Sour Thought

Modern Equipment Eliminates Sour Cream, but Recipes Good Anyway

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Woman's Editor

Though sour cream is a thing of the past since electric refrigerators have taken all the guesswork out of food storage, it still is a good flavorful ingredient for occasional use.

Old world cooks, especially those from Germany and her neighbors, were fond of using sour cream. Here's an example of its use in a dessert.

SOUP CREAM PIE

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup sour cream
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/4 cup nutmeats
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

Cook in double boiler, pour into baked shell. Beat whites stiff and add 9 tablespoons sugar. Fold in and add 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon salt and small pinch cream of tartar. Pile lightly in pie and bake slowly at 325 for 20 minutes.

And speaking of old fashioned recipes, here's a good old time burnt sugar cake.

BURNT SUGAR CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups white sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup water
- 1/4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 level teaspoon baking powder
- 3 teaspoons caramel

To make caramels, burn 1/4 cup brown sugar until black, cool, add 1/2 cup water and boil on stove few minutes. Cool. This will keep for weeks.

Mix above ingredients as for ordinary cake, using 3 teaspoons of the caramel in batter.

BURNT SUGAR CAKE FILLING

- 2 1/2 cups gran sugar
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1 1/2 cup walnuts
- 2 egg whites

Boil sugar, water and syrup together until it forms soft ball when dropped into cold water. Add to beaten egg whites, add nuts and beat until stiff. Enough for top, sides and between layers.

The first type will be tours or "treks" planned for high school, junior high and sixth graders during July and August. Each trek will be Mondays through Thursdays of each week beginning Monday, July 11 for eight weeks. Children will be registered for a trip with their own age group.

Included in these treks will be overnight stops in forest camps, outdoor cooking, boating, swimming, fishing, hiking and horseback riding. Places of interest on the various trip itineraries will be Mt. Hebo, Mary's Peak, Columbia River highway spots, lava caves and numerous lakes of central Oregon, the Deschutes river and McKenzie river. A girl may go on more than one trip if she desires. Thirty girls will be taken on each trip with three qualified and skilled staff members including a water front director and first aider. They will go by chartered bus and there will be no formal schedule.

The second summer project will be teen-age girls stumber parties at Crestwood acres camp Friday and Saturday nights from June through August. Girls not members of Y-Teens may register by age groups for these over-night trips. Campers will be in Crestwood where they may participate in sports, outdoor cooking, camp fire programs and nature trips.

Crestwood Acres is a camp owned by George Veall, six miles south of Salem, available for all youth agencies to use throughout the summer. The area is heavily wooded and has an attractive stream and spring water. An attractive chapel by the creek was begun last year by campers who also cut out trails through the woods.

The camp site affords campers all the experiences of the outdoors within very close proximity of Salem. The YWCA has been supervising the building and it measures up to standards of health and safety of the American Camping association.

The YWCA acts as a clearing agency for the camp. Members of the YWCA camp committee are: Mrs. Albert Ullman, chairman, Mrs. James Bunnell, Mrs. Richard Severin, Mrs. Marian Wood, Mrs. Carl Emmons, Mrs. G. ## Hard Luck Champ Of Dallas Barely Misses Misfortune

DALLAS, May 15—(Special)—Carol Ruby, this city's unofficial hard-luck champion since moving here last fall, had another close skirmish with destiny Saturday night.

Visited by robbers and a serious accident this winter, he had just moved his wife and four children into a house at 714 Hayter st following a disastrous fire which burned them out of their previous home two weeks ago.

While down town about 8:30 p.m. Saturday Ruby saw a Dallas fire truck headed for his end of town again with sirens blazing. He jumped in his car and hurried along in their wake.

Sure enough, the truck stopped right in front of his house—but the firemen hustled to the other side of the street and quickly extinguished a blaze from an overheated stove at the Mrs. Cora McFee residence, 711 Hayter st.

Stamps in The News

Two new Canadian issues will soon appear on the philatelic scene. One will honor the official birthday of King George VI on June 6. The other will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the founding of Halifax.

The King George issue will include all one-cent to five-cent denominations and will bear reproductions of more recent portraits of London. The stamps will be the same size and color as those now in use.

The king was really born on Dec. 14. However, in order to celebrate their king's natal day with proper ceremonies and festivities, the British decided to pick a nice time of the year, December, usually brings a nasty weather. And so a day in June was thought to be propitious.

By proclamation the inhabitants of the British Isles will celebrate the king's birthday on June 9. The British Dominions, on the other hand, choose their own day. The day that Canada has selected is June 6. But next year the date might be entirely different.

The Halifax issue will be a four-cent purple stamp. It will depict a scene based on a painting by F. W. Jeffreys of the founding of Halifax in 1749.

Canadian postal officials plan to place the new issues on sale one June 6 and June 21 respectively.

The promised UNICEF stamp issued by Austria has just been received in this country, reports Edwin Mueller. This stamp commemorates the first year of activity of the UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) in Austria.

Depicted is a scene coming from the symbol of the United Nations (a map of the world surrounded by a wreath) and a child to whom it brings help. The one scuffling stamp is blue and is sold without surtax.

Turkey pays tribute to its Red Crescent drive with two new stamps, reports Leon Monosson. The 50 kurus is blue and the 100 is green. Both adhesives show a leaf design with the Red Crescent in Turkey is equivalent to the Red Cross in the United States.

The famous industrial city of Lille has been honored by France with a new 100 franc septa airmail stamp. This is the first in the series of such stamps honoring cities of France. Other stamps with higher denominations will be released from time to time. All will be airmails.
