Wedding Read, Church

Mrs. Sabina Golder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Salsbery of Oak Grove, and Charles T. Heitz of Salem, were married at the First Congregational church April 24. The Rev. Seth Huntington performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pale pink nylon gown and headdress to match. She carried pink tulips and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Lee Barnes of Milwaukee was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Anna Anderson, Oak Grove, Mrs. Dora Sager and Mrs. Elsie Hally, of Portland. All wore pastel gowns of taffeta and carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers.

Claudia Jones of Concord was flower girl.

Best man was Harold Tilden and ushers were Mannie Morris, Glenn Wyatt and William Knight.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the wedding. Assisting were Mrs. L. C. Fredrickson, Mrs. L. G. Bragg, Mrs. Kenneth Esch and Miss Peggy Bragg.

The bride wore aqua suit and white accessories and an orchid when leaving on the wedding trip. The couple will live in Salem.

Mrs. Schulze Will Head Hi-Y Mothers

Hi-Y mothers met on Tuesday at the YM and elected Mrs. Daniel Schulze president; Mrs. Loyd Hughes, vice president; Mrs. J. Edgar Reay, secretary-treasurer. This was the last business meeting of the year, but a no-host dinner will be held at the YMCA next Wednesday night for parents and boys. After the meal, induction of members will be held.

The new YMCA boys work secretary, Roth Holtz, spoke on plans for the coming year.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What should be written on the inner envelope of the wedding invitation?
A. Nothing is written on this envelope. The name and address of the person to whom the invitation is sent is written only on the outer envelope.
Q. Under what circumstances is a girl obligated to thank her escort upon leaving him at her door?
A. Only when her escort has been inconvenienced in some way; never otherwise.
Q. Is it correct to put a pile of plates on the table for or buffet service where the plates and napkins alternate in one pile?
A. No; keep them separate.

Dried Up

Raisin Week Inspires Use of Dried Fruit; Cake, Muffin Recipes Given

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor

Somewhere we've heard this is National Raisin week, so saying we offer some recipes using that dried up little affair popular for so many past generations.

It's a handy food, gives pleasure anytime from the early morning cereal to the very late snack, when the refrigerator fails to yield a last minute sweet, but the dried fruit cupboard does.

One should feel pretty well supplied with iron, if the following recipe is used. Iron is an important nutritionally in both molasses and raisins.

BRAN RAISIN MUFFINS
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup molasses
1 egg
1 cup cereal
3/4 cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup raisins
Blend shortening and molasses thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in all-bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add raisins. Add to first mixture, stirring until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 9 medium size muffins.

Might as well go the limit during Raisin week.

RAISIN CHEESE CAKE
1 1/2 cups fine zwieback crumbs (about 12 slices)
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup melted butter
Mix together crumbs, sugar and cinnamon and blend in butter. Save 1/2 cup of this mixture for top of cake. Spread and pat remainder evenly on bottom and inside of 9-inch spring mold.
4 cups seedless raisins
4 cups cream style cottage cheese

4 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup confectioner's sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup table cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
Rinse raisins; drain and chop. Put cheese through a sieve. Beat eggs until light and add salt and sugar a small portion at a time. Continue beating until thick. Beat in cornstarch and add cheese, cream, lemon juice and flavoring.

Let cake remain in oven 1 hour. Slip ring off mold, leaving cake on bottom tin. Cool before serving. Serves 12.
