

SHS Band, Orchestra Win Top Spots in District Competition

Salem high school's band and orchestra received top awards in class A competition at the annual Willamette valley district music festival Saturday at Albany, to win an opportunity to compete in the state band and orchestra meets in Klamath Falls on May 13.

E. Donald Jessop was in charge of the band, while Victor Palmason conducted the orchestra. More than 1,500 students participated. The mixed chorus from Salem academy in West Salem placed first in the class C chorus competition and will go to Klamath Falls to compete in the finals.

5-Story Drop, Woman Unhurt

PORTLAND, Ore., April 25—(AP)—A woman plummeted from a fifth floor window, crashed onto a parked automobile today and was virtually unhurt. But you should see the sedan top.

Its steel top was bashed in about a foot deep. At the hospital, attendants found Mrs. Erna Aldredge, 36, had suffered ankle lacerations caused when she struck a ledge at the fourth floor level.

BREAK SCHOOL WINDOWS

A group of vandals broke 62 windows in Keizer school sometime Saturday night by throwing sticks and stones through them, it was reported Monday by Marion County Sheriff Denver Young. Damage was estimated at about $100.

of the same material as made by state highway commission averages $9.93.

Three public hearings were set for 8 p. m. May 9, all on matters recommended by the city planning and zoning commission. One which is controversial would establish a zone permitting erection of a Portland General Electric substation along Oregon Electric tracks near Jefferson and 4th streets. Others would permit Church of God and Court Street Christian church additional construction at present church sites.

Tabled until May 9 was a regulatory bill setting barbershop hours of business, with opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 6 p. m. The council accepted recommendation of City Manager Franzen that a new cash register system be installed in the police department at a cost of about $1,000. He said a special National Cash Register machine would record payment of fines and bail, expedite work of police desk details, speed service to the public and prevent "fixing" of parking tickets.

Mental Health Stressed in Talks, Display

Speeches, window displays, and radio talks will highlight observance of "Mental Health week" this week under the sponsorship of Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Dean K. Brooks, Oregon state hospital, spoke at North Salem Kiwanis club. Salem's 20-30 club has scheduled Dr. Scott B. McEwen of Fairview home, and Salem Rotarians will hear Dr. George C. Leech, professor of psychology at Willamette university. Dr. Ruth Jens, Oregon state hospital, will address Salem Exchange club.

Window displays depicting mental health themes have been arranged for Cooke's Stationery store, Commercial Book store, Bishop's clothing store and Needham's Book store. State, city and Willamette university libraries are featuring book reviews on the subject.

Radio programs "The Inquiring Parent" will be heard over station KEX at 4 p. m. Saturday. The week will be climaxed with the opening of the recently completed state treatment hospital on Center street. The center will be opened for public inspection Saturday and Sunday.

On the committee arranging programs are Warren Cooley and Maurice Cohn.

Chennault Hopeful For China's Fate

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault—one time Flying Tigers leader, now an airline operator in communist-threatened South China—expressed belief tonight that "it's still time to save China from the reds."

He told a press conference he felt the nationalists would establish resistance along natural defense lines and South China as well as the western and northwestern (Mohammedan) provinces would hold out.

Radio programs "The Inquiring Parent" will be heard over station KEX at 4 p. m. Saturday. The week will be climaxed with the opening of the recently completed state treatment hospital on Center street. The center will be opened for public inspection Saturday and Sunday.

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

Salem high school's annual song and yell contest was won by an enthusiastic junior class cheering section Monday. The group sang an original song written by Edna Hill and Donna Satter, and literally "raised the roof" with an original yell written by Nancy Miller and Leslyn Burdette.

Intricate drill movements were used by the seniors, who were directed by Dick Louthan. Louthan also wrote the words and music to the seniors' original song. Bob Rath and Pat McCloskey wrote the seniors' yell. Dorothy Davis wrote the sophomore song.

Words to the junior song are: Here's to the men of Salem high, Here's to our Vikings tried and true. They'll lead us on to victory If we cheer them on, they'll follow through.

Come on let's prove our loyalty By shouting loud our battle cry. Make it boom! Rock the room! And sing this song for Salem high. Our men, ability will show. Our hearts with confidence will grow.

A pigskin, a baseball, a basket and a goal. Come on Vikings, make those points begin to roll. A hit or a tackle will put us right on top. Come on fellows, and their team will stop. Smash 'em, Crash 'em, Down 'em all. Break 'em, Bust 'em, Big or Salem's our best bet. Our motto "do or die."

Shout it loud, "Hurrah" for Salem high.
