wares in the greatest quantities? And by types of crowds we mean those who attend ball games or horse races or grid contests or hockey and hoop tilts. We put said question to Joe Sturckler, major dome in this state for Sportservice, Inc., the national concession firm, (they operate at Waters park) and Joe's answer might surprise you. Sturckler says the horse race mobs are by far the greatest consumers of hot flogs, pop, beer, pop corn, etc. In fact, to quote Joe, the followers of the ponies are so fervent in their gourmet leanings that the average consumption hits one buck per head. We, for one, always held the impression that a baseball crowd couldn't be beat at checking down the red hots and pop but according to Sturckler a standful of ball fans will average only about four-bits per person. For football its 40 cents a head and the usual hockey and basketball mob dips ways down to approximately two-bits per fan . . . Why horse race adherents are so piggish may be explained in the fact that the average program brings no more than 30 minutes of actual racing. The rest of the time the nag fancier studies the racing forms - and

Evans Hits the Top

Perfect games in the realm of bowling don't come every day. In fact as far as can be learned, only two 300's have been rolled in local alley-slamming history. So credit is indeed due Frankie Evans for his recent feat of knockin' the pins down twelve times in a row. Frankie's sparkler won't be recognized by the ABC since it wasn't rolled in sanctioned league play but the guy does find himself on an exclusive level along with Hi Haman as far as local pindom is concerned. Hi tossed his perfect one back in 1939 . . . As for Evans and his hot line, he says he did'nt even think about a 300 until the 16th frame. Up to then he had been intent on matching the score of his opponent in a pot game. It dawned on Frankie that he had nine in a row. And then, he confesses, "I started to get a bit nervous," But unlike a lot of other gents who start getting vibrations of the knee caps when the pressure's on, Mistuh Evans came through . . .

Despite all the smoke and fire from various channels which held that George Vice didn't have a Chinaman's chance of holding down the regular first-base job for Detroit this season, you will note that "Veek" has been in full possession of the post since

Tony Zale Retires from Ring

CHICAGO, April 26-(A)-Tony Zale, former world's middleweight champion, today announced his retirement from the ring — thus stepping aside as the No. 1 contender for the crown now held by Marcel Cerdan. Cerdan, who had been scheduled to face Zale in a return match at New York's pole grounds June 21, new probably will meet Steve Belloise, formidable 160-pound New Yorker. The date will be either June or September, depending upon arrangements by the tournament of chamions. Zale, the always popular but slightly rusted "man of steel" from Gary, Ind., will be 36 years old next month. In surrendering his claim to a rematch with Cerdan, Zale passed up a $60,000

"It was to satisfy my pride that I wanted to meet Cerdan again," Zale explained, "But now I'm satisfied to rest on my past." Punching professionally since 1934, Zale held the middleweight crown from 1940 to 1948, except for a brief time in 1947 when lost to Rocky Graziano in the second of their vicious three engagements. Zale lost his title the second and last time to Cerdan on a technical knockout in the 12th round of a battle fought in Jersey City last Sept. 21. He won the National Boxing association middleweight crown from Al Hostak with a 13-round kaye in Seattle, Wash., July 19,
