on Eyerly's ranch south of Salem because of his advanced age.

Featured speakers for the occasion will be Gov. Douglas McKay, a long-time member of the posse, and Mrs. McKay; Matt Vetsch, captain of the Portland police posse; Dusty Rhodes, president of the Oregon Association of Poses, and Kenneth Hall, president of the Arabian Horse association.

Thomas W. Allen is general program chairman, assisted by Walter Zosel, George Arbuckle, Jack Lindeman, Ralph Stangeby and Buss Youngquist.
